Relay for Life □ May 19

Lest we forget...

We began this event in North Carolina - and we did so out of love, compassion and caring. We walk and raise funds for our friends, our loved ones and even ourselves.

It has not always been easy. It has not always been convenient. It has been hard work and, sometimes, draining work.

Even so... we took on the task out of love and more than two decades later that love has not waned, nor has the desire for a cure faltered in any way.

We've celebrated with those who have beaten the dreaded disease, and mourned those who lost the battle.

In the past few years we have lost many of our leaders in the fight, but as they would want... we fight on.

We continue to fight back... We continue to celebrate more birthdays... We continue to live for the day when the battle is won. We are... Bertie Relay For Life.

Some of the many reasons we Relay...
