CONFEREES STILL UNABLE TO AGREE

Washington, Sept. 26.—Another day's work on the disputed points between the Senate and House on the tariff bill, brought the conferees together with the hope that a report might be finished for presentation to the House tomorrow. Disagreements as to when free raw wool and new woolen rates shall become effective, as well as on the rates on cotton yarns and cloth, lead and zinc, were up today for settlement. It was definitely understood a complete agreement would be reported on the much discussed cotton futures. Making allowances for technical manoeuvres, which always attend the moments of the tariff bill, the conferees thought the new law might be passed by the president the middle of next week.

GOVERNOR SULZER ASKED WITNESS TO KEEP QUIET

Sought to Make Contributions a Personal Affair—Others Witnesses Tell of Campaign Gifts—Counsel Get Into Heated Wrangle.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Crowds flocked to the capitol today, to listen to the testimony of two witnesses, long sought by the managers of the Sulzer impeachment trial, Louis A. Saracky and Frederick L. Caldwell. Saracky was formerly Sulzer's campaign secretary and handled much of the Governor's campaign contributions.

The action of the board of managers, in deciding last night, not to bring additional impeachment charges at this time was generally regarded as final. Friends of Sulzer said that charges were not added for the reason that enough votes to pass them could not be mustered by majority leader Levy.

At the opening of today's session Attorney Kresel introduced in evidence letters written last fall by Sulzer to William Ellis and William Hoffman, brewers, who contributed to the fund turned over to Sulzer by former Senator Stadler. The Governor thanked Hoffman "for all you have done in my behalf."

Judge Lewis Conlon, of New York city, told of handing Sulzer a hundred dollar check from Daniel Brady. He said it was a contribution to help him along in his campaign and it was acknowledged by Saracky. Under cross examination he was asked whether he had any conversation with Mark Potter concerning Sulzer's financial conditions. Objections that the question was not competent was entered, but overruled by Presiding Judge Cullen, who gave a lengthy opinion as to the admissibility of testimony tending to show whether it was the intention of the contributors that the money could be used for private purposes only, or to meet campaign expenses.

He declared the respondent had a right to introduce evidence concerning intent of the donors.

"If the respondent used the money as it was intended it should be used by the donors, he was not guilty of larceny and could not be convicted by a petit jury. Even the undisclosed intention of the donor negatives the idea of larceny and would prevent his conviction, however great might be his moral culpability."

The court voted forty nine to two, sustaining Cullen's ruling. Conlon was asked whether he knew Sulzer had forty or fifty thousand in the New York banks. Sulzer's counsel objected to the question, as insulting and undignified and a heated controversy followed, being closed by admonition of Judge Cullen that the argument proceed.

HOUSE ON RATES

That Branch Will Tackle the Matter First — Corporation Commission Answers Complaint of Dr. Alexander—Raleigh Banks Have Enough Funds to Care For Crop Movement in Their Section.

The Dispatch News Bureau. Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26th. The house will thresh out the freight rate proposition while the senate is devoting its talents to the Constitutional Amendments. That is the plan just decided on, and it will enable the people to enjoy two fights at two different times. The senate will of course find some trouble in approving all the amendments, particularly that approving the initiative and referendum, and the house will have its share of the fun getting the freight rate proposition in shape. Then the Senate will discuss freight rates and the house amendments.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association has been called to meet in the Yarrowborough hotel next Monday to discuss the currency bill now pending in Congress. It was not learned the nature of the objections to the bill.

The Corporation Commission has called attention to the fact that the statement made by Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the Farmers' Union, as to the high rate on rye seed from Winston-Salem to Matthews, was a gross error, and that Dr. Alexander was simply overcharged. The rate on such a shipment as he described would be 12 3/4 cents per 100 pounds instead of 38 cents a hundred, as he declared. If he had taken the trouble to investigate the matter, the commission would have collected the difference between the true charge and what he paid. Interstate freight rates in North Carolina, despite assertions to the contrary, are lower in North Carolina, the commission says than in adjoining States, Virginia included.

The Raleigh banks have informed the treasury department that they have sufficient funds to take care of the movement of crops in this section and that the $30,000 offered them will not be needed. The capital city banks have plenty of money for all legitimate business purposes.

Diligent dragging of the James river at Richmond and the applying of dynamite to the stream have failed to recover the body of young Alf Jones, the Raleigh boy who was drowned there Sunday when a launch capsized.

A charter has been issued to the Morehead Coca-Cola Bottling Company, of Wilmington, the authorized capital being $6,000, with $1,000 paid in by G. H. Hutaff, W. J. Hutaff and others.

Among the most promising competitors in the various racing events are Baby Reliance, the champion of America, with a record of 51.4 miles per hour; Hydro-Bullet, with a record of 47 miles per hour, Bafnae, of Chicago, with a record of 46 miles per hour; Tango, a new boat from Chicago, with enormous power; Oregon Kid, of Ranier, Ore.; and several other noted speeders.

MOTOR BUSES

To Be Purchased For Duty at New Bern Fair—Hack Driver in Trouble For Selling Booze—Rapid Progress in Building Handsome New School.

Special to The Dispatch. New Bern, Sept. 25.—The Glenburnie Transportation Company of New Bern which was chartered yesterday, has announced that one of their representatives will leave next week for New York to purchase several large motor buses which will be used in carrying people to and from the Eastern Carolina Fair grounds and Glenburnie Park which is to be held during the latter part of next month. In addition to operating the motor buses for passenger traffic, the company will also operate a line of boats between the city and the Fair grounds and freight will be carried on these. Heretofore the facilities for reaching the Fair grounds have been rather limited but the new company hopes to so improve the service that the public can take a trip to that point at a very low cost and go there quickly.

Allan Joyner, a colored hack driver of this city, was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner C. B. Hill Wednesday afternoon on a warrant charging him with retailing spirituous liquors without a government license. Probable cause was found and the defendant was bound over to the next term of Federal Court under a bond of two hundred dollars, in default of which he was committed to jail. According to the evidence given at the preliminary hearing, Joyner has been engaged in drumming up trade for "blind tigers" in different parts of the city and has been getting a commission on all sales. The Government officers are hot after this class of men in this section and have arrested several during the past weeks.

Rapid progress is being made in the erection of the new Central School in Township No. 7, this county. There was some delay in getting the material on the grounds and the contractor was forced to hold up work for a few days on this account. The building will be completed in November and the school will be opened on December 1. The public schools at Vanceboro opened last Monday with a large attendance and the public school of this city will open next Wednesday. Prof. H. B. Craven, the superintendent of the schools here, has returned from the Western part of the State where he has been spending the summer and is now engaged in getting everything in readiness for the opening. Prospects for a large enrollment are very encouraging.

The squirrel hunting season in Craven county opens next Wednesday, October 1, and the local sportsmen who have not already cleaned up their fowling pieces are getting them in readiness for that date. Reports reaching this city are to the effect that the woods are filled with these little animals and the sportsmen are anticipating some successful hunting trips. Since the deer hunting season opened on the first of the month a number of these fleet-footed animals have been killed and brought into the city to be inspected by friends of the fortunate marksmen. The season for hunting wild fowl, doves and woodcocks will not open until Nov. 1.

More than one thousand dollars in prizes have been offered by the management of the Eastern Carolina Fair Association Company to the winners in the racing events which have been arranged for the week of the Fair. There will be several races each day and horses from all over this and adjoining States will be entered in the events. Motorcycle races, both for single and twin cylinder machines will be another feature of the races and prizes amounting to several hundred dollars have been offered to the winners of these races. One of the feature days of the week will be "Educational Day" which will be held on Wednesday. A free ticket has been sent to every child in Eastern North Carolina and they are urged to attend. Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 26.—Sheriff's posses today searched the country hereabouts for two bandits who shortly after midnight held-up and robbed the Alabama Great Northern Railroad train near Cottondale. James Bonner, a deputy sheriff of Birmingham, was shot and killed when mistaken today for one of the fugitives by a member of another posse. Engineer Daniels was forced, at the point of revolvers, to detach his engine. The express and mail cars were then run down the track, where the bandits dynamited the safes and rifled the mail pouches. The engine was then uncoupled and started wild down the track. It was found later near Englewood. No estimate of the amount of booty was available.

He will also speak at the Progressive conference in the afternoon.

Some time ago William H. Hotchkiss, Virgil K. Kellogg and Chancey Hamlin were appointed to arrange a general conference of representatives of local bar associations and other civic organizations to discuss candidates for the Court of Appeal, but the State Bar Association did not take kindly to the idea and it was abandoned. The conference to be held tomorrow will be of Progressives only. ## BILL INTRODUCED FOR A $200,000 STATE BUILDING

Senator Thorne Wants Such For the Department of Agriculture — Representative Justice Offers Resolutions As to Railroad Matters—Constitutional Amendments to Come Through Regular Channels.

Special to The Dispatch. Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—Both the Senate and House today decided to let the Constitutional amendments go through regular channels. Senator Thorne has introduced a bill to allow the Department of Agriculture to erect a two hundred thousand dollar fire proof building.

Two resolutions were introduced by Justice, in the House; one asking Congress to require immediate uniform classification of freights, and another to investigate through committees why the Interstate Commerce law has been so unsatisfactorily administered and requesting repeal of the fourth section, so the Interstate Commerce Commission could not invalidate the law.

Porter, of Forsythe, introduced a resolution which was adopted, authorizing Justice to communicate with the railroads relative to clearing up what Justice said were ambiguities in the proposition.

The Corporation Commission today announced further reductions to points South of the basing line of Norfolk. These are substantial, it is stated.

each county. There will also be ten delegates from each Assembly district. The headquarters of the State committee are at the Hotel Seneca, and the conference will probably be held there unless the attendance should be so large as to make it necessary to use Convention Hall. Theodore Douglas Robinson, Jr., chairman of the State Committee, will preside. As to the probable choice which will make at the conference tomorrow it is difficult to make any definite prediction. It is known that Colonel Roosevelt is in favor of Justice Martin J. Keog and Justice Frank C. Laughlin, but there are several other possible candidates, among them Justice Samuel Seabury, who is an independent Democrat, Judge Learned Hand, of the United States District Court and Justice Frederick E. Crane, of Brooklyn.

HUNTERS WILL KINDLY TAKE NOTE

Washington, Sept. 26.—One of the most sweeping and far reaching national game laws ever enacted will go into effect on Wednesday of next week and the government has sent copies of the Weeks-McLean Migratory Bird Law to all parts of the country so as to give the authorities and the hunters throughout the country a chance to become acquainted with the provisions of the law.

The law fixes the seasons for shooting migratory birds and also divides the country into two zones, a northern and a southern, in order that the birds may be protected to the fullest extent. Twenty-five States are in the northern zone, while the southern zone comprises the remaining 23 States. The shooting season for the two zones varies according to the classification of the four classes of migratory birds.

Spring shooting is absolutely prohibited, as is the shooting of migratory birds between sunrise and sunset. In most cases three months of open shooting for water fowl are allowed, and in no case will there be less than 30 days, when birds may be shot during the period of their greatest abundance.
