WARSAW.

Warsaw, Jan. 27.—The Literature Department of the Woman's Club entertained by Mrs. Hill Owen at her home on Hill street, Wednesday afternoon. After the routine business was transacted, a program, consisting of a paper, "The Development of Civilized South America," by Mrs. Charles Carroll, another, "Civilized South America," by Miss Eula Powell, was presented. The club went on record voting to use the monthly dues for purchase of Thrift Stamps. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Owen, assisted by Mrs. Robert Browder served a salad course with hot coffee.

Mrs. W. O. Singletary was hostess at a dinner party, given to a number of friends at her home on Thursday last week. Covers were laid for ten, and an elegant three-course luncheon was served.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Carter on Monday afternoon. The subject discussed was "Assembly's Home Missions," and Mrs. Carter, the Secretary of that department of the Society's work, was the leader.

Mrs. J. T. O'Bryan, of Danville, Va., was the guest of the past week of Mrs. George Schmitt and Mrs. Willis Wilson. Mr. Johnnie v'Each of Thomasville, visiting his nieces, Mesdames G. C. Prigden, and H. M. Middleton. Teach received the message acquainting him with the news of the death of his brother, the late S. J. Smith, too late to attend the funeral.

Miss Lucy M. Cobb spent last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Carroll. Miss Cobb was en route to Teachey and Calypso, where she gave demonstrations. She expected also to be in Watha Saturday, where she would give demonstrations of the use of Soy beans at the invitation of the ePnder County Home demonstration agent.

SOUTHPORT.

Southport, N. C., Jan. 26.—The ladies of the Red Cross have inaugurated a series of teas or entertainments to be given at the home of the members of the chapter. The first two of the series were held last week; one at the home of Mrs. E. H. Cranmer with Mrs. Cranmer and Mrs. Fulcher hostesses, and the other at the Stuart House, Miss Kate Stuart hostess. The guests are invited and each guest is expected to bring such an amount in silver as he or she feels able or inclined to give for the carrying on of the Red Cross work.

These first two evenings have been a success, both socially and financially. The many friends of Mr. Julius Newton will be glad to know that he is out again after being at home for a week or more threatened with pneumonia.

Next Wednesday afternoon the Civic League and the Betterment Association will hold a joint meeting to discuss the plans for assisting the teachers and improving the school grounds. Every member of both organizations and all those interested in the school are urged to be present.

The friends of Col. Robert Stride will be sorry to hear that he has been confined at home for some time with an attack of bronchitis.

North Carolina Day was celebrated at the High school with stirring and recitations by prominent speakers, and recitations by High school pupils. Mr. M. C. Guthrie, county superintendent of public instruction, presided over the exercises. Senator E. H. Cranmer, the first speaker, paid a glowing tribute to General Robert E. Lee. The Rev. Mr. Holloway, Baptist minister of the place, stressed the need for closer co-operation—between pupils, parents and teachers Mr. C. Ed Taylor, county attorney, tried to interest the larger boys in planting a spring garden, telling them that to be a man specially trained in agriculture would aid them; Mr. R. W. Davis, the last speaker of the evening, made a most eloquent address, urging patrons to take more interest in education at this critical time, saying it had been so easy to forget our schools during the war period. He showed that this is a time when it is especially important that the children of America should be thoroughly trained and educated. The pupils sang patriotic songs and gave appropriate recitations.

At a meeting recently held by the Senior class of the High school, the following officers were elected: President, Miss Sallie Doshier; vice president, Miss Annie Bullard; secretary and treasurer, Dagny Larsen.
