PATTERSON WITHDRAWS

Governor of Tennessee Not Candidate

ARE FOR HARMONY

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 11.—Governor M. R. Patterson Saturday night withdrew from the race to succeed himself as Governor of Tennessee. Governor Patterson was the nominee of the regular faction of the Democratic party and has been bitterly opposed by the independent State-wide prohibition Democrats, who, in coalition with the Republicans, elected a State judiciary last month, defeating a ticket for which Governor Patterson made a strenuous campaign of the State. On Wednesday next the independents meet here in State convention, a majority of the delegates coming instructed to vote for the endorsement of B. W. Hooper, the Republican nominee for Governor.

Governor Patterson, in his address announcing his withdrawal, declares he will not be an obstacle in the way of his party's success at the polls nor will he willingly contribute in any way to the possibility of success of the Republicans in Tennessee. He withdraws in the interest of harmony and that Democratic factions may get together to prevent the loss of the State in November. He makes reference to interference of a Republican President in Tennessee politics. In an interview following the issuance of the statement, Governor Patterson declares that he has no personal preference in the matter of a Democratic nominee and that he will take the stump for him, whoever he may be. Patterson's political career has been a stormy one, including his defeat of former Senator E. W. Carmack for the gubernatorial nomination in a sensational campaign, followed by the killing of Carmack here by the Coopers, their trial, which attracted national attention, and Patterson's pardon of D. B. Cooper within a few minutes after his conviction was sustained by the Supreme Court.

Forty Years a Diplomat.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Forty years of continuous service in the diplomatic branch of the Government is the record of the Second Assistant Secretary of State Alvey A. Adee. Forty years ago Saturday Mr. Adee was appointed Secretary of Legation at Madrid. He became a clerk in the State Department on July 9, 1877, Chief of the Diplomatic Bureau in June, 1878, and Third Assistant Secretary of State in July, 1882. He was appointed Second Assistant Secretary on August 3, 1886, and at almost any time since then might have become First Assistant Secretary had he cared to fill the post. No American diplomatist is better known in his particular field, and few of the great diplomatic notes issued from the State Department in the last quarter of a century have not received his careful editing and emendation.

700 Gems in Book Binding.

London, Sept. 21.—A notable specimen of the bookbinder's art is just being completed in London. The cover is completely inlaid with gems, consisting of some 700 amethysts and other stones. When complete, its cost will run so over $2,000.

The subject of the book is the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, which, with its illustrations, all on a scale of rare magnificence and artistic elaboration, must involve an additional expenditure of many thousands of dollars. The designing of the book has occupied three and a half months, and the tooling another twelve.

Major Thomas L. Emery.

Weldon, N. C., Sept. 12.—The body of Major Thomas L. Emery, who died in Staunton, Va., reached here Friday, and was met by members of Bill Johnston Camp of Confederate Veterans, of which Major Emery was commandant, and by the Junius Daniel Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The body was taken to his home, "Shadeland," in South Weldon, from which place the funeral service took place Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Major Emery was among the first to volunteer when the call was made, and at the battle of Malvern Hill he was promoted from private to lieutenant for conspicuous bravery. Major Emery had been identified with the industrial and commercial life of Weldon for a generation. He served as mayor of Weldon for ten or fifteen years, was president of the Weldon fair for nearly twenty-five years, and was for a long time a member of the county board of commissioners.

It was Major Emery who first saw the possibilities of a great manufacturing town at the big falls of Roanoke River, and it was owing to his brain to plan, and emery to execute, that the flourishing town of Roanoke Rapids was called into existence.

The funeral was conducted at Grace Episcopal church by the rector, Rev. H. H. Phelps, the choir rendering some appropriate hymns, and at the grave in Cedarwood cemetery the service was in charge of the Masons of Weldon, Roanoke Rapids and Halifax.

Major Emery is survived by his wife and one son, Charles R. Emery.

To Celebrate Surrender of Cornwallis

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 12.—The little town of Yorktown, Va., will be the scene of the gathering of patriotic hosts October 19th next, to celebrate the one hundred and twenty-ninth anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis. W. Shields McKean, of Yorktown, secretary of the Yorktown Historical Society, is arranging the celebration, and while in Norfolk he stated he has planned excursions from Baltimore, Richmond and Norfolk for the event.

Governor William Hodges Mann, of Virginia, will preside, and it is possible Ambassador Jusserand, from France, will be one of the speakers. Mr. McKean has presented him an invitation to be one of the orators of the day.

One of the important features of the work for which the society is organized, is the locating and marking in enduring form the spot where the "official" surrender to General Washington by Lord Cornwallis took place.

Also, where General O'Hara delivered up to General Lincoln the sword of Lord Cornwallis; the field in which the British soldiers laid down their arms and accoutrements; the headquarters of General Washington, Lafayette, Rochambeau, Nelson and Lincoln, and the British redoubts stormed and taken by detachments under the command of Lafayette and Alexander Hamilton on October 14th.

The celebration will be held under the auspices of the Yorktown Historical Society.

Would Oust Army Mule.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The truth has come out at last. General Leonard Wood, the new chief of staff of the army, is an enemy of the army mule. In his forthcoming annual report he is going to make a recommendation that steps be taken to substitute motor cars for mules.

The general will insist upon the change for two reasons: First, he argues the motor car will do the same work as mule-drawn wagons and will do it more readily; and, second, it will be a move in the direction of improving the morals of the army.

It is said that the army mule moves only to the accompaniment of a proper amount of picturesque profanity. With the elimination of the mule "cussing" will be reduced to the minimum.

Missouri furnishes more mules for the army than any other State. General Wood's recommendation, therefore, will be a direct blow at the mule-raising industry there.

LORIMER RESIGNS

Sends in Resignation to Hamilton Club

IS NOT ACCEPTED

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A terse note of resignation from the Hamilton Club of which he had been a member many years, was the answer made Saturday by United States Senator William Lorimer to the action of the club president, John H. Batten, in withdrawing his invitation to the Roosevelt banquet Thursday night. The invitation was withdrawn at the demand of Colonel Roosevelt, who refused to attend a banquet at which Senator Lorimer also was a guest.

While Senator Lorimer urged that his resignation be accepted immediately, it is said that the Senator's friends on the club board of governors probably will refuse to vote the acceptance.

Together with the resignation Saturday, news of correspondence from President Batten to Senator Lorimer developed, showing that the junior Illinois Senator also was to have been given of honor, and it was the hope that the club would make the dinner notable as a harmonious occasion where all factions of the Republican party had broken bread together.

At least three invitations were sent Lorimer, each urging him to attend the banquet, and to the last of these he sent his acceptance. After this, on the day of the banquet, came the sudden recall of the invitation.

The note of resignation was written after a conference of the Senator with a number of his friends, and at first was believed to be a cue which would be followed by a number of his admirers in the club. Later it was decided by his friends to refuse to accept his resignation.

Rob Grant To Lead Trinity Team.

Durham, Trinity College, Sept. 10.—At a meeting of the baseball team yesterday morning immediately after chapel exercises, "Bob" Grant, the star pitcher of the year before last, who last year was barred from taking part in inter-collegiate games because of the ruling of the S. I. A. A., was elected captain of the baseball team. The big fellow has entered college in time this year, and his eligibility is certain. The choice of this popular player for the captaincy is regarded by the entire college community as an unusually happy one. "Bob" is not only a ball player of first class order, but a fellow who has a friend in every man in college. He is one of those big, hearty, kindly fellows that one instinctively likes.

His record on Trinity's ball field is known over all the South. It was he that shared with "Bud" Lane the glory of making the team of 1907 the champions of the South in 1908 he startled baseball enthusiasts all over the State by his remarkable stunt in letting down the Philadelphia Nationals without a single hit. No hit games are his long suit. Trinity men everywhere will rejoice in the selection of "Bob" Grant for the captaincy of this year's team.

Dr. Holmes Takes Oath in New Office.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, of North Carolina, formerly chief of the technologic branch of the Geological Survey, took the oath of office Saturday as director of the new Bureau of Mines. The oath was administered by Chief Clerk Ucker, of the Interior Department, in pursuance with instructions received from the President. Dr. Holmes entered upon his duties immediately.

Fayetteville Wins Pennant.

Rocky Mount, Sept. 12.—Fayetteville took the first double-header by clouting the ball all over the lot, while Mayer was immensely effective. This game decided the pennant lander and Fayetteville will fly the championship banner next year. In the ninth, with a man on first and third, nobody down, the Railroaders appeared to have an excellent chance of tying the score, when the first triple play ever seen on the local field was pulled off and the side retired. The play was a starter and for rattling fast work of in-field it has never been equalled here. Both teams fielded brilliantly and it was the hard hitting by Fayetteville that got away with the game. Large attendance was prevented by threatening weather.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Fayetteville . . . 000 120 000—3 8 2 Rocky Mount . . . 000 000 100—1 3 2

Summary: Sacrifice hits, Luyster. Hit by pitched ball, Dwyer. Stolen bases, Mullen, Schumaker, Dwyer, Landgraf. Bases on balls, Boyle 2. Struck out, Boyle 5; Mayer 4. Earned runs, Fayetteville 1; Rocky Mount 1. Two-base hits, Brittenstein. Tripple play, Landgraf, O'Halloran. Double plays, Gastmeyer to Sharry. Left on bases, Rocky Mount 1; Fayetteville 6. Time, 1:20. Umpires, Barr and Burke. Attendance, 625.

Second Game.

The second game of the double-header was not necessary, but was played because of the presence in the stands of possibly a hundred visitors, most of whom were from Fayetteville and who arrived on an afternoon train too late for much of the first game.

Fayetteville won the second game also by a score of 3 to 0. Tracy and Dussault made up the battery for the Crew, while Brandt and Hartley did the work for the Highlanders. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Fayetteville . . . 030 00—3 3 1 Rocky Mount . . . 000 00—0 3 3

Batteries: Rocky Mount, Tracy and Dussault; Fayetteville, Brandt and Hartley. Umpires, Barr and Burke. Time, 45 minutes. Attendance, 700.

When Catcher Leary, of the Railroaders, went to the bat in the second inning, "time" was called for a moment by Umpire Barr, and with a few appropriate remarks he presented the Railroaders' receiver with a check for fifty dollars for having hit the "bull" in the Wilmington-Rocky Mount game in Wilmington on Saturday, August 27th. This catcher is the only man in this league to do this trick.

Uncle Sam Will Replant Forests.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 12.—Almost before the ashes of the great fires which have raged over the Black Hills, destroying thousands of acres of primeval pine forests, have grown cold, the government rangers and foresters are preparing to reseed the blackened mountain sides and repair the damage done by the flames to the great water shed of the continent. Already arrangements are being made for gathering 250,000 bushels of pine cones for use as seed and at the proper season these seed will be strewn from one end of the burned section to the other. In the Black Hills alone more than 1,000 square miles of pine forests have been destroyed and before the falling snow puts an end to further fires as much more may be burned over.

A bushel of pine cones is worth more than a bushel of potatoes. The Black Hills are great producers of Irish potatoes and the selling price here is 60 cents per bushel. Put a bushel of good pine cones will bring 75 cents when delivered at any one of the half-dozen receiving stations which the government has established.

In charge of the reseeding work in the Black Hills are Supervisor Keltner of the northern half, and Supervisor Innes of the southern district. Because of the immense area of this year's devastated district, the work this winter and next spring will be far more extensive than ever before, and consequently will cost the government a far greater outlay than the work of any former year.

Science Opens His Prison.

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Taft has commuted to four years the sentence of Joseph A. Haas, who was caught in 1908 by the Secret Service men in a raid on a counterfeiter's plant at Braddock, Pa. Haas was sentenced to five years and is now in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Haas is a college man and a scientist. His sentence has been shortened because of his aid to the Secret Service. While in prison he gave information upon which counterfeiters, now serving sentences, will be re-arrested when they are released. He has offered to the Secretary of the Treasury a method for refining gold and silver bullion, said to be the cheapest and most effective yet discovered, and has written a treatise on isomeric theoretical organic chemistry, which is to be published and offered to the Smithsonian Institution.

100 Mosby Guerrillas Held Annual Reunion.

Herndon, Va., Sept. 11.—Mosby's guerrillas, nearly 100 strong, survivors of the famous body whose attacks on Union ranks formed a spectacular feature of the Civil War, attended their annual reunion here Saturday. Col. John S. Mosby, their war commander, was absent.

A dinner was served at Darlington Grove, followed by a speech by Representative Carlin, of Virginia. The old officers were re-elected, and Manassas, Va., chosen for the next meeting place.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP OVER

Spoke at Scene of Great Strike

GUARDED BY TROOPS

Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—In language as emphatic as he could make it, Col. Roosevelt told the people of Columbus Saturday that scenes of disorder such as had occurred here during the street car strike, which is still in progress, were reprehensible and reflected disgrace upon any person who either were responsible for them or tolerated them.

Col. Roosevelt spoke at Goodale Park to a crowd estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000. He was guarded by an escort of regular troops from the barracks at Columbus, although there was no sign of disorder. The State militia and a large number of policemen also were on duty.

With fists clenched and his face set sternly, Col. Roosevelt told those who heard him that it was their first duty to repress lawlessness.

In his address Col. Roosevelt set forth the duties of the citizens of Columbus as two fold, as follows:

"First at once and without equivocation or hesitation, to enforce order, suppress violence, and see that the law is obeyed in letter and spirit. Second, as soon as this result has been achieved, turn at once to the great question of justice and exert your whole power to find out the facts, treating any refusal to give you all the facts as a confession of guilt. If injustice has been done exert the whole power of the government to see that it is remedied forthwith and if there is any effort to prevent this, if the attempt to remedy is obstructed, see to it that there is not only a remedy but also punishment; and take steps that will effectually prevent a repetition of the injustice.

"You people of Columbus face one of the crises which from time to time in our American life demand the exercise of the highest qualities of good citizenship. It is your immediate duty to secure law and order and once this has been done it becomes your even higher and more pressing duty to see that justice, full and complete, is guaranteed alike to the employer, the employee, and the people as a whole."

Talks About Dishonesty.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—Ex-President Roosevelt, coming to Pittsburg at the conclusion of his tour through the West, fiercely denounced dishonest politicians and corrupt men of wealth in an address at a citizenship rally here Saturday night and appealed to the people to follow up the work of reform which they have begun.

"The people that hurt Pittsburg are the people that are corrupt," he said. The Western tour of Colonel Roosevelt was virtually concluded in Pittsburg. The last of the rear platform speeches of the trip was made at Steubenville, Ohio, in the afternoon.

Mr. Roosevelt arrived at Oyster Bay yesterday.

COTTON.

New York, Sept. 12.—Cotton opened several points down this morning. January, 12.91; March, 13.00; September, 13.62; October, 12.95; December, 12.93. At twelve o'clock the market was higher, January being 12.96; March, 13.04; September, 13.68; October, 13.03; December, 12.99.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—For North Carolina: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; moderate easterly winds.
