BEDS' AT THE ACADEMY TOMORROW.

Wilmington is not likely to cease laughing for a long time over "Twin Beds," which comes to the Academy of Music, matinee and night, tomorrow, under the direction of A. S. Stern and Company. "Twin Beds" for one solid year had New Yorkers in a whirlwind of merriment and now Londoners are simply laugning their heads off over the play. "Twin Beds" is just about the funniest play that ever was writen. From the first night there was never any doubt of its sucand grows till no one attempts to received. hold out against it and the theatre is said to fairly quake over "Twin Beds." The convulsions are said to be at their loudest some little time before the finish of the comedy, but they endure and was formerly known as the Attill long after the curtain is down, lantic. That is the general verdict of this delicious comedy. Is there need to say tain Jaems Brewer from this side much more about it? "Twin Beds" August 26, with a cargo of coal, locois a play that you will enjoy without motives and crude oil, for a French feeling afterwards that you were a port. Her owner was the Berwinertool. It is joyously ridiculous.

Seats are selling fast at Elvington's. The matinee prices are from 50 cents to $1. The night prices range from 50 cents to $1.50.

WHOSE WIFE?

"Whose Wife?" a newly completed five-act photodrama starring that famous young actress, Gail Kane, produced under American-Mutual auspices, is a lesson in love.

It ought to be seen by every girl and by every boy-by every mother and father as well. The lesson it inculcates is one that American fathers and mothers have not taken sufficiently to heart-a lesson embodied in that ancient adage-"All is not gold that glitters."

"Whose Wife?", starring the newest and most brilliant screen star, Gail Kane, a triumph of love over treachery in which a spider is caught in its own web, is the big attraction at the Grand for Saturday.

BIG HIT AT THE ROYAL. Large audiences greeted the Aviation Girls at the Royal yesterday to witness the offering by that clever company of "Turning the Tables." This bill is full of the necessary "pep" of the real kind and the action of the play was fast and furious.

Jack Russell and Miss Mae Kenna playing the comedy roles of Mr. and Mrs. Barnaby Bibs, were the star performers that kept the audience in an uproar of laughter from start to finish of the show.

The third big bill of the week-and the last-to be presented by this company, takes place today, "The Wrong Flat," a musical farce with some merry mix-ups that wil convulse any audience in the world. It is brimful of good, clean comedy and catchy songs with a full and complete change of costumes. All members of the company will be seen at their best in their respective parts. Mr. Deadrick will again appear with his banjo specfalty, while the quartette will be heard

Today and tomorrow will be the ast two days to see this clever company and those who have not had the pleasure of witnessing the performances at this popular playhouse should not fail to see it.

VOTING IN BIG CONTEST HAS BEGN IN EARNEST
