Entertains at House Party

Mrs. Henry Slagle entertained a dozen of her friends last week with a delightful house party at her home on Cartoogechaye. The guests found the cool shady lawns under the old evergreens with the little brook running through, an ideal place for warm July days. Mrs. Slagle's flower gardens, rock gardens and pools are surrounded by both wild and cultivated flowers. In fact, the place is now called "the arboretum" on account of the many trees and shrubs and flowers she has brought from woods and fields and planted in her gardens.

The mornings were spent under the trees while the ladies sewed for the Red Cross as they listened to Mrs. Callahan read "The Road Builder."

One afternoon the combined weight of the party was summed up and Mrs. Slagle's twelve guests were found to weigh 1,901 pounds. Their combined ages were 833 years. The mothers claimed 69 children and 78 grandchildren.

The house party broke up at the end of the week with many regrets that good things have to end but there will be no end to the pleasant recollections of the happy week.

RELIEF BILL TO HELP N. C.

asphalt surface will be laid. Otherwise, the asphalt will be placed on the road next spring or summer. He said that state funds have been made available to complete this road.

"The expenditure of these sums ought to help the unemployment situation," Senator Bailey said. The North Carolina senator said further that the relief bill provides an additional $300,000,000 for loans to states for direct relief measures.

"What sum North Carolina asks for remains to be seen, but there should be no difficulty in obtaining all necessary funds required to prevent suffering," Senator Bailey said.

"We will also derive funds from the Home Loan Discount Bank bill," Senator Bailey said. "I should not be surprised if our Building and Loan associations and other similar institutions call for at least $2,000,000."

Relief On Debts

Senator Bailey explained that the purpose of the Home Loan Discount Bank bill is to relieve, to some degree, home-owners who owe mortgage debts on their homes, as well as to aid in building homes. Senator Bailey explained that this bill carried a "rider," enabling national banks to issue $900,000,000 additional currency—being a further effort to relax the credit situation.

"All who desire detailed information on these subjects may make request of any North Carolina member of Congress," Senator Bailey said. "Either senator, or any Congressman, will be glad to send copies of regulations to any applicant as soon as they shall be available. Requests for special information will also be attended to promptly."

Senator Bailey is expected in Raleigh early this week. He said that as soon as he arrives in Raleigh, he will confer with Governor O. Max Gardner with view to having the citizens of North Carolina realize soundly upon these measures of relief.

HEAVY LOSSES CITED BY GRAY

DELAY LIKELY IN T. F. CASE

buses. A suggestion by Dr. S. H. Lyle that bus and truck lines be taxed commensurately with the railroads met with hearty approval of the meeting. Dr. Lyle expressed the opinion that trucks and buses operated by commercial transportation companies should be required to pay taxes not only on gasoline, tag and franchise licenses but should also be required to pay taxes equal to those paid by railroads on their equipment and real estate, including roadbed.

W. T. Lee, chairman of the North Carolina corporation commission, told The Franklin Press Saturday that if the federal court at Gainesville should grant Mr. Gray's petition, the Interstate Commerce Commission in all likelihood would notify the corporation commissions of North Carolina and Georgia and probably would ask for their recommendations in the case. In any event, he said, the people of the communities served by the "T. F." would be given due opportunity to file an answer in the case and to take whatever action they should deem fit.

Attending the mass meeting in Clayton, Monday afternoon, from Franklin were the following: R. D. Sisk, J. E. Lancaster, R. S. Jones, G. A. Jones, D. D. Rice, Gus Leach, B. W. Johnson, M. L. Dowdle, Dr. S. H. Lyle, J. E. Rickman, John Wasilik, J. S. Conley, J. E. Perry, S. L. Franks, H. T. Sloan, F. S. Sloan and T. W. Angel, Jr.

A copy of the receiver's petition to the federal court was read to the meeting by G. A. Jones. A reprint of this appears in this week's issue of The Press.

tory income showing of the Railway, past, present and prospective, as set forth above, the Interstate Commerce Commission could not make the necessary finding as to ability of the Receiver to repay the loan within or at the end of the term thereof. The Receiver, therefore, reached the positive conclusion that, under the circumstances as stated, it would be a futile undertaking to make formal application for the loan, and no such application has been made.

The territory traversed by the railway is served by an improved hard-surfaced highway over which busses and trucks are operated regularly. The competition of busses and trucks accounts in some measure at least, for the declining revenues of the Railway, and indicates that the territory served by the Railway will not be left entirely without transportation facilities when operation of the Railway ceases. The substantial facts with respect to competition of busses and trucks are as follows:

Carolina Short Line operates passenger bus service between Atlanta, Ga., and Asheville, N. C., via Cornelia, Clayton, and Franklin, regular schedule two trips a day each way.

Jack Rabbit Motor Express Company operates freight service between Asheville, N. C., and Atlanta, Ga., via Franklin, Clayton and Cornelia one trip a day each way.

way—six day service.

The following wholesale firms deliver by truck at stations Cornelia to Franklin:

Carolina Provision Company, Cornelia, Ga., and Franklin, N. C. Talmadge Brothers, Baldwin, Ga. Webb and Crawford Athens, Ga. The C. M. Miller Company and Cornelia Wholesale Company, both located at Cornelia, Ga., operate entirely within the State of Georgia; that is, Cornelia, Ga., to Dillard, Ga.

Dillsboro, N. C., a station on the Southern Railway, Murphy Division, receives considerable freight for Franklin, truck service being operated between Dillsboro and Franklin. Deliveries are made at Franklin by trucks from wholesale houses at Asheville, Waynesville and Sylva, N. C., some of them operating into Georgia.

Habersham Mills, located at Habersham, Georgia, received practically all cotton by truck.

Fruits and vegetables, breads and cakes, soft drinks, household goods, etc., are delivered to a large extent by trucks.

The estimate of monthly cash deficits for the remainder of the year 1932, heretofore set out, shows that unless the Receiver is provided at once with cash funds, he will not be in position by the end of July, 1932, to meet current costs of operation; namely, payrolls, cross ties, bridge lumber, traffic balances, etc.

In view of the facts heretofore set forth it appears that unless the Receiver is supplied at once with the necessary cash funds, he cannot continue operation of the Railway and at the same time pay current legitimate costs thereon. And the Receiver is of the opinion that the further operation of said railroad is not to the advantage of the creditors of the Receiver and the Tallulah Falls Railway Company, for the reason that it is utterly futile to operate said property in the future except at a large loss.

The substance of this application has already been submitted to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, plaintiff in the receivership proceeding; and to Southern Railway Company, the largest creditors; and the filing of this application with the Court has their approval.

WHEREFORE, the receiver prays this Honorable Court to issue an order providing that the Receiver be authorized and directed to make application to the Interstate Commerce Commission, under paragraph 18 of Section 1 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, for a certificate that the present or future public convenience or necessity permits the abandonment of operation of the railway.

Attorneys for the Receiver.
