Hero of Fashoda Arrives in Paris

Paris, June 1.—Major Marchand arrived here this morning. He was vociferously cheered as he alighted from his special train at the Gare de Lyon by a crowd numbering 5,000 persons. He was guarded by the police to his carriage to protect him from being overwhelmed by the rushes of his admirers, who covered his carriage with flowers and shouted "Vive Marchand" as the hero of Fashoda was driven away to the Ministry of Marine.

Marchand repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments en route, and again upon the balcony of the Ministry of Marine after his arrival there, the multitude keeping up incessant cheering. M. Lockroy, Minister of Marine, gave a luncheon in Marchand's honor.

Cries of "Vive De Roulede" and "Vive L'Armee" were mingled with the shouts of "Vive Marchand," the Parisians fervently, the representatives in their eyes of the army, as an offset to the Dreyfus climax.

Marchand's state carriage in his triumphal passage through the streets was a gorgeous affair. The vehicle was a victoria, on the corners of which were tricolored flags. The coach-box was overlaid with wreaths.

Marchand, in his speech in response to a toast with the luncheon at the Ministry of Marine, said that, forgetting the quarrels which had divided France, although he regretted them, his troops would attend the fetes in Paris, June 14-17.

Marchand's Senegalese troops had to be forcibly removed from the train at Toulon, as they wished to come at once to Paris. The women of Toulon are lionizing them, embracing them in the streets and surfeiting them with drinks and tobacco. It is likely that these black followers of Marchand will come to Paris later.

Wild enthusiasm continues throughout the city, Public and private buildings are decorated with flags, and the streets in the vicinity of the Military Club and the Ministry of Marine and the Colonies are thronged with vast cheering crowds. After luncheon Marchand was conducted to the Elysee and was presented to President Loubet, receiving a continuous ovation en route.

Gen. Otis Needs Thirty Thousand.

Washington, June 1.—The reply of General Otis to the inquiry telegraphed yesterday by Secretary Alger asking how many troops will be required in the Philippines was received this afternoon and laid before President McKinley. Information as to the contents of the dispatch was refused, but it was ascertained that the figures given by Otis were not high.

His statement of the total number of troops required to suppress the rebellion was very pleasing, and was much more satisfactory than the government was led to expect from the press dispatches sent out from Manila which apparently grossly exaggerated the exigencies of the situation.

This official statement was given out at the War Department:

"General Otis telegraphs that he is still of the opinion that 30,000 troops will be necessary for the effective control of the Philippines."

After coming from the conference at the White House, Secretary Alger said:

"No decision has yet been reached regarding the possible call for more troops in order to supply the necessary force for General Otis. For the present the forces in the Philippines can be raised by drawing on regular military stations in the United States. It may be necessary a little later to muster in a larger army; 5,000 will probably do. But the call will not be made immediately, if it is made at all."

Schurman Says There is no Arbitration.

Washington, June 1.—President Schurman, of the Philippine commission, has telegraphed to the Secretary of State an emphatic denial of reports in American newspapers that there was friction between General Otis and the civilian members of the commission. Schurman was not able to report any progress in the work of the commission. The Filipino commissioners have not returned to Manila, and the peace negotiations can not be resumed until they agree in behalf of Aguinaldo to surrender unconditional to the United States.

C. W. GOLD ESQ., Wilson N. C.:

MY DEAR SIR:—After a long delay of twelve months from the time you promised to send me the WILSON TIMES, I now beg to acknowledge the receipt on April 28, of the first copy dated Nov. 24, 1899. Imagine my delight and pleasure, in reading "old home news," and seeing names so very familiar, and some so very dear to me. Among other things attracting my attention and admiration, in the great political changes, are the thoughts of such worthy christian, conservative, gentlemen as Judge H. G. Connor, being chosen to represent Wilson county in the State Legislature; ex-Mayor Geo. D. Green, chairman of the board of county commissioners. These are indeed, great and wonderful changes, not that their politics have ever been doubted, but rather because of their very conservative principles, which have given them the respect, good will and confidence of the poor and ignorant, as well as the rich and intelligent. Again, to see that my good, worthy and esteemed friend, Jefferson Davis Bardin, was so deservedly re-elected to the clerkship; is a matter of much delight to me, as well as profit to him. As a whole I think Wilson has done as well as creditable in her share of the honors and divisions of the political spoils. Think of it, Speaker Connor, of Wilson, chief clerk of Senate; C. C. Daniels, reared up in public life, in Wilson, as clerk in the postoffice, under that Queen of Postmistresses, Mrs. Daniels, who to my mind, and way of doing business made a most obliging, accommodating and accomplished superintendent of that office. Then again, F. W. Barnes Esq., a trained financier and business man, elected as a director of one of the Asylums, and Dr. A. Anderson, a most patient and pains-taking christian gentleman, and a learned physician, being elected as a director of the Eastern Hospital, causes all to have the appearance that better things are coming, notwithstanding the "Jim Crow Car" law, the election franchise act, and the constitutional amendment. But I believe you will let me vote. By the way, the National election for President, Vice-President, by direct vote of the people and Legislators took place here, May 2, 1899, the anniversary of my arrival. They have a property qualification suffrage here. None can vote, but freeholders. But the Government gives every citizen land when he comes to his majority. If he afterwards disposes of it and holds no other in his own name he forfeits his right to vote. At this writing the election returns are not all in, but the indications are that the present incumbents, His Excellency, William David Coleman, and the Hon. J. J. Ross, vice president, are re-elected.

I have been writing about your political changes as if I was in the State, and attending the primaries, but the "Messenger," is my newsboy. He is hard to hinder, he comes by way of England or Germany, any way so as to serve my purpose. Then to read your professional column, and mercantile advertisements, and to see the names of my old family physician, Dr. C. E. Moore, my friends Woodard & Woodard, John E. Woodard, etc., almost persuades me to believe that I am nearer home than I really am. I have enjoyed most excellent health, have not lost a day for sickness since my arrival here. God bless Wilson and her worthy people.

Respectfully Yours and etc.,
Owen L. W. Smith, M. R. and C. G. Monrovia.

Sam Hose's Tormentors.

Des Moines, May 31.—"We have the names of the men who cut off the ears, fingers and other members of the body of Sam Hose, the colored man who was burned at the stake in Georgia and we shall publish them to the world in a pamphlet."

This declaration was made here today by Rev. Ransom, pastor of Bethel Methodist Episcopal church Chicago.

"We sent a detective to Georgia," he said, "and he secured the names easily enough, as it seems to be quite an honor in that vicinity to have participated in this affair. The detective found also that the woman Hose is accused of having outraged has never said such an offense was committed against her. We shall print 10,000 copies of the pamphlet, giving the names and facts, and send it to members of Congress, minister and others."

No Let-Up for Rainy Season.

Manila, June 5.—General Hall's command stopped at Teresa; advanced this morning and occupied Morong without opposition. Wholley's command had a little fight at Morong yesterday, and nine dead and five wounded Filipinos were found when the place was occupied. The Americans suffered no loss.

Five days rations have been distributed among the Americans who are advancing in a nearly continuous line across the Morong peninsula. Hospital tugs returning to-night with 500 soldiers suffering from heat.

Several escapes of insurgents through the lines were reported during the night. The unevenness of the country prevents maintaining a complete cordon.

Mateo Valley wires have been cut continually by the enemy and finally abandoned by Americans. The roughest country traversed by the the Americans is around Antipole. Lieutenant Hawthorne, with Battery E. was unable to proceed, owing to the condition of the country, and was compelled to burn this wagons, artillery and ammunitions to prevent their falling into hands of the enemy.

Washington, June 5.—Active operations in the Philippines will be continued by the Americans, notwithstanding the rainy season. Plans for conducting the campaign were discussed at the White House last night. General Otis had outlined a general movement, including the one now being carried out on Morong peninsula. A message from Schurman has also been considered. Both Otis and Schurman submitted plans and asked instructions, which were sent. It is not believed the rainy season will be severe enough to interfere with these plans for several weeks, and Otis's relentless pursuit may result in speedy surrender.

Murderers of Captain Tilly Punished.

Washington, June 1.—The following dispatch has been received from General Otis:

Manila, June 1.—General Smith reports from Negros that he has punished the insurgents who murder Captain Tilly; that the eastern coast of the island is now under the American flag and inhabitants ask protection against robber bands. The bands were pursued into the mountains by United States and native troops and were severely punished.

Beautiful Women

There are few women as beautiful as they might be. Powder and paint and cosmetics don't make good looks. Beauty is simply an impossibility without health. Beautiful women are few because healthy women are few. The way to have a fair face and a well-rounded figure is to take
