

VILLA FACTION WINS VICTORY IN THEIR REMOVAL

Opposed His Southern Campaign and Wanted New Military Zone.

CARRANZA'S CHIEF

One of the Two Officers Removed and Which Has Caused Much Comment.

El Paso, Texas, June 23—Removal of Trevino, as Carranza's chief of staff and Ysidro Fabela, acting Minister of Foreign Relations in the Constitutionalist Cabinet, reported from Saltillo, was taken by the Revolutionists here today as a victory for the Villa faction. Both were said to have been opposed to Villa's Southern campaign and in favor of creation of a new military zone, which blocked his progress until Villa insisted on continuing his advance toward Mexico City.

It is predicted here that Louis Cabrera will succeed Fabela as Minister of the Foreign Relations. Cabrera is present in Washington acting with the Constitutionalist agents there. Eduardo Hay is mentioned as prospective chief of staff. The presence of Cabrera and Hay, near Carranza, would create different attitude on part of the Rebel Government, both internally and internationally, is the belief of local observers.

Walsh said the seniority was not the only qualification, but also efficiency. He denied efficiency meant ability to make trips with regularity and on time.

INSANE NOT TO RECOGNIZE LABOR

Declared John Manamaker Before U. S. Industrial Commission Today

CAPITAL HAS A RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

He Contends in Trying to Supply Missing Link—Unionism Has Suffered From Poor Leadership.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 23—"It's an insane thing not to recognize organization of labor," said John Manamaker today, in giving further testimony before the United States Industrial Relations Commission. He made this statement in reply to a question whether the employers should recognize labor unions.

On the general question of unionism, Manamaker said he believed labor has "suffered frightfully" in the past because of poor leaders, but added that he is seeing a better class of leadership coming up.

He was asked to supply the missing link that would bring capital and labor together.

"I believe labor and capital have the right to organize," he declared, "on one side capital, there is responsibility, and, on the other, labor, there is none. There you stop. The missing links, I believe, to be prejudice and misunderstanding, which must be overcome."

"One of the ways to wipe out this prejudice and misunderstanding is to unhitch labor unions from political parties."

Manamaker believed the Department of Labor and Commerce should be the courts of last resort in labor disputes.

Under directions from the War Department Adjutant General Laurence W. Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, has prepared an official estimate of the cost of the practice cruise that the four divisions of the North Carolina naval militia will take on the battleship Rhode Island July 6 to 20 at the expense of the War Department. The expenses aggregate $7,500 and Uncle Sam will place this amount at the disposal of the North Carolina military authorities to pay off the naval reserves when the cruise is ended. They embark at Fortress Monroe July 6 and disembark at the same place on July 20. The men and officers receive full pay while on the cruise.

Returning from Norfolk Chairman Travis, of the Corporation Commission, reported that the railroad companies have advised the Interstate Commerce Commission that a revision of the interstate freight rates via Norfolk into North Carolina is in progress through which nearly all, if not all, the rates that are greater than the combinations of local on Norfolk will be eliminated. He had been to Norfolk to appear at a hearing before the representative of the interstate commission in opposition to a petition by the railroad companies to be allowed to continue rates that exceed the combination of locals. In view of the statement by the railroad companies the matter was not gone into. And the program is to wait until the railroads have finished their revision of rates and then if there are still abuses of this sort that are sufficiently serious to make up individual cases to be carried to the Interstate Commission.

Making Arrangements For Agents of Rebels and Federals to Get Together

UNCLE SAM WILL BE SATISFIED WITH CHOICE

Delicate Question to be Settled By The Two Factions—Mediators to Take Up Other Matters.

Niagara Falls, June 23.—American and Huerta delegates today were making arrangements for informal conferences between representatives of a General Carranza and General Huerta, at which it is hoped an agreement will be reached on the individual to be Provisional President of Mexico. Details were lacking and depended on travelling arrangements of the Constitutionalist delegates, now en route here from Mexico.

On the delegates, from two Mexican factions themselves, will rest the burden of selecting the man of the hour, the task which deadlocked the mediation conference and nearly disrupted it last week. By turning over the delicate question of the personnel to the Mexicans themselves for settlement, the mediators and American delegates alike feel temporarily relieved. There can be no charge of foreign dictation, the mediators think, for the American Government, it is understood, stands ready to recognize whoever is agreed upon by the two Mexican delegations. In informal conferences on all internal questions will be discussed, counsel of American delegates and mediators being given when sought. On international questions, the mediation board will continue its conferences. Results of the two sets of negotiations, it is hoped, ultimately will be incorporated into the pact effecting a cessation of hostilities and opening the way for complete restoration of peace.

Hope Rekindled.

Washington, June 23.—Hope for restoration of peace in Mexico through diplomacy was rekindled in Administration circles today by the outlook that the Constitutionalist would send delegates to confer with Huerta representatives at Niagara Falls through the American delegates. There was a distinct air of optimism apparent here over expectations that the mediators might be able to announce late today, or tomorrow, the personnel of the Constitutionalist delegation and the general purposes of the informal conferences.
