HELP THE GOVERNMENT

Some time ago we saw an article stating that the government wanted the people to save peach stones etc. We wrote to the Secretary of War to know if these were wanted and received a reply as follows: "The army needs peach stones or seeds, apricot pits, prune pits, olive pits, cherry pit shells of hickory nuts, walnuts and butter nuts. From these carbon is made for use in the manufacture of gas mask."

The campaign to secure these seeds has just been launched, and we would greatly appreciate your help. The Red Cross will handle the disposition of these seeds."

"Signed J. S. Boyd,
First Lt. Chemical Warfare Service
U. S. A."

If you wish to aid the government and to protect the boys against gas attacks save all these things and at the proper time they will be called for. James Dempsey Bullock.

OUR GIRLS

Some time ago we read a very good poem by Henderson entitled: "I have a Boy"—expressing pride in the fact that that boy was fighting for the Allied cause, fighting for democracy and all mankind. We thought of the fathers and mothers who have girls who are doing everything possible to back up their neighbor's sons, girls who have volunteered for Red Cross work, etc. We wrote "I have a girl."

I have a girl—and I am proud that while she cannot point a gun, she can at least do her bit and back up my neighbor's son.

And while they will not let her take her stand beside him in the line, yet when he's wounded, down and out, her duty then she'll find.

She'll nurse him back to health again and make him fit to fight; the battle against the barbarous Hun for democracy and for right. And when this dreadful war is over and she's asked what she has done, I am proud that my girl can stand up and say I backed up my neighbor's son.

CEMETERY MYSTERY
NEAR GOLDSBORO
Goldsboro, Sept. 18.—An attraction of more than passing interest has allured curiosity seekers in this city and throughout the county to pay a visit to the scene at Belfast, a small flag station on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, three miles north of Goldsboro, where it is said a woman's head has recently made its appearance on the tombstone of Burrall Franklin Davis in the beautiful little cemetery located near the foregoing town. People who have been in the habit of visiting this particular spot declare that until recently they had seen no inscription on the Davis tombstone other than the usual obituary description. One young man of Goldsboro who entered this abode of the dead says that repeated efforts have been made to take a photo of the face but it will not show when developed. Ordinary efforts to remove the impression from the tombstone have also proved futile.

PATRIOTIC ACT OF YOUNG FRENCH QUEEN

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 18.—The devotion of a French woman to her country was recorded at one of the American headquarters to which a woman whose name cannot be mentioned had made her way through shell fire and over a region filled with gas and traps to bring to the allies information regarding the Germans.

With her mother and younger brother, the young woman, who is not yet twenty, had lived at Soulevre farm since the day it fell into the hands of the Germans four years ago. Four other brothers are in the French army. The mother and daughter were forced to remain within the German lines and witness the day by day conversion of their property into a German clubhouse. During these four years the two women endeavored to placate rather than to antagonize their captors. From German officers who frequented the farm the young woman learned information which she recognized to be of the utmost importance. When she heard the barrage Thursday morning she determined to run the risk of crossing the nearly three miles separating her home from the allied lines.

Telling her mother and the others that she had work to do in the garden the young woman left the house. She slipped away toward the American lines although every road was swept by allied and German gunfire. After many difficulties and narrow escapes the young woman reached the American lines and told her story.

In return for the information she brought, she asked that every effort be made to rescue her mother and brother. The Germans attempted to maintain their position at Soulevre farm but the Americans overcame them in desperate fighting. The mother and brother were brought to American headquarters yesterday, uninjured and there was a joyful reunion.
