TOMLINSON-WOODARD

A marriage of more than usual interest was solemnized last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Woodard, when their charming daughter, Susie Gray, became the bride of Mr. J. L. Tomlinson, one of Wilson's popular and prominent young business men. This came as quite a surprise to themany friends and even the relatives of the young people, as there had been no invitations issued and no announcement made. No one was present to witness the ceremony except the bride and mother of the bride and her little friend Miss Mary Anna Daniel, her brother being stationed at Charleston, in the United States Navy. The vows were read at nine o'clock by Rev. W. A. Stanbury, pastor of the Methodist church. Immediately afterward, the bride and groom left for a trip of some days to northern cities. Following their return they will live in Wilson.

By this marriage two of Wilson county's most prominent families are united, Mr. Tomlinson's father being one of the large planters of this section, and the father of the bride being one of the leading local business men and Past Grand Master of Odd Fellows in North Carolina.

He stated that he left here on Saturday night at 10:30 and came back on 83 Sunday morning. He lost all of the ten pints of liquor which he was compelled to deliver to the police. This liquor he asserted cost him $2.50 per pint, or a total of $25, and in addition he was charged $100 and the costs for having it on his person.

ANOTHER VISIT FROM HEALTH OFFICIALS

We had another visit from distinguished health officials both state and National today when Dr. Rankin, Superintendent of the War Department, Dr. Washburn and Major Kenyon visited Wilson to look over the sanitary situation at this place following a recent visit of the Major and Dr. Washburn who at that time made certain recommendations.

This visit found things in better shape, the temporary arrangements having satisfied conditions for the time being and the more active use of the carts since helping out matters. It was decided to continue the can method of removing sewage, but to see to it that more carts are kept running. In connection with this statement however it is well to note that of the two wagons running that one of the drivers went off on a trip and has not returned, and therefore there was only one wagon running today.

An inspection of the warehouse district was made in company with the Major and city officials including Dr. Smith and it was found that the barbecue stands and other places around the warehouse, in the opinion of all hands are not in a very satisfactory condition and the recommendation was made to clean these up.

DRAFT LOTTERY NEXT WEEK

Plans to Hold This Week Abandoned to Give Local Boards More Time, to

CALL 13 MILLION MEN

Washington, Sept. 25.—The National lottery which, in a measure, will determine the order of the calling of the 13,000,000 men between 18 and 45 years of age who registered September 12, probably will not be held before next week. Officials had hoped to fix a date late this week, but this plan is understood to have been abandoned in order that additional time may be given to local boards to correct any errors made in assigning serial numbers to the registrants.

Since men between 19 and 36 are to be called to the colors first the drawing will have less effect upon determining the order of the calling than did that for the nearly 1,000,000 men who turned 21 before last June 5. Order numbers for all the 13,000,000 men will be drawn, but youths of 18 and men between 36 and 45 will not be classified until the boards have given classification to all the men between 19 and 36 who are the first to receive their questionnaires. In the meantime many of the 19-36 classes will have been inducted into service.

Reports received yesterday by Post Marshal General Crowder from nearly all States indicate that satisfactory progress is being made by local boards in attaching serial numbers to the registration cards. In one or two instances, however, local boards have had necessary the numbering of the cards for all registrants under their jurisdiction. No date for the drawing can be fixed until this work is completed and the serial numbers posted and while this may be done this week, it is understood that General Crowder will allow several days for the discovery of any errors before holding the drawing.

Only five States have now to report the totals of the registration. Unless their returns show sharp decreases under the official estimates the total registration will exceed the original estimate of 12,778,000.

SIX BILLION DOLLARS ASKED

Of the People of America by Secretary McAdoo Who Opened Campaign in

NEW YORK YESTERDAY

New York, Sept. 25.—Six billion dollars is the minimum amount which the people of the United States are asked to subscribe for the Fourth Liberty Loan, according to an announcement by Wm. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, in a stirring address here last night outlining the government's plan for the campaign, which starts Saturday.

The share allotted to New York Federal Reserve District is $1,800,000,000 of 30 per cent of the greatest loan yet offered. The loan, which will bear 4-4 per cent interest, will run for 20 years, maturing October 15, 1938, unless the government should exercise its reserved right to redeem the bonds on or after October 15, 1933.

Asserting that, without this vast sum, "we cannot lick the Kaiser," the Secretary made a special appeal for the subscriptions of corporations and wealthy individuals, as returns from the Third Liberty Loan indicated that wealthy corporations and persons of large means had not responded "commensurately with their abilities to help." He pointed out that of the 18,000,000 Americans who subscribed for the last loan, only 22,500, including corporations, bought bonds in excess of $10,000.

"It will be preposterous," he said, "to say that there are only 22,500 men, women and corporations in America able to lead more than $10,000 each to their government in liberty bonds."

Mr. McAdoo also condemned the practice of "swindlers and unscrupulous and unpatriotic people who, contrary to the urgent request of the Treasury Department, had induced holders of Liberty Bonds to exchange them for stocks or investments of doubtful value." He pointed out that these operations forced the Treasury to buy the bonds thrown upon the market, in order to protect the market and the credit of the government.

Applauded by a crowd which filled Carnegie Hall, Mr. McAdoo said in part:

"The Treasury of the United States asks the American people to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan $6,000,000,000. This money is needed to carry on the war. We cannot lick the Kaiser without it. cannot restore peace to the world and re-establish liberty and democracy without it.

"The huge amounts expended by America in this war are not wholly used for destructive purposes. Great sums are used for constructive work which will be of permanent value to the American people."

The great merchant marine which he said, on completion, will be the largest, most efficient and modern merchant fleet in the world, was cited as one constructive use to which Liberty Loan money will be put.

"For the fiscal year 1919," he said, "it is probable that $8,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000 will represent loans to the allied governments and expenditures for ships, shipyards, docks, wharves and other facilities which will be salvaged to the American people."

"Asserting that 'everybody should buy bonds' Mr. McAdoo continued: 'Wages and salaries are higher in America today than ever before in its history. Every dollar saved now and invested in Liberty Bonds will be worth much more when peace comes again.'

"I was asked not long ago what arguments could be made for the Fourth Liberty Loan. I replied immediately 'Perishing and our heroes in France. No other argument is necessary.'

"Who is not thrilled by what Perishing and his glorious men have done already upon the field of battle? These untrained freemen of democracy have met the veteran fighters and the best trained soldiers of autocracy and have vanquished

35 CENTS PER POUND

Is the Price Senators Simmons and Overman Think the Price of Cotton SHOULD BE MADE

SHOULD BE MADE

Washington, Sept. 25.—Senators Simmons and Overman are of the opinion that the price-fixing figure for cotton should not be less than 35 cents a pound. Scores of telegrams yesterday from North Carolina favored that figure as a minimum basis, while quite a few cotton growers named 40 cents as a fair price.

Senator Simmons yesterday expressed himself as being earnestly opposed to the fixing of the price of cotton but if such is the program he thinks that the price should be named without undue delay. He thinks the atmosphere should be clarified. That 35 cents is the only fair price seems quite clear to the senior Senator. Many telegrams to him from the State yesterday indicated that should the price be under 35 cents that the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign would be seriously hampered. Farmers were of the opinion that they could not meet their financial obligations when it cost so much to produce cotton.

Protesting Against Price Fixing Protests against the government fixing basic prices for standard grades of raw cotton marked the beginning yesterday of the deliberations of the new committee named to investigate the cotton situation.

A delegation of the cotton States official advisory marketing committee late yesterday after conferring in the Capitol with Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and his associates from the cotton States, J. J. Brown, Georgia Commissioner of Agriculture, headed the delegation and voiced what he termed the protest of the farmers against the price fixing. Mr. Brown is president of the Advisory Marketing committee, which is Agriculture of the cotton States, directors of the cotton States marketing bureaus and the president of the farmers' unions of those states. He said his organization believed the new law of supply and demand should govern prices.

While willing to submit to any act of the government as a war measure, Mr. Brown said he did not believe such drastic action as price-fixing is necessary. The wisdom of the appointment of the cotton distribution committee, empowered to buy cotton for the government and the allies and to allocate it as to quality and grade to all domestic and foreign consumers, was questioned by Mr. Brown and the other delegates.

them, not by foul means, but by fair fighting. They have already demonstrated that the doom of autocracy is sealed and the day of reckoning near at hand. "What we must do in America is to keep the pressure high. Now that we have the Kaiser and his brutal hordes on the run let us not relax effort but intensify effort. That is the way to win surely and quickly. That is the way to eliminate the Rhine; that is the way to open an American parade on Unter den Linden."
