

GOOD NEWS FROM COLUMBIA

John Shall Joins the Ranks.

Mr. John Shall, a glazier by trade, living at 1111 Pentlemon street, Columbia, S. C., has had a remarkably happy experience by taking the advice of friends who had been relieved from misery after months of suffering—he says: "I was troubled with indigestion and stomach troubles which caused a nervous feeling all over my body. I could not eat without after distress and was completely run down. I decided after hearing how many of my friends had been benefited by the use of Liquid Ironized Paw-Paw to try this remedy which has proved a blessing to me. I cannot speak too highly about it as I am a well man again. I tried so many tablet medicines without any satisfaction as my indigestion got worse instead of better, as my stomach would not stand tablets so I had recourse to your liquid preparation which began to relieve me after the first dose. You have a great medicine and I want every one to know my experience. I think it is worth its weight in gold. I can eat now what I want, my nervousness has disappeared and I am as well a man now as I ever was. Am deeply grateful to you for the interest you took in my case."

Ironized Paw-Paw Remedy will do more to brighten the world, to dispel gloom, to make happy homes and strong iron bodies, than all the Medicines that have ever been compounded. The evidence we are publishing every day should be conclusive proof.

A system that is overworked or rundown requires a harmless stimulant. Ironized Paw-Paw Tonic lifts and holds you. Your druggist probably knows it; but if he doesn't, it is sold in Elvington's Pharmacy. Ironized Paw-Paw, price $1.00. Formula on every bottle. Mailed orders promptly attended to. THEATRE

"Mutt and Jeff's Divorce," one of the kind of shows that no one can afford to miss, is playing the Academy today, matinee and night. The new Sud Fisher care chaser scored one of the biggest hits of the year during its recent performances in New York. It's divorce that keeps Mutt and Jeff on the gridiron this trip, and they're not out of one complication threatening their domestic happiness until they're into another. The night prices range from 50 cents to $1. Tickets are now selling at Elvington's.

MITZI IN "POM POM." Announcement of the utmost importance to lovers of the best entertainment is the coming of Mitzi, the little artist of irresistible charm, who shines equally as a prima donna, actress or comedienne. She comes to the Academy of Music, matinee and night, on next Saturday, in the new melo-dramatic comic opera, "Pom Pom," which ran for over 200 successive nights at the George M. Cohan Theatre in New York City. The music of this piece is by Hugo Felix, composer of "Madame Sherry," the most modern exponent of the melodious French school of today. The book has a regular plot, so unusual in comic opera. It is the work of Anna Caldwell, who wrote "Chin Chin" and "The Lady of the Slipper" for Montgomery and Stone. "Pom Pom" is a real crook musical comedy. The story would hold the attention of an audience from beginning to end if there were not a note of music to accompany it.

Henry W. Savage has fairly surpassed himself in surrounding his versatile little star with the best. The big artistic settings for the five scenes were designed and built by that master of scenic artists, Joseph Urban. The piece was staged by the veteran producer of stage ideas, Geo. Marlow. The cast is an important one because Mr. Savage has drawn on his wide musical sources to give singers a fine training for the comic opera as well as his chorus, ballet and orchestra. But the stroke of managerial genius was to find such a part for Mitzi in which she could appear as a mischievous imp in trousers. Theatre-lovers who remember her as the princess in "The Spring Maid" and later in "Sari," have a new experience in store for them when they see her masquerading as a roguish lad in "Pom Pom."

A BESETTING FAULT.

A dramatic production of timely interest is "Wrath of Love," a new William Fox feature, starring the statuesque Virginia Pearson. While not dealing directly with the war itself, the picture has the martial atmosphere pervading its strong story of love and jealousy. It is tomorrow's attraction at the Grand.

Miss Pearson has the role of Roma Winst, author of a famous novel, "Jealousy." Although suffering from that very passion herself, she lives happily with Bob Lawson, whom she has just married. When war comes, she grows violently jealous of Ethel Clarke, once her dearest friend. Ethel has been left in Bob's care by Dave Blake, his chum, who leaves to enter his country's service.

Dave returns on a furlough from the front and goes at once to the home of Bob's mother, where Ethel is staying. While Dave is there Bob joins them and warns Dave that spies are following him. They hear an outer door open. Dave rushes from the house by a back passage way. The new arrival proves to be Roma, and her finding Bob and Ethel together drives her frantic with anger.

Jealousy at subsequent events makes life almost unbearable for her. Misunderstandings between Bob and Roma are finally brushed away and the woman is at last freed from her one besetting fault.

UP TO THE STANDARD.

Frankford's Dixie Dancing Dolls more than fulfilled all expectations at the Royal yesterday, presenting a show that for novelty and originality far outvalues anything seen here previously this season. Packed audiences acclaimed it fully up to the high Royal standard which was set last week, and with moderating weather today will witness other packed houses.

There is a wooden shoe dance by a couple of the young girls of the chorus which was considered "some pumpkin," but along came a bunch of six and outdid this to a truce, and simply brought down the house at every performance. It's certainly a show with novelty all the way through, and those who like good dancing and want to see something new should certainly give it the once over.

Milt Frankford, the world's greatest trick pianist, lived up to his title, performing more stunts on a piano than ever were seen here before. It mattered not what he plays with—his hands or his feet—even his head—he produces music, and at the same time he can readily play two different selections of totally different character.

The girls—there are six of them—are the best looking that have yet been seen this season and who does not enjoy looking at fair femininity? It's a good show, and goes on for the last times today, a complete change being offered tomorrow.

WOMAN DRIVES TRAIN.

Miss Helen Holmes, the only woman in the world who ever drove the Twentieth Century Limited over a division, a famous performer of daring deeds for the edification of adventure drama fans, encountered a snag the other day that almost ended her career.

In one of the thrilling episodes of "The Lost Express," the new Mutual-Signal fifteen chapter photoplay, starting at the Bijou tomorrow, Miss Holmes had to make a quick jump over the rail of a bridge 160 feet from the surface of a rapid river.

The rope provided for the young star's use was greased and Miss Holmes shot down to the water in record time. A good pair of gloves saver her hands.

NO MORE CATARRH

A Guaranteed Remedy That Has Stood the Test of Time. Catarrh cures come and catarrh cures go, but Hyomel continues to heal symptoms wherever civilization exists.

Every year the already enormous catarrh and abolish its disgusting sales of this really scientific cure for catarrh grow greater, and the present year should show all records broken.

If you breathe Hyomel daily as directed it will end your catarrh; or if it won't cost you a cent.

If you have a hard rubber Hyomel Inhaler somewhere around the house, get it out and start at once to forever rid yourself of catarrh.

R. R. Beilamy, or any other good druggist, will sell you a bottle of Hyomel (liquid) for a few cents; start to breathe it and notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine.

Hyomel used regularly will cure catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis or asthma. A complete outfit, including a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomel, costs but little. No stomach dosing; just breathe it. It kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.—Adv.
