The agreement had not worked to the satisfaction of the five powers concerned—England, France, Germany, Russia, and Japan. The agreement originally was designed to prevent an international scramble to loan money to China, but such a scramble is now in progress notwithstanding.

COCAINE FIENDS CAUSE REIGN OF TERROR

Bloodshed by Wholesale in Mississippi Town Yesterday—Desperadoes Strung Up and Militia Had to be Called Out.

Harrison, Miss., Sept. 29.—The ghastly sight of two bodies, hanging from roofs tied to a coal chute, was the only outward sign today of the riot that cost six lives here yesterday. Those seriously injured were all alive today, but grave fears were felt for E. B. Appleby, who was shot by one of the Jones boys desperadoes. As a lesson to those criminally bent, the bodies of Walter and Will Jones were left hanging all night, where they were strung up yesterday.

The two drug-crazed mulatto boys, brothers, yesterday morning began a reign of terror, which ended after three white men, two negro men and a negro woman had been killed, several wounded and the two boys lynched. A serious clash between races was prevented by the arrival of a company of National Guardsmen from Natchez. The trouble started at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and continued intermittently until about 10 o'clock today when Walter Jones, the elder of the two boys, who started the firing, was lynched just after the soldiers arrived. His brother Will had been shot by citizens earlier in the day. Soon after people who had barricaded themselves in their homes cautiously began to emerge from their hiding places and by noon the town was quiet. No more trouble is feared.

How It Started. The shooting was started in the negro quarters by Walter Jones, aged 20, when a negro woman and Thad Grayson were shot and killed. Walter then went to the home of his mother and aroused his brother, 18 years old. Together they proceeded through the main street of the little town, firing at every one in sight. Citizens aroused by the shots peered out of the windows and then hastened to cover believing, they said today, that riots of more serious proportions had broken out.

The two boys went to the home of former Constable Frank Keinsley, and when he replied to their call, Walter Jones shot him through the head. Death was instantaneous. Keinsley's son, William, when he saw his father fall, reached for a gun, but before he could fire, received a bullet in one of his hands.

JUSTICE MAKES KNOWN THE CARRIERS' REPLY

Roads Claim There Are No Strings to Their Proposal, But Inter-State Commerce Commission Will First Have to Pass on Rates—Senate Passes Amendment to Revenue Act—One New Hanover County Measure Introduced.

Special to The Dispatch. Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—When the House convened at noon, E. J. Justice made a lengthy statement, in which he presented the interstate carriers' reply to the inquiries propounded Saturday, through Mr. Justice, as to phases of the proposal for rate reduction and probable time for its application, if accepted by the legislature. The reply states that the proposal means as to rates from West, that proportional rates proposed to be established South of Virginia cities will apply from points west of Buffalo-Pittsburgh Zone, whether based on the Ohio river crossings, or on Virginia cities; that after acceptance of the proposal by legislature it will have to be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, after rates in detail has been worked out and then these printed schedules distributed to agents, but that certainly the new rate will be applied just as speedily as possible, and application will be made in the utmost good faith, possibly within sixty days after the Interstate Commerce makes its orders.

TURKISH PRESS CALLS FOR WAR ON GREECE

Menacing Attitude and Declares That Greeks Must Yield

USING VIVID SHARP LANGUAGE

Turkey Has Adopted an Apparently Uncompromising Position.

Constantinople, Turkey, Sept. 29.—The treaty of peace between Turkey and Bulgaria was signed by the plenipotentiaries here today.

Constantinople, Turkey, Sept. 29.—The menacing language of the newspapers representing the Turkish military element, which practically occupies the government saddle at the present moment, confirms its uncompromising attitude adopted by Turkey in her demands upon Greece. Another says Greece is bound to yield on the question of the islands in the Aegean Sea before the united Bulgarian and Turkish armies.

GOVERNOR MAY BE IN RACE FOR SENATE

Talked of as Candidate Next Year to Succeed Senator Overman

STRONG HOLD ON ACCOUNT RATE FIGHT

Assembly Has Hard Nuts to Crack in Two Constitutional Amendments—Bill As to Intra-State Freight Rates.

Dispatch News Bureau, Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29th. That Governor Craig will be a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Lee S. Overman, many politicians herabout say there is no doubt. The probable settlement of the freight rate situation with satisfaction to the people of the State will give the Governor what the politicians call "position". First, he is a western man, and the west is entitled to the senator, the east having one in Senator Simmons. Second, Governor Craig has many strong friends who did not approve of the way Senator Overman stood off in the last contest and allowed Congressman Claude Kitchin to use his name in an effort to injure the senior senator. Third, Governor Craig will emerge from the rate fight a great, big man, or he will not.

If he gets through the fight with credit to himself and his administration—and his friends say there is no doubt of this—he will be in the position to reap most from the field. The Governor was the first State executive ever to start something really looking to a settlement of freight rates. None of the other Governors made a beginning in that line.

Representative E. J. Justice, of Guilford has been a fighter, too, but it is apparent on its face that he would not have the position occupied by Governor Craig. The Governor in his message brag Mr. Justice to freight rates and, through the Corporation Commission, Mr. Craig has secured a proposition that he believes is a start in the right direction. The other commission failed.

Senator Overman, it must be borne in mind, will be a hard man to beat. Without the wonderful fighting machine possessed by Senator Simmons in his campaign he will nonetheless have a great following. First, there will be those who will not want a change; second, there will be others who will not want to see the Governor step up higher so rapidly; third, there will be those who will support him because of the fault that the Simmons man found in him. Fourth, Mr. Overman has exercised pains in recommending strong men for office in the State, and these men will be bound by all the laws of politics at least to give him their nominal support, regardless of how they feel.

Governor Craig has not indicated by word or act that he will be a candidate for United States Senator. He has bent himself toward straightening the crooks in the interstate freight rates. He may have dreamed of being senator, but has told nobody. Politicians base their guess on the fact that he will have the position and will be forced into the fight.

From the addresses delivered by Governor Craig, Representative Justice and former Governor R. B. Glenn before the Just Freight Rate Association Wednesday afternoon, it is inferred that they would hold Mr. Overman responsible for the great loss of money to the State in freight rates.

These are regarded as millions of dollars by Governor Craig. The fourth section of the Interstate Commerce law, an amendment giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to abrogate the long and short haul clearer, in its discretion, is held responsible for the high rates. Seven senators voted against that amendment. Mr. Overman, it is said, was one of the many that voted for it.

In this connection it may be remarked that Judge Clarke directed his assault on Senator Simmons for high freight rates, and headquarters here had to explain many times. Mr. Overman's friends say there are two sides to the question, one of which is that North Carolina has practically the same thing as applying to interstate rates, and that Mr. Overman's opponents might try their remedy on the other dog. It will be an interesting fight, if politicians have doped this situation out correctly.

Although a member of names have been mentioned for Governor, most

CONFERENCE TARIFF BILL MADE PUBLIC

Final Adjustment Told in Detail—Articles Added to the Free List—Republicans Won't Sign Bill—Cotton Futures Tax Will Likely be Dropped.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The conference report on the tariff bill, representing the final adjustment of disputes between the Senate and House over the former's amendments, was made public early today, when the Democratic managers submitted it for the first time to the Republican members of the conference committee. In the form the tariff bill ultimately will go to the President for signature, it carries many changes from the bill as passed by the House. While the Senate submitted on many of its amendments in the fortnight fight in conference with the House conferees, many important changes were retained and the general average of rates in the House bill was reduced four per cent. ad valorem. Articles added to the free list include pig-iron, ferromanganese ore, wheat, flour, flax, hemp, sugar refining machinery, indigo dyes, photographic moving picture films, cement, asphalt and many other articles. The conference committee met shortly after 10 o'clock and the completed report was submitted to the full committee by Chairman Simmons. After a brief discussion, it was approved by the Democrats, while the Republicans, who had taken no part in the conference deliberations, refused to sign it.

Senator LaFollette, one of the Republican conferees, who voted for the bill in the Senate, announced to the conference he did not decline to approve the report because of prejudice against it, but because he hadn't been consulted in preparation of the agreement.

Two amendments were offered by the Republicans, but both were rejected by the Democrats. Representative Murdock, Progressive, moved that the House accept the Clark cotton futures tax, while Representative Fordney, Republican, offered an amendment to extend from March to June 1914 the time when the sugar tariff will become effective. No definite agreements had been reached by the Democratic conferees today as to what should be done with the cotton futures tax question, but it was expected it may be dropped from the bill when the second conference is arranged. This is understood to have the approval of President Wilson.
