National League, the former Giant pitching star today has his club in a tie for fourth place and going considerably stronger right now than Chicago, the challenging aggregation, since May 1 he sent his team to 23 victories; 13 games have been lost. In that time the Reds have 150 runs for their own while the Cincinnati pitchers have allowed 128 markers.

One of the leagues most efficient pitchers, Fred Toney, wears a Cincinnati uniform, and he has a record of having pitched the Reds to one ten inning victory in which he allowed neither a hit nor a run. Backing him up, Mathewson has Mitchell, Schneider and several other effective hurlers. Mitchell, by the way, is almost as much of an outfielder or a first baseman as he is a pitcher.

DETERMINED TO ELECT VARNER

Wilmington Contingent to Chicago Convention Will Leave City Wednesday.

The Wilmington contingent of motion picture people who will attend the National Convention and Exposition of the Motion Picture Exhibitors League of America, in Chicago, July 14th to 22nd, will leave Wilmington Wednesday evening, joining the other members of the party at different points, the entire party going to Chicago on a private Pullman. Messrs. Percy W. Wells, B. H. Stephens and D. M. Bain will go from Wilmington to aid in the election of Hon. Henry B. Varner, of Lexington, N. C., as president of the big national organization, a position which carries with it more influence and power within its own industry than the executive office of any other national industrial or trade organization in America. It has been stated also that it takes more work and more campaigning, but along different lines, to elect a president for the National Exhibitors' League than to put over a nominee in a national political convention.

Some idea of the magnitude of the campaign being waged in Mr. Varner's behalf out of Wilmington was furnished yesterday by Mr. D. M. Bain, who has charge of the publicity work in behalf of North Carolina's candidate, and who, with Mr. B. H. Stephens, who is chairman of the Varner campaign committee, is handling the entire campaign out of Wilmington.

A mass of publicity matter is being prepared for use after the convention is on. Several thousand buttons bearing the legend, "Varner for President," have been ordered; ribbon badges for the delegates bearing the wording, "I Am _____ from North Carolina, Boosting Varner for President. Ask Me Why," are being printed; several thousand paper streamers bearing the words, "For President, Varner, the Fighting Tar Heel," and several 20-foot canvas banners for use in the convention hall are being painted here.

Asked as to the present outlook for Mr. Varner's election yesterday, Mr. Bain stated that the response so far had exceeded all expectations and looked like a walkover for the Tar Heel candidate. From New York City, from Philadelphia, from Nebraska, from Oregon, California, Utah, Indiana and other States have already come cheering messages pledging support to the candidate who it is conceded with work alone for the exhibitors and not been aligned with any of the manufacturing oligarchy. Two of the three trade publications which have a national circulation have commended Mr. Varner's stand on important matters and of especial interest is the editorial comment of The Motion Picture News, of New York, which probably has a wider circulation than any other in the trade field. It is as follows:

"It was but to be expected that, H. B. Varner's vigorous efforts on behalf of exhibitors in the recent Washington tussle should have brought him to the front as a candidate for the presidency of the National League. With the league in its present woeful State exhibitors have a reason to look with longing on the prospect of a leader so well befitted as H. B. Varner.

"Southern exhibitors, we are told, are 'fighting mad' at this fiasco made by the accredited league officials in Washington. They promise to 'clean house' at Chicago in July.

"More power to them. They have started well in unfurling the banner of H. B. Varner."

DUELING POPULAR IN ARGENTINA.

(By United Press.) Buenos Aires, June 18. (By Mail).—Items like the following, which appeared in the Buenos Aires Herald recently, are seen frequently in the Argentine press: "In the 'quinta' (dooryard) of Dr. Delcasse, a prominent lawyer, situated in Belgram (a Buenos Aires suburb), a duel with sabres was fought yesterday between Senores Manuel Rodon and Ezequiel B. Cashas before several witnesses. Senor Rodon was wounded slightly in the first assault, when the duel was called off and the antagonists became reconciled upon the field of honor.

POTATOES KEEP DROPPING IN PRICE

(By United Press.) New York, July 7.—"Spuds" are becoming cheaper. The erstwhile common variety of vegetable, which with an increase in price assumed the dignified name of "potato," bids fair to become just a "spud" again. Large shipments of new potatoes caused the price here to slump today and even lower prices are predicted.

THE PROHIBITION PART OF FOOD BILL SETTLED IN SENATE

(Continued From Page One.) will be seized under the act. The Senate's action means the death of King Whiskey during the war. It leaves Senate and House diametrically opposed on the prohibition question. The Senate sanctioned the use of wine and beer; the House specifically forbade it.

This means a long and bitter fight in conference after the bill is finally passed by the Senate. It means also a further fight when the conference report finally comes up for approval in Senate and House.

Threat late today of closure by Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, further involved an already complicated problem. Chamberlain submitted, at the end of a day of trouble and of conflicting action, a request for unanimous consent to limit debate on amendments to the bill and to vote on the bill at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Senator Wadsworth, of New York, promptly objected. "There will be hundreds of amendments," he said, "and time must be allowed for consideration."

Senator Chamberlain drew a closure petition from his pocket and sent it to the Clerk's desk. This would have been considered after two days had passed. If it had been approved by a two thirds vote it would have limited debate on the bill to one hour for each Senator.

Five minutes after his application had been made, Senator Chamberlain withdrew it. For the withdrawal there were two reasons: Administration leaders believed the mere threat of closure would speed up the bill. They feared they could not get the two-thirds majority necessary to force closure on the Senate.

Senate leaders believe it will be impossible to get a vote on the Food Control bill next week. Those in charge said, however, they hoped to put it through early the following week. Senator Chamberlain, when he withdrew his petition for closure, declared he would re-submit it Monday night. This, it is believed, he will not do. His main hope, it is understood, is simply to speed up action.

Unless signs of a filibuster become apparent, Senator Chamberlain hopes to get the bill through without a closure rule. But they will hold the threat of closure over recalcitrant Senators.

There are scores of committee amendments to the bill yet to be acted on. These have precedent over the amendments. The private amendments may run into the hundreds.

The Senate accomplished one big thing today—finished the prohibition section of the bill. This is the big section as regards debate. Senators expect to get quicker action on subsequent sections.

It is believed by administration leaders that the Senate's action on prohibition has not jeopardized the bill. Prohibition leaders, they say, have given in to the President's request that prohibition of beer and light wines be eliminated from the Food bill.
