Legislators Anxious To Vote On Ship Bill

DELAYS ARE UNNECESSARY
Senator Giles Says Everybody Has Already Decided How He is Going to Vote on the Measure and the Legislators are Chafing Under the Delay.

Raleigh, Aug. 11.—Notice that the members of the North Carolina General Assembly and particularly those in the senate were chafing under the delay getting the disposition of the port commission bill, and way was served on the water transportation committee which has charge of the measure today.

Senator Giles introduced a motion in the senate requiring the committee to make a report of the measure not later than tomorrow night at eight thirty but later withdrew it. He told the senate he had taken this action to warn him the members were chafing under the delay, that every member knew how he was going to vote and delays were unfair.

TWO RALEIGH MEN ARE DEAD, RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

HAPPENED NEAR RALEIGH

The Two Young Men Were Riding on a Motorcycle Which Collided With a Car in Which Mr. Underwood, of Wilson, Was Riding; the Injured Were Rushed to a Raleigh Hospital Where They Died.

Raleigh, Aug. 11.—Herbert Drew, 18 years old, a speed messenger for the local postoffice, and Ludlow Moore, 19, died at a local hospital here early today from injuries received when a light touring car ran into a motorcycle they were riding near the city. Drew's skull was crushed and both Moore's arms and legs were broken and he received internal injuries.

Harvey Underwood, driver of the automobile that struck the youths, claim they were on the wrong side of the road, a deputy sheriff who investigated the accident, however, asserted information he gleaned indicated the automobile was on the wrong side of the road and the driver would be arrested.

Moore was on the staff of State Motor Supervisor J. E. Sawyer and the identity of the two young men was established through a note in Moore's pocket to remind him of an errand he was to perform for the secretary of state today.

Richard Underwood, aged 7, son of John Underwood of Durham who with A. D. Underwood of Wilson was a passenger in the automobile which was slightly injured.

According to a report reaching this city the three Underwoods were riding in their car crashed into the motorcycle on which the two unidentified men were riding near the Neuse river. It was also stated that the motorcycle which carried a side car had only one head light and was on the left hand side of the road. The Underwood party claimed they turned from the right side of the road to the left to avoid crashing into the oncoming vehicle, at which time the other machine swung to their right crashing into the automobile head on. The side car was completely demolished in the crash, while little damage was done the automobile.

The injured men were rushed to Raleigh, where the occupants of the automobile had their injuries dressed. Only a few cuts and bruises of a minor nature were sustained by the Underwood party. A. D. Underwood is an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway in this city.

Rocky Mount, Aug. 11.—Cheatham Evans, Ernest Lee and Tom Lee, the three negroes around whom the chain of evidence for the murder of Arthur L. Joyner, Hollister, taxi driver, about ten days ago, is being steadily woven, will in all probability be tried at the term of Nash county superior court which convenes in Nashville Sept. 17 with Judge Devin of Oxford.

Information to this effect was obtained from the office of Sheriff C. L. Johnson at Nashville today. Deputy Sheriff Griffin, in charge of the office, stated that Sheriff Johnson and Sheriff Hume, of Halifax, had held a recent conference, and that the time and place for the trial had been practically decided upon when Mr. Griffin stated that he had heard Sheriff Johnson say that he was going to issue warrants formally charging the trio of suspects with the murder of Mr. Joyner. He was of the opinion that if they were not at that time they would be in the near future.

County officials of both Nash and Halifax have continued to work on the case and follow up every available clue in connection with the murder. As a result, it was learned today, additional evidence has been discovered which the officers declare will draw the strings still tighter around the three negroes, Evans and the two Lee brothers.

Earlier in the week the authorities searched the home of Tom Lee where they say they found a newly washed bed quilt and a jumper jacket on which are believed to be blood stains. These articles have been turned over to Sheriff Johnson who is keeping them for exhibits at the trial of the alleged slayers. The officers believe that the quilt was used to wrap up the body of Mr. Joyner and the driver had been murdered in Evans' yard and the remains were being taken and thrown into the creek where they were discovered. To substantiate this belief, officers claim that particles of flesh, believed to be fragments from the wounds on the murdered man, were found on the quilt. The quilt, still damp and in a bad state from wear, and jumpers were found hanging in the home of Tom Lee.

LAUGHED TWO WEEKS AGO — NOW THEY'RE WORRIED

The state has come from the faces of Richard Loeck and Nathan Leopold, Jr., slayers of Henry Frank. Two weeks ago when the trial in save them from the gallows started, the two youths had the preceding nights they laughed and joked with each other, today it is different, the pictures on the right show the youths looking back that embrace the boys' faces. Perhaps they are now experiencing the "fitful" that comes to a murderer.

ENDORSE BETTER BUSINESS METHODS
 Federal Trade Commission Approves Co-Operative Cost Finding.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The Federal Trade Commission approves co-operative cost finding and cost accounting by the trade association of an important industry, in the publication here today of a letter of the United Typothetec of America, International Association of master printers, simultaneously with its publication, sent through the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals by the association against the Federal Trade Commission was dismissed. The action is regarded in industrial circles as a victory for better business methods and stabilization of industry.

In its letter the commission says in part:

"It was not the intention of the commission to disturb in any way the educational work which the association was instituting in the field of cost accounting. The commission has a number of times gone on record as approving the efforts of trade associations to incite to the necessity of proper cost accounting as essential to the conduct of business, and endeavored in making its order in this case to leave the cost accounting work of the United Typothetec of America in its educational phase, wholly undisturbed."

The suit against the commission was an outgrowth of a "cease and desist" order brought against the Typothetec in August, 1923, after nearly five years of litigation. Believing that its cost accounting work was legal and vitally necessary for the stabilization of the printing industry, the association brought suit to compel the commission to modify its order, or at least to interpret it for the guidance of all concerned.

In some instances the owners barely escaped with their lives.

ATTACKS GLAND THEORY

Dr. Huebert Admitted That It Was a Question in the Medical World Whether Such a Gland Existed; State Will Offer Alienist as Witnesses in the Case.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 11.—The staff today attacked the theory of functional disorders of the endocrine glands set up definitely by the defense in its plea for mitigation of punishment of Richard Loeck and Nathan Leopold, Jr., for kidnapping and murdering young Robert Frank.

Functional disorders of the endocrine glands were brought out in the testimony of Dr. H. S. Huebert of Chicago, fourth defense alienist who used X-ray pictures to illustrate what he termed glandular disorders of the thyroid, prenal, pituitary and adrenals.

Robert E. Cross, state's attorney upon cross-examination asked Dr. Huebert for information as to the function of the prenal gland, and when told it regulated the balance of the other endocrine glands, asked if it were not a fact medical men as a whole know nothing practically of the functioning of the prenal gland and there was some question of it being a gland at all. He received an affirmative reply.

Mr. Cross sought to impeach Dr. Huebert's testimony by bringing out that mental pathologists had been too busy to make some of the numerous tests and had to rely on the word of others.

The attorney also had not in many murder cases made so many and such extensive tests as in this case.

Mr. Cross's driving into the endocrine gland theory was cut short in the noon recess. It was indicated the defense would rest its case soon after including the testimony of Dr. Huebert and the defense would begin its rebuttal testimony including the presentation of several alienist as witnesses.

Coolidge Says Colored Man Has Right In Primary

Washington, Aug. 11.—Replying to a letter of protest against the exclusion of a negro for the United States Congress from New York State, President Coolidge today expressed amazement at the suggestion that he intervene and reaffirmed his intention of administering the constitution which he pointed out guarantees equal rights to all citizens without discrimination on account of race or color.

"The letter made public at the Whitehouse was written to Chase B. Gardner of Fort Hamilton, N. Y. Mr. Hamilton had sent a newspaper clipping concerning the candidacy of a negro for a seat in Congress from New York and suggested 'repeatedly ignoring of the growing race problem does not excuse us for allowing disenfranchisement'.

"Leaving out the consideration the manifest impropriety of the President intruding himself in a local contest for nonwhite," Mr. Coolidge wrote in reply, "I am amazed to receive such a letter."

"During the war 500,000 colored men and boys were called in the draft, not one of whom sought to evade it. They took their places wherever assigned in defense of the nation of which they are just as truly citizens as any others. The thought of denying them in any measure their full political measure to such a great group of our population as the colored people, is one which, however it might be resented in some other quarters, could not possibly be permitted by one who feels a responsibility of living up to the traditions of the Republic party."

"Our constitution guarantees equal rights to all our citizens. I have taken my oath to support that constitution. It is the source of your rights and my rights. I propose to regard it and administer it as the rights of all the people, whatever their belief or race. A colored man has as much right to enter a party primary as any other citizen. The situation must be left to its constituents. You have suggested in some fashion I should bring influence to bear to prevent the possibility of a colored man being nominated to Congress. In reply I quote my great predecessor Theodore Roosevelt, 'I cannot consent to take the position that the door of hope—the door of opportunity—is to be shut upon any man, no matter how worthless, surely upon the grounds of race or color.'"
