

WILMINGTON GIRL WEDS ARMY ENGINEER OFFICER

Miss Florence Taylor, Daughter of C. L. Taylor, Bride of Capt. Montgomery

(Special to The Dispatch.) Fayetteville, June 22.—Miss Florence Churchill Taylor, of Wilmington, and Capt. J. B. Montgomery, of Richmond, Va., an officer of the United States army engineering service stationed at Washington, D. C., were married at 11 o'clock this morning in the First Presbyterian church of this city, the pastor, Rev. W. E. Hill, officiating. The bride, who is the charming daughter of Charles L. Taylor, of Wilmington, has been spending the winter with her aunts, Mrs. Eva Dodson and Mrs. Alton R. Moffitt, in this city. Captain Montgomery is on duty at the general engineering depot in Washington. The marriage was a simple morning wedding, there being no attendants except Miss Helen Dodson, cousin of the bride and maid of honor. The bride wore a white georgette gown and white gorgette hat. Her wedding flowers were lilies of the valley and orchids. The maid of honor wore pink organdie and carried sweet peas. The wedding music was played by Mrs. S. A. Lambert. A distinctly patriotic note was lent to the occasion by the rendering of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Lambert, preceding the entrance of the bridal party. Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin were used. Immediately following the ceremony

Captain and Mrs. Montgomery left for Asheville, where the honeymoon will be spent. Among the out-of-town guests in attendance on the marriage were: Charles L. Taylor, of Wilmington, father of the bride; J. B. Montgomery, of Richmond, father of Captain Montgomery; Miss Laura Parsley, Miss Emily Davis, and Miss Katherine Elliott, of Wilmington, and Messrs. Harry Stahl and Herbert Watt, of Richmond.

WARSAW

Warsaw, June 22.—Social events last week centered in the Orme-Peirce wedding, a number of social courtesies having been extended to Miss Margaret Hill Peirce, who on Saturday evening became the bride of W. Grayson Orme, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. L. P. Best gave a lovely garden party on Thursday evening, when the bride-elect was showered with numbers of dainty articles of lingerie. Complimenting Miss Peirce, Miss Annie Ross Williams gave one of the most delightful card parties of the season at her home on Hill street Friday morning from 11 till 1, when the color scheme of white and green was artistically carried out in decorations and refreshments, being effected for the former by means of quantities of shasta daisies combined with ferns and smilax, and in the latter by green and white ices, cakes and mints, served by Misses Lou Mitchell Faison and Helen Fonville. At the close of the game Miss Peirce was given an attractively framed motto, "Advice to the Bride," while Mr. Orme was given another, "Advice to the Groom." Mrs. Erle Best was hostess to the Orme-Peirce wedding party at an enjoyable luncheon given at her home on Friday from 2 till 4, and at 6 o'clock Friday evening they were guests at a gypsy tea at the Nahunga

Country club. The week's festivities culminated in an elaborate reception given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Buckner Peirce, at her home on Hill street, immediately after the wedding ceremony Saturday evening from 6 till 8. Mrs. John R. Barden and daughter Sue are visiting Mrs. Barden's son, Lieut. Robert M. Barden and Mrs. Barden at Camp Sevier, Greeshville, S. C. Lieut. and Mrs. Kenneth Royall, of Fort Sill, Okla., are here to spend a period with Mrs. Royall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Best. Miss Daisy Brown, of Goldsboro, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown. Miss Fan Powers, of Wallace, and Mrs. Fannie Lucas, of Four Oaks, are visiting Miss Sallie Hill. John R. Barden has returned from a business trip to Tennessee. Little Miss Masha Hobbs, of Goldsboro, is visiting Mrs. D. W. Hobbs. Commander and Mrs. Edward Gibson and little son left Saturday night for Philadelphia, where Commander Gibson will be stationed for a short while. Mrs. James Hines, of Greenville, after attending the Orme-Peirce nuptials, left Saturday night for Richmond, where Mr. Hines is undergoing treatment in a local hospital. Miss Annie Jeanette, of Goldsboro, visited Miss Carrie Mae Garner last week. Dr. S. E. Butler left Wednesday for Wrightsville to attend the dental association meeting. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Newbury motored to Wilmington Wednesday.

ration for the weakest of us to come into personal contact with such a noble spirit. Last evening at 10 o'clock he laid down the "sword" in Lexington, N. leading spirits to help stamp out the legal sale of liquor in North Carolina. Even some who opposed, at that time, the open saloon, will now doff their hats in memory of that sweet-spirited Christian pastor. I shall always remember him for the sympathy he expressed for the country pastor. It was a great inspiration, to accept the crown of glory in the Kingdom of God. Is he dead? Nay, his influence will abide in many souls for all eternity. J. C. MIZZELL. Wilmington, N. C., June 22, 1918. Now that Ty Cobb has started to do a little walloping, American league batting leaders will have to go some to keep out in front.

It was my pleasure to get acquainted with Dr. Hale while I was pastor of a field of five country churches near Wilmington. I shall always remember him as a strong advocate of prohibition, both local and state. He was one of the CITIZENS— IT'S UP TO YOU!

The allotment in the War Savings Drive for New Hanover County is, by townships, as follows:

Cape Fear Township	$ 37,576.00
Federal Point Township	14,586.00
Harnett Township	69,322.00
Masonboro Township	16,874.00
Wilmington Township	566,456.00
Total	$704,814.00

In the War Savings Drive you will be asked to subscribe for the stamps you can buy between now and January 1st, 1919.

A corps of more than 200 W. S. S. workers have been enlisted for the drive, which begins Monday, June 24th. A complete census of the city and county has been taken and the committee has endeavored to list every man, woman and child able to buy War Savings Stamps. The workers have been instructed that it is their duty to ask the people to buy the full amount of stamps allotted to us. Until they ask you to buy to the limit of your ability they will fail in the duty imposed upon them. When they ask you to make a pledge they discharge their duty to the government and the responsibility for your action then rests upon your shoulders.

There are three answers you should not make to the canvassers when they ask you to buy War Savings Stamps:

First: Do not say, "I have bought Liberty Bonds." Uncle Sam knows who has bought Liberty Bonds, and there is not a person anywhere who has purchased Liberty Bonds who cannot and ought not to buy War Savings Stamps. The government expects you to do your part and has said that everyone should buy War Savings Stamps. If you refuse to buy stamps because you own bonds you thereby admit that you are unwilling to help encourage the other eighty millions of people and more in the United States who have not and possibly can not buy Liberty Bonds.

Second: Don't tell the canvassers that you cannot afford to buy War Savings Stamps because you require the income from your investment for your livelihood. The government permits you to retain every dollar of interest on the stamps. You don't even have to clip coupons or cash a check for your interest. It stays in your pocket from the moment you make your purchase, and for every $100 War Savings Certificate you buy you only pay eighty-odd dollars, according to the month in which you invest your money. And as collateral to secure the payment of these stamps is pledged the entire resources of the United States, including the house in which you live.

Third: Don't tell the canvassers it's too much trouble to lick Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps. That answer is out of date and out of place in Wilmington. Many of our splendid American boys already lie buried beneath the poppies on the gory battlefields of France. Wilmington has already paid the supreme sacrifice upon the altar of a world-wide war. Our gallant boys today are fighting on the fields of Flanders; they are struggling on the banks of the Marne; they are praying and paying on the plains of Picardy. Any sacrifice that you can make here on the favored shores of America can not compare for a moment with the sacrifices of the boys who go "over the top."

Surely every man, woman and child will respond to the call of their country and help stop the great mad dog of Europe, the "Hellish Hun."
