Wide-awake Aulander

Graded School is An Assured Thing. Other News of Interest.

Windsor Ledger:

The County ought to keep posted in regard to the advancement which Aulander is making, and so I thought if you would help me I'd tell the people what we are doing up here.

The thing of first importance is a Graded School. We are glad to be able to say that that seems to be an assured thing. A great deal of work has already been done in remodeling the school building. A Principal and other Teachers have been engaged; and we expect to be able to open up in time. We wish to say right here and now, if you people in this or the adjoining Counties have boys and girls to educate, send them to us here in Aulander. We propose to do just as well for them, and do it for a great deal less expense, as any of the schools of the same kind in the state. Patronize home industry, provided it is just good as that from a distance.

Our new town officers seem to be giving satisfaction, all things continue as they were, except some of the bridges.

Miss Bessie Hoggard, one of Aulander's most attractive daughters, is in attendance at the Chataqua in New York.

Miss Rosa Bynum, one of our many school teachers, began the summer session of her school to-day. It is needless to say that we are sure she will warm to her work. She has done that already.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. White expects to leave this week for a stay of several days at Beach and suburbs. We want them to send us a "croaker"

The Ladies Missionary Society of Aulander, have decided to educate a native child in one of the Missionary schools in China. They have most of the money for the first year's expense already in hand; now they want to learn the name of the child.

The Ladies Society of Oak Grove, have just ordered, through Mrs. W. L. Britt of Aulander a new Organ for their church. This is a very commendable action.

CALEDONIA COTTON.

Turns over $43,000 to the State Auditor.

Prison Farm Has Excellent Success with Its Crops. Work 240 Convicts Make its Own Fertilizers.

Superintendent Mann, of the Penitentiary, handed over a check to the State Auditor yesterday for $18,000 making about $43,000 that he has turned over to the State within a month for cotton alone.

This led the reporter to interrogate Supt. Mann, relative to the condition and size of the present crops on the Caledonia Farm, where the cotton was raised, and how the staple is selling.

The cotton went off at this rate: 400 bales for 9 1/2 cents; 300 bales for 10 1/2 cents; and 318 bales for 10 7/8 cents. The average weight of the bales were 500 pounds.

There were too many cabbage a few days ago, more than could be consumed in that day by the convicts and the superfluous lot being sold, brought readily $115. The farm also disposes of corn, shucks, fodder and pea vine hay at very profitable prices.

This year are 1300 acres planted in cotton, which in its prime, being waist high and better than is usually the case at this time of the year.

Supt. Mann said the farm mixes its own fertilizers and makes it as cheap as can the fertilizer mills, with vast economy to the farm.

The ladies have "Old Soldiers Day" in charge—the Daughters of the Confederacy.

And when we say the ladies are running it—we feel that the old soldiers know what that means. It means a success.

Next Thursday is the day—the 3rd day of August and the first Thursday in the month.

We will have a public dinner and every body is invited to bring baskets—full of something good to eat.

Prominent men have been invited to speak and will attend. General W. P. Roberts, the youngest living Confederate General has been asked and is expected. General Roberts is a good speaker, one the old soldiers will admire. He talks straight from the shoulder—and don't mind saying black's black and white's white.

A base-ball game between Windsor and Todds' X Roads is being arranged.

The Naval Reserves will join the old soldiers in their parade and the Brass Band, playing southern airs will head the procession.

Dinner will be spread in the court house yard and the old town will be dressed in stars and bars, yet with the flag of reunion flying in all her glory.

Let every body come. We want five thousand people here that day—and we want every body to bring a basket. Make it a great big picnic.

Remember—August the 3rd to-day week—Thursday.

often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries use Buckle's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O. caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Buckle's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and bears acts like magic. 25c at Windsor Pharmacy, druggist.

The Use of Cotton Stalks.

The Need of An Industry And the Value of Cotton Stalks.

Mr. Editor: I have read in your columns about the necessity of starting an industry of some kind in the town of Windsor, but it seems to meet with no response.

Now, sir, it is absolutely necessary for the town to take some action of this kind as a means of self preservation. Windsor, at present is doing fairly well, but unless some steps are taken I venture to assert, that 12 months hence will see the town past the zenith of its prosperity. I am not an alarmist, nor have any axe to grind, but it is well to consider facts. In the first place this town is dependent upon cotton for two thirds of its support. The southern states produced last year 12,000,000 bales. The American mills consumed 4,000,000 bales, leaving 8,000,000 bales for the foreign markets. Liverpool has been the best consumer for American cotton in the past, but the day has already past when American cotton was king. In Liverpool last year I saw ship loads of cotton unloaded on the docks that was not American cotton, and the spinners in Lancashire told me that they preferred the Egyptian cotton because it has longer strands, if that be so as soon as the supply of British grown cotton is sufficient to supply the English market, will find way into other European markets and with the southern states growing 3 times as much cotton as the American markets will consume, how can prices go up. True some of our statesmen are telling us of the great possibilities of the markets of the far east, in a few years time cotton will be raised and manufactured in the far east so we cannot expect much from the far eastern markets. In the face of the foregoing facts it is time we were looking for a remedy, and I would suggest that the farmer utilize the stalks of the cotton plant, which are destroyed in the southern states that can be made to yield $200,000.00 a year. That is a big figure to make each year when you hear so much about farming not paying and here is Windsor's opportunity to put up a factory for the utilization of the cotton stalks. The first in the field will be the ones to make money, and it would be an industry without a competitor within 600 miles. Labor is cheap here and the products could be put upon the market at a profit right here in the southern states.
