

WINSTON'S DEFEAT CAUSES A STIR

Couple of Dead Pastors Too Much for Him to Combat in the Third District

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—The defeat of Judge Francis D. Winston for the nomination in the Third Judicial district primary Saturday has had a depressing effect here both because of the retirement of one of the ablest judges and because it is a manifest kick-back at Governor Craig.

It was impossible to find anybody in town today from any section who did not grieve over it. Democratic leaders and officials feared Judge Winston's defeat all the time. They knew the ability of the tried judge and district attorney, the past grand master of Masons, the judge of the early year in the new century, the lieutenant governor and about the smartest campaigner in the State in the heyday of Glenn and Aycock, but they knew with all that Judge Winston would have the race of his life.

The fight against the Judge was as fierce as the Republicans made it when he left that party and joined the Democrats. The same kind of attacks were employed, the same old pictures, same old assault and the same old manufactured letters which are said to have come from opposition party headquarters and signed by aliens. One would have thought that the third was in the throes of a revolution like '38 from the reports that came up here during July, August and September. No more raucous one was ever heard, according to former political opponents of the Judge who were with him this time.

The politicians here cannot understand why Judge Winston gave up the district attorneyship which paid several hundred dollars more than a judgeship. Republicans understand it all. They accorded Winston with wisdom in getting out before Hughes came in. That seems to have been a universal explanation but the truth is Judge Winston was always more certain of Winston's re-election than of Winston's first election. The Judge doesn't like to prosecute. He tired of lambasting blockaders. He wanted a judgeship and was willing to quit immediately when Governor Craig appointed him.

The Judge never said whether he desired to try the race in the third again. He was beaten by a narrow margin back in 1902 when the Democratic convention chose Judge R. B. Peebles over him. The politicians did that. This year many of the very best politicians were on his side. Judge Winston had canvassed the state repeatedly and had gained popularity everywhere. One thing looked certain and that was the willingness of the people to nominate him over the heads of the machinists in the organization. But the people treated him mightily badly.

The fact that a district repudiated the appointment of a Governor is not significant. Aycock tried Winston 15 years ago and the people without any line upon what the young judge knew or could do, through their political representatives retired him to private life. In two years more he came up and was made lieutenant governor on the ticket with Glenn. Later the Masons made him grand master and the convention of 1912 nominated him elector at large unanimously. He presided over that convention and did it with consummate skill. Many Democrats regard him the best parliamentarian in the state. He has always made a hit over the big body.

His weakness in the third district is explained only by the one-time adherence to the Republican party. The third has never forgiven and has played up the old alliance for many times its worth. In those days the colored brother was strong and the third had as characteristic 1900 campaign just closed as the never-forgetting could make it.

Governor Craig had the option of appointing Judge Winston and Solicitor John H. Kerr. The Governor did not hesitate. Nobody has criticized the chief executive's judgment. Nobody is pretending that the district has strengthened the judiciary by the trade. But everybody is justifying his faith that the third would not so soon forget Judge Bob Peebles as to nominate the man whom Judge Peebles so cordially hated and against whom the dead judge held out until his physical powers collapsed.

Hauls Cow For Twins.
Goodland, Kan., Sept. 11.—An Eastern family were in the West when the twins arrived. They started their career drinking milk of a certain Jersey cow, and then mother insisted that to change the milk would be fatal. So father bought the cow, built a trailer, hooked it behind his automobile and loaded Mrs. Cow in. Recently this unique rig passed through Goodland on the way East. And the twins were bright and smiling.

SILVER DOLLAR FAST BECOMING EXTINGUISHED

Kansas City, Sept. 11.—The silver dollar is becoming extinct in the West. The dollar bill is taking the place of the silver dollar and the gold and silver coins used in the West in the early days are losing their popularity, according to a high official in the Federal Reserve Bank here, who has noted the lack of silver dollars.

During the last month the banks of Kansas City have handled fewer silver dollars than any other coins in stock. The public does not want to carry the silver dollars when it can get a piece of light paper worth the same money. It is the demand of the people which has caused the banks to lay in a supply of paper money to replace the silver coin.

The paper dollar was introduced in the West by accident, according to the story. A large number of the paper dollars was shipped to the banks in the West at one time and the people began to realize the value of the paper as a substitute for the heavier coins.

Law To Forbid Barking.

Burlingame, Cal., Sept. 11.—Burlingame dogs will have to step just over the city's boundary lines when they want to utter a good, healthy bark if the new ordinance is passed by the city trustees.

Following numerous complaints the city fathers ordered the city attorney to frame a law that would insure noiseless nights for Burlingame's light sleepers.

The new law forbids every noise that can be made by man, animal or machine that is loud, prolonged or unnatural or "which may cause physical discomfort to persons of ordinary sensitiveness."

Women whose kennels are filled with the blue blood of canine aristocracy are expected to lead the protest against the new ordinance.

Oldest Woman Voter.

Los Angeles, Sept. 11.—Fourteen grandchildren and twenty-two great grandchildren the other day joined Lydia Heald Sharpless in the celebration of her 106th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Sharpless considers herself the youngest woman in Whittier, although she is the oldest woman voter in California. She does not believe in worry, over-exertion or the use of alcoholic stimulants. She was the first woman to register in Whittier and has attended every important election.

Feeds Town With Fish.

Middleton, Idaho, Sept. 11.—As a result of a little angling in the Snake River early the other morning, Gilbert Hoskins brought home two sturgeons which tipped the beam at 120 pounds when dressed. Something like three-fourths of the town's population feasted on sturgeon that evening. An exhibit of the big fish attracted a lot of attention and most of those who viewed them during the afternoon carried away generous slices for supper.

NEW ALL-STEEL CARS.

Tidewater Power Company Receives Trolleys For City Lines.

Two handsome new all-steel street cars were received by the Tidewater Power Company today to take the place of the two cars that were burned in the car barn fire several months ago. The trolleys were built by the J. G. Brill Company of Philadelphia and are of the same design of the cars now being operated on the Carolina Line. They are numbers 104 and 105.

After undergoing some few minor changes at the car barn the new cars will be placed in service on the city lines. The purchase of all-steel cars to replace those built of wood that were destroyed is the continuance of the Tidewater's policy of placing only steel cars in service in the city.

OFF ON CAMPING TRIP.

Loyal Boys' Club Will Spend Week On Masonboro Sound.

As a reward for their earnest effort in securing funds to aid in the improvement of the Robert Strange playgrounds, about eight members of the Loyal Bys' Club, in charge of their leader, Mr. F. W. Gerken, will leave tomorrow for a week's campaign trip at Granger's Point, on Masonboro Sound.

Out of the receipts of the sale of cool drinks sold at the City League ball games at the playground the club has recently bought a large tent sufficient to accommodate nearly a dozen. They also had enough to purchase a stock of provisions to last about a week and each member of the club is looking forward to the departure for the camping ground tomorrow with keen anticipation.

Still Pussfooting.

"I would have protected American rights," said Mr. Hughes at Nashville in reply to a query from his audience as to what he would have done in dealing with the Mexican situation. Still we are left uninformed as to what he would have done.—Springfield Republican.

UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING WANTED

volunteers for quick mobilization." Former Senator Lafayette Young, of Iowa, states his position briefly and emphatically when he says: "For myself I am in favor of universal military tactics in the public schools and college. I am in favor of these matters for the purpose of teaching patriotism." Isaac N. Seligman is another prominent New Yorker who believes that a system similar to that adopted in Switzerland should form the permanent basis of National defense.

Other expressions worthy of quotation are as follows:

Major-General John J. O'Ryan, N. G. N. Y.—"You will find most officers, and I think most enlisted men, in the National Guard believe in the desirability of some form of compulsory military service. The National Guard cannot help but reflect that while preparedness was the popular cause during the past year or two, the personnel of the National Guard appear to be the only citizens who are undergoing the great sacrifice incident to the development of real substantial preparedness—that form of preparedness which produces not orators or conventionists but trained men with rifles in their hands and a practical knowledge of how to use them against an enemy."

Charles L. Dering, president Chamber of Commerce of Chicago: "I want to repeat with all the earnestness at my command that we should make a definite and sweeping campaign looking to compulsory military training and service."

Miss Maude Wetmore, chairman of the Woman's Section, National Civic Federation: "Until universal service of some form is one of the privileges which go with citizenship, we never will have young men and women study National needs and the aims of great nations, the importance of which they would thrice realize, as applied to her own country."

General E. W. Nichols, Superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va.: "There should be insistence upon compulsory military training for the young men of the country. If this can ever be accomplished the question of preparedness along all lines will be solved as a proposition, and other matters will flow as necessary corollaries. The great importance, however, to my mind of compulsory military training is that it tends to a better citizenship."

John A. Slescher, editor of Leslie's Weekly, New York: "I am profoundly impressed with the belief that this country should adopt something like the Swiss system of military training, adapting it, of course, to our conditions and requirements."

GOLD IN CHICKENS' CROPS.

Led to the Finding of Quartz Ledge Which Will Be Prospected.

Auburn, Cal., Sept. 11.—Thomas Gamlin, of the Mount Vernon district, has some very valuable chickens. Recently he killed two and found gold nuggets in their craws valued at about $1. As the chickens were penned in a small space on the hillside, Gamlin immediately began investigations and soon unearthed a quartz ledge which he will further prospect.
