CAN BE OF GREAT HELP.

The colored ministers of Wilmington can perform a patriotic duty to morrow, and we believe they will own hook. measure up to it. We are certain they will do so, now that the matter is to explain to their congregations the meaning of the selective draft and its requirements. There will be many fill the churches tomorrow, who will more who will not. The former, too, can be impressed with the importance of lending their aid in telling others. men of Wilmington, who are between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one being certain to register on June 5th. Lack of understanding, especially as to the age and that registering is mandatory, might not only delay the work but make it incomplete. The law ac cepts no excuse if a man fails to register. There is nothing left for the court to do but punish the offender, no matter if intent is lacking. This must be impressed upon the people, and in order that the people will be impressed the widest propaganda of publicity must be indulged in.

The part the colored ministers of Wilmington can play in this is important. They can take advantage of opportunity tomorrow, and a week from tomorrow, to call attention to registration day, and if possible they should arrange a big mass meeting just before June 5th, so that a big the carnival. rally may spread information and stir

As the colored ministers have shown a deep interest in things of this character so far, we believe they see the if conducted by people at home. in this way. It is not a subject that it a business house conducted some of night of which, Wilmington must be would be out of accord with the church, the games of chance that carnivals reached on the return trip. as it bears upon the great struggle being made by democracy against autocracy, and the former nurtures Christianity while the latter, with its provide any cheaper amusement than oppression, handicaps it and, shackling the chances of people, causes revolt to seethe in their minds and sin through disgust and desperation.

Unlike the circus, it does attention and arouse every parent to not possess one educational feature, tion of a nurse. The lady states that tradition to give it standing. one day the past week she witnessed, in the postoffice park, a colored nurse, peeved perhaps over the fretful nature of a child and wishing to please her own fancy more than cater to the little one, administer a whipping to the child. The lady was not near enough to admonish the woman, nor could she learn the name of the child. So she adopts this course, that parents may be alert and that the nurse

IN RE CARNIVALS.

Says the Greensboro Record ppropos of a question in general and appropriate in detail to one locally: "In Wilmington a carnival was to give an exhibition and the gate receipts were to be split between the managers and the band association. The band association wanted to secure some mon-

"Then it was that the city council passed an ordinance which hereafter has been called to their attention. It keeps carnivals from 'the midst' Wilmington. No more will a license be granted, and carnivals, which have been said to be a nuisance on general principles, will never again hold forth of the big negro congregations, that in the city down by the sounding sea. But, perhaps, Greensboro has not had the multiplicity of carnivals that Wilmington has had, or has not stopped to reason as has this city. We still believe, just as we have for years, that the carnival is not even a "necessary evil," and it is a matter of gratification that the people of Wilmington seem to have all agreed on the proposition that it will be better for the city to have carnivals remain away. Those who may be of opposite opinion, based on what they think is the harmless nature of the carnival, have at least been willing to bow to the opinion of the others, and so this community is in harmony upon decreeing against
