No Embarrassment Caused by Mr. Reynold's Huge Amount Given Campaign

Raleigh, Oct. 17 .- North Carolina the city. Democrats are not embarrassed by the announcement here that R. J. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, has contributed $10,000 to the Woodrow Wilson fund.

the front page of the Democratic or gan betrays that $11,500 of this fair amount came from Winston-Salem, but to date no explanation has come showing the whenceness of the abnormal gift. With the Hugh MacRaes in New Hanover, the Jule "C-y-arrs," as they call the general up there, in Durham, the big fellows in Greensboro and Asheville, the Winston-Salem contributions have almost doubled RE-UNION OF the State to this hour. Mr. Reynolds, it seems, has made up 40 per cent. of the State's gifts to the Wilson fund.

considered, had made this sizable away. contribution. That only made folks | New York Sun. wonder. Perhaps everybody thought of General Carr and his string of mills; of J. W. Cannon and his two dozen factories; W. A. Erwin and his great chain of textile industries, and even the Dukes, though one eould hardly mix them and Wilson. The truth is out now, R. J. Reynolds is the leading contributor.

But there isn't a thing in the world wrong with Mr. Reynolds' Democratic "dope." He is many times a millionaire, but often must borrow, and his faith is this year pinned to the Federal Reserve act, so it's said over the State. Mr. Reynolds must borrow money occasionally and heretofere he has assumed risks even for himself in signing a paper subject to any banker's whim. With the Federal Reserve act at work he can go to Richmond and come back with an' unconsumable amount of kale.

Between the joy of the gift and the joy of the boost Democrats have not been -able to contain themselves. They needed the money and they needed the tribute to their legislation. Everybody supposed that Mr. Reynolds used to be a Democrat; nearly But he has gone into the class of bling every day.
