Along the Livenza, General Cadorsoldiers apparently were more successful. The invaders crossed the Livenza only after a vigorous attack and in the region of Vittorio, the Italians were able to detain the advance. The Livenza is but a scant 10 miles from the Piave, where General Cadorna probably will make a strong stand.

British troops in Asia Minor continue successful operations. In Palestine, General Allenby's forces have made another advance toward Jerusalem. In Mesopotamia the British advancing up the Tigris have captured Tekrit, 90 miles northwest of Bagdad.
