WARSAW.
Warsaw, May 4.—Misses Francis and Ruth Wilson were hostesses to the Little Confederates chapter, C. of C., when it held its monthly meeting at their home on last Friday afternoon. The guests were received on the veranda, which was attractively arranged for the occasion, the floral decorations being roses and carnations. The monthly historical program, which was very appropriate at this time, as it dealt with the inconveniences caused by the blockade during the war between the States, was rendered. The acts of heroism and the sacrifices of noble Southern women were impressed on the children and all who were old enough expressed a wish to assist with the Red Cross work to be started here soon. An interesting musical program supplemented the historical one, closing with "The Hesperus Dress."
The little hostesses served enjoyable refreshments during the social hour, which followed.
The Christian Endeavor Society meeting was conducted by Mrs. Charles Carroll on last Thursday evening. "How Lying Undermines the Character" was the subject of a paper read by the leader, and was also used by Prof. M. H. Wooten for a short talk. Several musical selections were rendered, after which the annual election of officers occurred with the following result:—President, John Carter, vice president, Lewis Sanderson; secretary, Miss Bettie Hunter; treasurer, Miss Mattie Owen.

SALES

TUESDAY, MAY 8TH AND ALL WEEK

This annual May White Sale is too well known to need a new introduction. We feel that a few words about the wonderful quality of merchandise, the carefully chosen materials, and the interestingly low prices, are all that will be necessary to those who have waited for this announcement. To those that did not attend our May White Sale last year, we add that this is a planned-for event, when "Belk's" usual "lowest in the city" prices are even lower than usual.
