Our Delegation Returns,
The Wilson delegation to Raleigh in the matter of the freight rate discrimination against North Carolina in favor of the Virginia cities have returned from Raleigh where they are of the opinion that North Carolina will receive justice at the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission eventually.

Secretary Barlow who deserves special credit for the part he has taken together with other Chamber of Commerce Secretaries in this State is optimistic and believes that something will now be done. This opinion is shared by the attorneys for this State, and others who are interested.

The evidence for North Carolina was all in yesterday. Secretary Brown of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce was on the stand for three and one-half hours giving direct testimony and then again for two and one-half in answering the questions of Mr. Rixey attorney for could not be shaken however.

While on the stand he made the statement that North Carolina whole salers found it necessary to make warehouse arrangements in Virginia and this was substantiated by North Carolina merchants who followed him.

Those who attended from Wilson, were Messrs. J. T. Barnes, Kirby Woodard, Leslie Barnes, Jesse Amerson, George Allen, J. W. Stock, J. M. Palmer, J. M. Daniel, W. J. Taylor and Louis Tomlinson.

WHITE HOUSE WOOL

GOES TO SAVATIONISTS

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Wilson has ordered latest clip of wool from the White House flock of sheep sold for the benefit of the Salvation Army's thirteen million dollar drive. There are 31 pounds of wool from the backs of the Shropshires which graze on the White House lawn ready for the auctioneer who probably will be designated by former Governor Whitman, of New York. A recent sale of the wool for the benefit of a Red Cross drive brought many thousand dollars.

BATH ROOMS, COUNTRY CLUB

to raise the money by subscription, and a canvass of those present secured $265.00 and the other members will be canvassed and it is believed that the amount necessary, some $750.00, will be subscribed. The matter of the size of the bath rooms will be left with the committee. It is possible that the bath room on the outside will be used by the children, one house for the girls and the other for the boys, while the grown folks will use the rooms in the club building.

Mr. George Lucas for the golf links reported that the grounds were not in the best of fix, and that the grass was too high, but it is expected that this will soon be remedied.

When it came to the election of three directors to take the place of those expiring, Mr. Stewart wanted to be allowed to quit but the members would not allow it. Some very nice things were said regarding Mr. Stewart's interest and loyalty by Messrs. F. D. Swindell, F. M. Miller and Jonas Oettinger, and the club would not hear to his giving up the post. The other two, selected by a committee, composed of Messrs. Fred Swindell, Fred Eagles, W. H. Anderson, Ernest Deans and T. F. Pettus, who retired and reported the names of Messrs. Jonas Oettinger and George Lucas. These were unanimously elected.

During the discussion on the subject of the bath rooms and their cost Mr. Carter stated that the price was too high for rough buildings and Dr. L. H. Herring stated that Mr. Wiley Thompson would have a number of hands at work on some buildings across the creek pretty soon doing some building for him and that they would erect these buildings at a reasonable cost.

Mr. Fred Swindell called attention to the festivities that had been started at the Commonwealth Club in this city of which he is president, and that an orchestra had been engaged at a cost of $5.50 per head each night with as many pieces as required and these made good dance music. It was the intention of the Commonwealth Club to have these dances every month. Mr. Oettinger stated that his report called for this recommendation and it was his desire to have a number of social functions at the club during the coming year.

The Directors then met and re-elected the old officers. Mr. Jonas Oettinger, president; Mr. W. F. Woodard, vice-president, and Mr. E. A. Darden, secretary-treasurer.

Off to Atlanta.

Secretary Barlow will attend the Convention of the Southern Commercial Secretaries will convene in Atlanta Tuesday and Wednesday.

MEXICANS CAUSE

SERIOUS CONCERN

Washington, May 23.—Official advices from various parts of Mexico, which have been received here daily for the past two weeks indicate the situation in the northern part of that country is due to the operations of Francisco Villa, and is more serious than have hitherto been reported. It was learned today from an authoritative source that Villa and his organized force of rebels was now threatening parts of Durango, as well as Chihuahua to the north.

American mining men it was learned have asked for special trains to be ready to remove them and their families from the danger zone when Villa approaches. Officials asserted, however, that as yet no American had been molested by the Villistas and that Villa himself had treated all Americans with consideration. Some American property, has, however, been taken by the Villistas when they needed food, material and funds, and Villa has stated that this would be considered as a tax inasmuch as Carranza to whom they had been paying taxes, could no longer protect them.

The capture and sacking of Parral by Villistas has been confirmed in detail by reports received within the last three days. A number of other important places are said to have been taken by the rebels and in each instance the federal garrison went over to the Villistas with little opposition. The situation in Chihuahua City is said to be grave. Villa forces threaten to take that city soon, according to the advices and will have little difficulty in doing so as Villa is said to have agents in the city at present working with the federal garrison in an effort to have them lay down arms after a mere pretense of fighting. Villa, himself, it was learned through an authoritative advice today, is now at the head of a large force at Gomez Farias, only six miles from Torreon.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

If you continue to run your automobiles without having them numbered and lighted to conform with the law, I shall be compelled to enforce the law. I find there are at least one-fourth of the automobiles in Wilson County that are not right and every one knows whether his car is right or not. I am requested by the State Highway Commission to look after this at once or my bond will be upset.

WANTED TO GET IN SUBWAY

And Hide from Attention Showered on Him, a Brave Soldier Boy.
New York, May 23.—Sergeant Alvin C. York, who received the congressional medal of honor for the mightiest single handed achievement of the war in which he killed 20 Germans, took 132 more prisoners and put 36 enemy machine gun nests out of business in the Argonne, wound up a day of unsuccessful effort to "get into New York City's subway" by hearing himself proclaimed the "greatest soldier in history," at a dinner of the Tennessee Society in his honor at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight.

York, second elder in the Church of Christ and Christian Union in the little Tennessee village of Pall Mall on the Lone Wolf river, was flanked on either side at the speaker's table by Major-General George Duncan and Vice-Admiral Albert Gleaves, commander of the cruiser and transport force of the navy who "sent him overseas and brought him back." Not only that but a telegram from the Secretary of War was read to him, in which Mr. Baker asked that his "very sincere re-lege year Professor William Howards" be personally conveyed to ell Pegrarn will be given the po-the "distinguished soldier."

York's toast was drunk standing, sandwiched in between one to President Wilson and another to Major-General Duncan and so many times was Sergeant York eulogized and spoken of, he heard the toastmaster hesitate as he started to introduce the 82nd division's commanding general as "Sergeant—er, that is—Major-General Duncan!"
Then it came York's turn to stand up and address the diners, he showed his modest simplicity:
"I guess you all understand that I'm just a soldier and not a speaker," he said. "I'm just a soldier boy—but I want to thank the society, and General Duncan, and I want you all to know that what you have done for me is highly appreciated and I never shall forget it. Thank you very much."

Today was one round of festivities for Sergt. York. From morning until long after his "regular bedtime" he was hurried about the city in taxicabs, touring cars and limousines. He was shunted from one place of interest and one reception to another until "eating time" at the Waldorf gave him a breathing spell. Then he announced modestly and with no offense intended, that all day long he had wanted to do "just one thing—get into the subway."

"That's one place I sure do want to see," he sighed tonight.
At dinner Sergeant York was hailed as the soldier "who has distinguished himself above all men in the war, in the achievement of the greatest individual deed in history."

PROFESSOR PEGRAM

PROFESSOR EMERITUS

At the close of the present colloquy Professor William Howards will be given the position of Professor Emeritus of Chemistry.—Professor Pegrarn, while he assumes an apparently nominal and honorary position, will still be the head of the Department of Chemistry and will do whatever work in this department that he may wish to do. He will be relieved, however, of any heavy burdens connected with the teaching work.

Professor Pegrarn stands out among the really remarkable characters in the educational history of the State. He has been connected with Trinity College as instructor and professor for nearly half a century. No one can estimate the value or extent of his work. For many generations he has had a wonderful influence on the student body at Trinity College. A scientist of thoro and far reaching information, he is at the same time a man of profound convictions and high faith. This rare combination has caused him to be of more than ordinary influence in a world of changing thought and shifting religious opinions. The students who have been influenced by this "friend of those who would live in the spirit" are legion.

The class of 1873 of which professor Pegrarn was member has furnished more than one extraordinary man to the world. Perhaps the best known of these in Senator Furnifold M. Simmons, constructive leader of Democratic policies in North Carolina, and national figure second to none. Senator Simmons has played a leading part in the marvelous task which has occupied the attention of the country in recent years.

It is of interest to note that Dr. George B. Pegrarn is a distinguished educator connected with one of the leading universities of the country. He is at present Dean of the Department of Applied Sciences of Columbia University, New York City.
