

WOMAN and SOCIETY

The Housewives' League will serve tea tomorrow from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rev. R. H. Herring has returned to his home in Rutherfordton after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ellis and Mrs. Ann Batson, of this city.

Mr. C. H. Crockett and wife, formerly Miss Murrell, returned yesterday from their bridal tour and are at home to their friends at No. 406 Grace street.

Ex-Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Mrs. Smith and daughter, who have been spending several months at Swann's Station, Harnett county, have returned to the city. For the present they are staying at the Colonial Inn.

ENTERTAINED EUPHIAN CLASS.

Miss Rosa Herring, entertained most charmingly at the Imperial Hotel last night in honor of the Euphian Sunday School class of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The reception hall and parlors were beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

The chaperones were Miss Anna Herring, Mrs. W. A. Jones and Mrs. E. W. Jones. Each guest was presented with a dainty button hole bouquet of white hydrangeas and asparagus fern just before departure.

CAMPAIGN IN THIS STATE.

Miss Crocker Will Come in Interest of Woman's Suffrage.

The following from the Washington correspondence of yesterday's Charlotte Observer will be of interest here:

"Washington, Jan. 27.—The Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage announced tonight that Miss Gertrude L. Crocker, of Illinois, had been sent to North Carolina to join Mrs. Minnie E. Brooks in her work for votes for women.

"The announcement of Miss Crocker's mission to North Carolina said: 'Particular attention will be paid to North Carolina work from now on, because of the fact that the party machinery opposition in Congress that is now being used to prevent the submission of the Federal amendment is being directed in part by North Carolina men.

"Miss Crocker will make her first speech in North Carolina in Wilson from which point she will take up her organization work."

"The most conspicuous example of how the Democratic party has assumed responsibility for the defeat of the amendment is found in the action of Representative Poy, of North Carolina, who, although an avowed suffragist, and believer in the Federal amendment, at the behest of the party caucus and in order to make effective the decision of the caucus, reversed his vote as cast in the caucus of the Democratic members of the rules committee and voted against suffrage. He has consistently upheld his party caucus decision ever since and has voted against suffrage every time a vote has been taken in open committee or in the House, though maintains that he is a good suffragist himself.

"Miss Crocker will make her first speech in North Carolina in Wilson from which point she will take up her organization work."

Knocked down by a rapidly moving cart at Fourth and Harnett streets yesterday afternoon, Louise, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mote, of No. 716 North Fifth street, was painfully injured. Rendered unconscious, she was taken to the home, where a physician was called. She was much bruised and her ankle was sprained. She is very much improved today.

Houses in Kongo.

Houses for white inhabitants in Kongo, Africa, are very insignificant in comparison with the number of native huts. The white population is only 5,500 while the natives number approximately 9,000,000. The latter, however, do not know the use of waterproof papers and roofing such as are imported from Europe and America, and their purchasing power is so small that very little native trade could be expected.

In the towns the blacks imitate the Europeans in the matter of houses as in dress and with broads obtained from old boxes they build small houses, with roofs and windows much like those in which the white inhabitants live, although of course, much smaller. The roofs are rendered watertight by covering them with small sheets of tin, usually made by flattening out tin cans and boxes. Thus large tins in which petroleum and other oils are imported and in linings of boxes and barrels containing flour have marketable value in Kongo.

In native villages huts are constructed of bamboo frames covered with grass or mud and thatched roofs of grass are generally used.

Town Topics

Was Union Veteran—Mr. James M. Puckett, who died near Jacksonville, N. C., a few days ago, was a Union soldier instead of a Confederate in the War between the States, as erroneously stated in Wednesday's Dispatch.

Big Shoe Sale—Announcement is made by the Wilmington Shoe Company, No. 217 North Front street, of a "Piercing Arrow Shoe Sale," which begins tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. A page advertisement in today's Dispatch gives the details.

To Elect Market Clerk—A special meeting of City Council is called for 10 o'clock Monday morning to elect a successor to the late Mr. A. F. Cox as clerk of the front street market.

To Secure Speaker—Washington correspondence today's Raleigh News and Observer: "Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington, Secretary of the North Carolina Bar Association, is here attempting to secure a prominent speaker for the next meeting of the association."

Delegates Elected—At the regular meeting last night of Wilmington Lodge of Elks delegates were elected to the State convention to be held in Charlotte next summer, as follows: Messrs. James Owen Reilly, E. H. Brown, E. P. Banck, W. G. Woodcock, Dr. J. H. Borsmann.

Received Invitation—President Corbett, of the Chamber of Commerce, this morning received a telegram from Mr. U. G. Smith, private secretary of Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., stating that he would turn over to the Secretary upon his return to Washington next Wednesday the invitation to deliver an address in Wilmington.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

Two Exciting Games Scheduled For the Boys' Brigade.

The regular Friday night basketball games will be played at the Boys' Brigade tonight, when the Naps and Braves meet and the Giants and Cardinals try conclusions. Both of these games should be fast and exciting as all the teams are paired for tonight are so evenly matched that both should be of the gitch edge variety.

The rivalry between the Naps and Braves is very keen as the Braves won the first series by getting the jump on the other team, but have lost the majority of the games played with the Naps, so that the Naps are anxious to show that they are a better team and the Braves are equally anxious to retrieve their several losses at the hands of the Naps, therefore both teams will put up their best game tonight, when opposing each other. The Cardinals have been greatly strengthened by the addition of Brooks and they hope to duplicate their defeat of the Braves last week when they meet the Giants tonight.

A big crowd is expected to attend these games as the Braves and Naps have a strong, enthusiastic following who will be out in force to watch them play and as both teams are high class and play clean, and free from fouls with all the fancy frills of the game they should put up some great ball tonight. Captain Davis of the Giants will have his team out in force tonight in an effort to retrieve his loss of last Friday night and he will put up a stubborn fight, which means that the Cardinals will have to go from the beginning to the end at a fast pace to lead him to the post.

The games will begin at 8:30. The public will be admitted free of charge.

FUNERAL OF MR. COX.

Body of Aged Veteran to Be Escorted to Grave By Comrades. The funeral of Mr. A. F. Cox, for many years the clerk of the city market, will be held at his home, No. 505 Wooster street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Parsley, assisting in the parish of the Church of the Good Shepherd, will conduct the funeral. The venerable veteran will be escorted to the grave by members of Company "E," United Confederate Veterans. Interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery.

"Your voice," said the commanding officer, "is decidedly rasping."

"Yes, sir," said the subordinate, "touching his hat, it have been out roughing it with a tin of soldiers all morning."—Chicago Tribune.

GEMS OF OLD WORLD

FRENCH CATHEDRALS MARVELS OF ARCHITECTURAL ART.

Rich in Historic Interest, and of Surpassing Beauty, Their Damage in Present War is Matter for Keen Regret.

Reims cathedral partly destroyed during the recent bombardment, was regarded as the Westminster abbey of France. On its site, according to legend, Clovis was baptized in the fifth century, and there Joan of Arc saw the consecration of Charles VII. There also, the kings of France were crowned and anointed.

Two of the chief features of the cathedral, which dates back to 1211, were the most famous rose window of the world, almost forty feet in diameter, and the 530 statues adorning the portals and facades, including 42 colossal statues of French kings. Near the north portal was one of the masterpieces of Gothic sculpture, representing the "Last Judgment," with a figure of Christ in the attitude of benediction.

The interior was world-renowned for its exquisite stained glass, its sixteenth-century tapestries and great organ, one of the finest in Europe. Although not quite so rich in historical interest, the cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris is more ancient than that of Reims, the main buildings having been begun in the twelfth century. It is said that if the pillars of Notre Dame could speak they might tell the whole history of France. The only coronation celebrated there was that of Henry VI of England in 1431.

Perhaps the finest feature of Notre Dame in Paris is the Sainte Chapelle, built by St. Louis in 1248-9 for the reception of the various relics which he brought from the Holy Land. This chapel is perhaps the greatest existing masterpiece of Gothic art.

Amiens cathedral is another of France's thirteenth century churches to which the world pays visits. This was the church which Ruskin and other people have described as "the finest existing medieval structure." Its incomparable facade, galleries filled with the statues of kings, its superb windows and tapestries, and above all its beautiful choir-stalls and chapels, make the Amiens cathedral incomparable in many respects.

Of special historical interest to the English is the cathedral of Rouen, for it was there that the heart of Richard Coeur de Lion was buried prior to its being removed to the Museum of Antiquities. Another interesting fact regarding the Rouen cathedral is that the notable south tower was built at the end of the fifteenth century with what was termed "indulgence" money, received by the church for permission to eat butter during Lent.

The glorious cathedral of Chartres, built chiefly between 1194 and 1260, is noted for its solidity as well as beauty. One of its two spires being generally regarded as the most beautiful on the continent. Like most other famous French cathedrals, it has some magnificent windows.

Doubly Rewarded.

During a performance in which it appeared some years ago a very famous actress who was starring in the play lost a diamond necklace, relates a veteran actor. She searched carefully for it everywhere, but with no success, and was on the verge of collapse when another actor in the company found the necklace and took it to her. She received it with great joy and instantly offered him a reward of $50, which he politely declined. The actress insisted, however, that he accept some sort of reward.

"Well," he answered very modestly, "since you press me, I should consider a kiss an ample reward."

Needless to say he was paid in full. As soon as I could get him alone I said: "Why were you so foolish? You're only getting a small salary. Why didn't you take the fifty dollars?"

Heaven's Germs: Fresh Air.

Right living, rather than medicine, from fresh air is the best of germs. That is the new therapy. Every day it becomes more generally recognized in the medical profession and more widely spread by the official agents of health. Director Harie of the department of public health contributes Philadelphia's note to the propaganda with a weekly bulletin urging fresh air as a preventive of all the "colds" of winter. Not only tuberculosis falls before that cheapest of medicines, fresh air, but bronchitis and pneumonia are all lessened or cured through the winter months if only people will sleep and work with the windows open. They can have the health of summer time if only they will defy Jack Frost.

British and German Empires.

The population of Great Britain (the United Kingdom) is 46,000,000. The population of the German empire is 65,000,000. The population of the British colonies is 374,000,000. The population of the German colonies is 12,000,000. Total population under the German flag, 77,000,000. Total population under the British flag, 480,000,000. With the freedom of the seas, the British empire could in time put into the field an army of 20,000,000 men. Five or six millions is supposed to be the limit of Germany.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Members and Friends Fill High School Auditorium—Playlet.

Several hundred ladies and girls and not a few gentlemen were present at the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association last evening in High School auditorium, at which time reports of the various departments were adopted, directors were elected, Col. Walker Taylor delivered an address, Miss Ada Starkweather made a delightful little talk and members of the association gave a playlet entitled, "Any Girl."

A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. W. G. Robertson, who was accompanied on the piano by her husband, and Mrs. Pauline Crumb played a violin solo.

The newly elected directors were named as follows: Miss Annie May Kiefer, Mrs. Hugh MacRae, Miss Lillie May Brock, Mrs. Robert Ruark, Mrs. C. C. Covington, Mrs. W. H. Sprunt, Miss Carrie Myers, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Miss Lillian Woolard, and Mrs. C. W. Polvogt.

The financial report showed the association to have on hand about $4,000. There is ample need for this sum, however, and the association is not "trotting in wealth." No payment was made the first year on the building, which was purchased for $10,000. It was hoped to build a gymnasium during the past year, but this idea was abandoned when the war came on.

Mr. Taylor in his address spoke of the noble way the ladies are doing, of their sacrifices and accomplishments in the Y. W. C. A. work, and told them that they had no right to do less than they intuitively felt they ought. He emphasized that the only life worth living is the life of service.

Miss Starkweather, field secretary, who was here during the weeks when the local association was being formed, unexpectedly gave her friends in the city the pleasure of a visit yesterday. She spoke a few words in her enthusiastic Y. W. C. A. way, and skipped with her audience over the Southern States and even as far as Europe, taking a peep at the Y. W. C. A. work.

"Any Girl," a well presented playlet, showed in miniature the work of the Y. W. C. A., showing how "Any Girl" is received into the organization from the outside and made a member.

Mrs. J. R. Kenly, president, made her annual report, reviewing the work of the association for the past eight months. In order that the annual meeting might be uniform with other organizations, the first year of the association was only eight months. Mrs. Kenly, in the general secretary, made her report, giving an outline of the work which has been done in an executive way and the things that are planned.

Miss Carrie Myers, second vice president, in charge of the business department, made her report, as did Mrs. M. L. Stover, third vice president, in charge of the educational department. Miss Margaret L. Gibson submitted a supplementary report on the class work. Mrs. Walter Sprunt submitted a report on the Y. W. C. A. extension work. Mrs. E. M. Boatwright, treasurer, Mrs. J. V. Grainger, chairman of the finance committee; Miss Sue Hall, chairman of the physical committee; Mrs. W. H. Pemberton, chairman of the building committee, and Miss Katharine Vollre, corresponding secretary, made interesting reports.

Changing National Names.

Springfield Republican. Geographical names share in the upheaval, and old usage is threatened at many points. Petrograd was swallowed without a murmur, though the capitals of the world are called out of their name. In England the press is heading the appeal of the Serbs against giving their country the wrong and degrading form Serbia, and consideration is given to requests from the people of the Netherlands not to call them Dutchmen. And in Britain itself attention has been directed to a boy-oot, which had not escaped notice in this country, of the word "English."

"Britisher" has been denounced as an Americanism, but Americans seldom use it unless in jest, whereas it has been recurring constantly in the British press, dispatches from the front, probably by spontaneous development to meet the need for a substitute for the poetic "Briton."

Germany still considers its enemy to be England, but in that country as well as in Scotland, Ireland and elsewhere, the feeling against the English has been Britain. It has not yet got so far as "the British language," but England has almost disappeared from the map, and the English have hardly raised a word of protest—possibly because active journalism is so largely in the hands of Irishmen and Scots, who perhaps are no longer to be called Dutchmen, it will play havoc with the classic joke about the Dutch having taken Holland, not to speak of the harm done to the Flying Dutchman, known in Wagnerian opera as "Der Fliegende Holländer."

In English many foreign names are true of other languages—we do not go nearly so far as the French in trimming them to fit the language. Are we to cease calling the people of Japan Japanese because the gold-island of Chango never existed? Must we change Lo, the poor Indian, because Columbus did not head in the Indies? There are historical and literary traditions which are worth preserving despite of or because of the mistakes they embody. And after all the Dutchmen are the most purely Teutonic people in Europe, and a very nice type of Teut-Dutch.

Bringing Fertilizer—The American steamer A. A. Raven, which sailed from this port some weeks ago with cargo of cotton for Rotterdam, is now on her way back to America with cargo of fertilizer salts for Charleston, S. C.

SOME DON'TS For Stomach and Liver Sufferers

Don't take medicine for your Stomach ailments morning, noon and night, as usually such medicines only give temporary relief and simply digest the food that happens to be in the Stomach. Don't permit a surgical operation. There is always serious danger in operations and in many cases of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments the knife should be avoided if the right remedy is taken in time.

Don't go around with a foul smelling breath caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver, to the discomfort of those you come in contact with. If you are a Stomach sufferer, don't think you can not be helped; probably worse cases than yours have been permanently restored by May's Wonderful Remedy.

Most Stomach ailments are mainly caused by a catarrhal condition. May's Wonderful Remedy not only removes the catarrhal mucus, but allays the chronic inflammation and assists in rendering the entire alimentary and intestinal tract antiseptic, and this is the secret of its marvellous success.

Don't suffer constant pain and agony and allow your stomach ailments to physically undermine your health. No matter how severe your case may be or how long you have suffered—one dose of May's Wonderful Remedy should convince you that you can be restored to health again. May's Wonderful Remedy has been taken and is highly recommended by Members of Congress, Justice of the Supreme Court, Editors, Lawyers, Merchants, Bankers, Doctors, Druggists, Nurses, Manufacturers, Priests, Ministers, Farmers and people in all walks of life.

Send for FREE valuable booklet on Stomach Ailments to Geo. H. May, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill. May's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

Romance of Governor's Staff.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 25.—A pretty romance of official life was revealed here today when Miss Helen Trogo Bradley of Philadelphia became the bride of Col. Samuel D. Foster of Pittsburg. Miss Bradley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trogo Bradley. Her father has been a member of Governor Tenner's staff for several years. The groom in today's wedding is chief engineer of the State Highway Department and also a member of the Governor's staff. The wedding was performed at the Bradley residence, and was attended by many high officials of the State.

Katherine—As long as you say you understand the language of the flowers, what does this bunch of American Beauty roses say? Kipper—That a fool and his money are soon parted.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Skids—Does your wife take an intelligent interest in the war? Skittles—Well, not especially so. When I told her of the loss of the U-5 she seemed to be under the impression it was a theatre seat.—Puck.

"Vaporize" Croup or Cold Troubles

Vapor treatments for cold troubles are better than internal medicines, as the vapors carry the medication direct to the lungs and air passages without disturbing the stomach. When Vicks' "Vapo-Rub" Salve is applied over the throat and chest, these vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled with each breath. 35c. to $1.00. THE GENUINE HAS THIS TRADE MARK.
