ONE COLLEGE SPORT STOPPED THE WAR

New York, Aug. 3.—Of all the college sports affected by the war none has been so completely eclipsed as intercollegiate rowing. This summer, for the first time in years the famous courses on the Hudson and at New London have failed to witness the sweep of the arrow-like shells or echo to the cheers of the thousands of spectators assembled to witness the great aquatic derbies.

It is interesting to recall, nevertheless, that today is the sixty-fifth birthday of intercollegiate rowing, which is the oldest of all American college sports. It was on this date in 1852 that the student crews of Yale and Harvard first met in competition on Lake Winnepesaukee. The sport immediately became popular and for several decades thereafter aquatics continued to reign without a rival.

Rowing is still the most important major sport in those institutions of learning where adequate facilities exist. Among the most prominent of the colleges and universities that have been active in the sport in recent years are Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Annapolis, Syracuse, Columbia, Wisconsin, Leland Stanford, California and Washington.

NORWAY'S REGARD FOR KING HAAKON

Christiania, Aug. 3.—The forty-fifth birthday anniversary of King Haakon was celebrated in the capital and elsewhere throughout Norway today with perhaps more genuine enthusiasm than has been displayed by the people on a like occasion since the Danish-born king and his English queen were called to the throne in 1905, following the dissolution of Norway's union with Sweden.

Norway has suffered from the great European conflict as have all other neutral nations and in certain quarters there have been evidences of dissatisfaction over the policy pursued by the government. But the masses of the people are thankful that their country has been able thus far to avoid getting into the maelstrom of actual warfare and to King Haakon is given a large measure of credit for the success of the peace policy.

The war has bound Norway, Sweden and Denmark more closely together, the three kings have met and planned to guard their rights as neutral countries, and this mutual need of holding together has resulted in making the monarchy more popular in Norway.

BOSTON WELCOMES BELGIAN MISSION

Boston, Aug. 3.—On the third anniversary of the ruthless invasion of their country by the Germans, the members of the royal Belgian mission, headed by Baron Moncheur, arrived in Boston today and were given a welcome that rivaled in cordiality and enthusiasm the receptions recently accorded here to the French and Italian missions. The program mapped out for the first day of their visit, beginning with the arrival in the city early this morning, was calculated to keep the distinguished visitors exceedingly busy. Following breakfast at the Copley-Plaza Hotel the party was received by the Governor and council at the State House. A visit to Bunker Hill Monument was next on the program and then came a trip over the historic route to Lexington and Concord, with a visit to the old home of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Visits to Harvard University, Boston College, the Museum of Fine Arts and the Public Library were included in the afternoon program, with a public reception in Faneuil Hall and a patriotic demonstration on Boston Common planned for this evening.

Fights Scheduled For Tonight.
Marty Cross vs. Albert Badoud, 10 rounds, at Far Rockaway.
Andre Anderson vs. Kid Norfolk, 15 rounds, at Buffalo.
Bob Devere vs. Bill Brennan, 12 rounds, at Pittsfield, Mass.

THE HABIT

Ninety-nine (99) Men, Women and Children out of every hundred write with their Right Hand.
They couldn't write with their Left Hand if they tried. Why?
They began the other way and have never gotten out of the habit.
The Wilmington Dispatch goes into the homes of Wilmingtonians, and hundreds of others every afternoon. It's an afternoon habit in the homes into which it goes.
NO MATTER HOW MANY PAPERS YOU MAY HAVE IN YOUR HOME, FROM THE FORCE OF HABIT YOU'LL READ THE DISPATCH FIRST.
You have Done it For years and it comes so natural that you, yourself, do not even think about it.
If you read any other paper you'll read after having first read the Wilmington Dispatch.
The Dispatch just naturally pays Advertisers. It has done so for years. IT'S A HABIT.
