The Sans Souci P. O. Mr. Sallenger Replies to Mr. Williams

Mr. Editor:

In your issue of Jan. 3rd, there was an article concerning the Post office at Sans Souci over the signature of J. T. Williams, which was wholly uncalled for and misleading in the extreme, and in behalf of the majority of the patrons of this office, I ask for space in which to present the true state of affairs.

First: Mr. Williams says he was appointed postmaster here in 1897 by the good people of this community, Let us see who those good people were. In the campaign of 1896 J. T William claimed to be a Populist but said he was for Br, an, Woodard and free silver. Just as soon as the smoke of battle had cleared away and the result of the election became known he (Williams), proclaimed himself a life time Republican subsequently proving to the satisfaction of Ben Askew (the negro chairman of the Republi can party) and George H. White that he, Williams supported White for Congress, Quoting Ben As hew. "This was good enough Repub hean for me." Thus Mr. Williams retained.

Second, Mr. Williams says, other business forcnig him to resign, he recommended Mr. C. S. Barnacascel to the Department as a good, honest white man and true Democrat, but in stead of having Mr. Barnacascel for their postmaster, some of our good "white skinned negroes" have sought to appoint a negro to handle our mai Who are the "white-skinned no groes? And what made Mr. Williams

Mr. Williams began to realize that something had to be done. He resigned and recommended Barnacascel, his clerk in the office, with the pledge that he (Barnacascel) should keep the office on his (Williams) land being equivalent to Williams retaining the office, himself His idea being to get Barnacascel appointed for the coming four years. Just after the election, when the result became known, Mr. Williams rebuilt his mill and recalled his resignation, business became dull again.

Mr. Williams told who he recommended to be postmaster at Sans Souci but failed to tell who tthe feation recommended. H e a tempted prominent patrons of the Sans Souci and Stokes!

About two weeks after these petitions were forwarded, George White Jan. 21, 1901. offered the appointment to W. Etheridge, a very honorable colored man. Etheridge favored the removal of the office to its old site, so consulted me at once asking me to let him have a house in which to keep the office, should he get the appoint ment. I in turn sonsulted several the best patrons and we agreed that if Etheridge received the appointment we would accept him.

Lastly Etheridge forwarded another petitition signed by eighteen or 20 colored patrons. No white man signed the petition nor asked for the appointment. George White is the only man that has tried to appoint negro, so far as I know.

If Mr. Williams considers Ethe eridge's appointment a "diabolical scheme," and says he is not in any connected with it he asserts what is untrue, for he (Williams) did help to elect the fusion ticket in 1896, George White included. Now let the "true
