STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, June 22.—Stocks became active and strong in the last hour of today's brief session after early irregularity. United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and other industrials and equipments led the sharp rally at 1 to 2 1-2 point advances. The balance of the list showed no material changes except General Motors, which came forward at the end. Rails hardened, but most of the trading in that group was confined to low grade issues. Shippings, coppers and oils were inclined to yield. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 250,000 shares.

Liberty bonds, 3 1-2, sold at 99.48 to 99.52; first 4s at 93.90 to 93.98; second 4s at 93.76 to 94.06, and 4 1-2s at 96.64 to 95.98.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, June 22.—Excellent crop conditions and the effectual breaking of the hot wave had a bearish influence today on corn. Opening prices which varied from unchanged figures to 3-8c lower, with July 1.43 5-8 to 3-4, and August 1.46 3-8 to 1-2 were followed by slight rallies and then a decided downturn all around.

Oats gave way with corn. After opening unchanged to 1-4c off with July 72 5-8 to 3-4, the market suffered a material setback.

Shorts covering rallied provisions from weakness which developed at the opening. Initial decines were ascribed to sympathy with grain.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, June 22.—There was some scattered selling in the cotton market at the opening today, which was encouraged by the expectation of slightly lower temperatures in the southwest and the favorable average of crop reports except for some few sections in Texas. The offerings were readily absorbed at an opening decline of 3 to 9 points, however, and later there appeared to be very few contracts offering around the ring. July sold up from 26.39 to 26.75 or 23 points net higher on covering, and the strength of the near position helped the rally in later months with October advancing from 24.50 to 24.77, or 20 points above last night's closing.

Cotton closed steady.

NEW YORK SPOT.

New York, June 22.—Spot cotton quiet. Middling, 30.40c.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, June 22.—Reports of scattered rains in the western belt caused a drop of six to eight points around the opening of the cotton market today. The favorable war news became the dominating factor and on it the market rose to a level 14 to 23 points over yesterday's close.

Cotton closed steady three points up to six points down, net.

Archbishop Keane Dies

Dubuque, Ia., June 22.—The Most Rev. John Joseph Keane, former rector of the Catholic University of America and retired archbishop of Dubuque, died today. The funeral will be held next Wednesday. He was 79 years old. Archbishop Keane had been in failing health since his retirement in 1911.

Old Recipes Revived.

Washington, June 22.—Bread "as grandmother made it"—literally, and not as the bakerman would have us believe—is coming back. The United States agricultural department has established an experimental kitchen, and announces a number of "good-old recipes in use 50 and 75 years ago," are being revamped to fit in with the wheat saving campaign. Corn, buckwheat, rye and barley, it was explained, and recipes for their use have proven timely now.

HERE'S REAL SKY PILOT IN PLANE

Dallas, Tex., June 22.—Rev. A. J. Osborne, former assistant pastor of Calvary Episcopal church, New York city, has discarded the wings of eloquence and the flights of oratory, and has taken unto himself the wings of an airplane, and is making flights of observation and attack.

He's a real sky pilot now.

He didn't have to go to war, but he's still young, and he found a passage in the Book about "putting on the armor of justice," and took it to mean, in the present instance, an aviator's suit. So he joined the aviation corps—not as a chaplain, but as a fighter.

The Browns firmly believe that they will repeat the performance of the Stallings' outfit in 1914 by winning the National league pennant and then grabbing the world's championship.

HOW GERMANY MAKES WAR

The horrors of war have been intensifie tenfold by the Prussian system of frightfulness.

The workings of that system have stirred to the depths the soul of the civilized world.

The United States government has just published a carefully prepared official book on "German War Practices."

A copy of this book will be sent free to any reader of The Dispatch.

Based on the most authentic sources—the archives of our state department, official German proclamations, the actual field diaries of German soldiers — this book paints a vivid and irrefutable picture of the Prussian war machine at work.

GOLD COIN LEGAL TENDER IN MEXICO

Washington, June 22.—The United States gold coin is legal tender in Mexico under a recent decree issued by President Carranza. The decree is effective temporarily, a dispatch to the Mexican embassy here states, and is for the purpose of relieving monetary conditions in the northern and western states where communication with Mexico City is irregular and indirect.

The Mexican department of finance rules that a United States dollar will be equivalent in value to two Mexican dollars, the English pound to $9.66, Spanish pesta and an Italian lira each to 38 cents, mark to 47 cents, crown to 40 cents, yen to 99 cents and a florin to 80 cents.

The decree will make possible the use of foreign coins in payment of obligations in Mexico without the usual foreign exchange discount.

They'll Help Uncle Sam.

Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., June 22.—More than 700 Germans, Turks, and Austrians are in training for military service here.

The men are members of the national army, and were transferred here from middle western states when the war department decided not to use in Europe soldiers born in countries with which the United States or its associates are at war. The soldiers in this unit have been naturalized and will be used for guard duty in the United States.

The fancy twirling dished up by Dick Rudolph on his season's debut for the Braves would indicate that "Bald Pate Richard" still possesses his old-time winning shoots and curves.
