

Rotary Club To Propagate Pheasants From Mt. Mitchell

The Franklin Rotary club has started a project which will soon make the Holly Springs school district a rabbit and cat creek, a hunters preserve for pheasants. Recently the following farmers each a section of the Chinese pheasant which came from the Macon county farm, Robert J. N. B. ...

These farmers further agree that when the birds reach a suitable number, as determined by a state game expert, that they, the farmers, will charge a fee and set a bag limit according to state laws for hunting in this section.

Make Agreement

The leading workers and members on the committee for more game in Macon county in the Rotary club are: John Herbert Stone, John B. Byrne, J. S. Porter, Sam L. Franks, J. E. Perry, Don Young, Earle H. Meacham, Edward Eaton, Howard Valentine, Jess S. Conley and Fred S. Sloan.

This plan will work on the same basis that the Franklin Rotary club's purchased pig clubs have. The plan has put a large number of purebred pigs in all sections of the county and this plan within the next few years will stock the county with Chinese pheasants.

BREED COWS TO FRESHEN IN THE FALL

THERE is a marked financial advantage in having the greater number of the cows in the herd fresh in the fall. This is the opportune season of the year to consider this question, since cows, to freshen in September, October and November (the best period for freshening) must be bred in December, January, and February.

One advantage of having calves come in the fall is that it virtually gives a cow two periods of freshening. The first of these is the period following the dropping of her calf in the fall during which period for several months the milk flow is stimulated, as a result of the recent birth of the calf. As spring approaches there starts a natural tendency for the milk flow to drop off. Then the spring grazing season arrives and the cow has the run of fresh green pastures resulting in another stimulation of the milk flow very much like a second period of freshening.

Another important point in favor of fall freshening is that the bulk of the milk and butterfat production comes in the fall and winter when prices are highest.

For these very good reasons dairy farmers should make their plans now to breed a goodly proportion of the cows during the coming late fall and winter months so the calves will be dropped in the fall.—SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST.

TO KEEP EGGS FRESH

In the spring eggs are selling at a low price while in the fall and early winter the price is better, therefore Mrs. Lelia R. Mize, Georgia extension economist in curb markets, declares that it is a good market practice to preserve eggs in the spring for family needs in the fall, so as to release for sale the output of fresh eggs at that time.

Eggs preserved in water glass or lime solution in the spring months will be satisfactory for cooking purposes, the economist says. The method as outlined by Mrs. Mize is as follows: Make a solution of water glass, using nine quarts water which has been boiled and cooled to a quart of sodium silicate. This is harmless and odorless and will cost about 30 cents per quart. The solution will be enough to put up 10 or 15 dozen eggs, making it cost about two or three cents to preserve these eggs. The eggs should be placed in an earthenware jar, end down. Make sure the jar has no odor about it when preserving the eggs. Fresh eggs may be added to the jar at any time. However, it is necessary that the solution cover the eggs at all times by about two inches. Keep the jar covered with a piece of heavy paper. The jar may be stored away in a cool, dry place.

Many farmers are learning the value of infertile eggs. As soon as the hatching season is past they separate the males from the flock, penning them up, and after two weeks they are positive of gathering only infertile eggs, which will be exceptionally good in the fall if preserved by the water glass method.

A large increase in the amount of ground dolomitic limestone used in fertilizer this season is reported by North Carolina farmers. The limestone is used as filler and as a supplement to the usual plant food materials.

Wife—(tearfully)—You have broken the promise you made me. Hubby—Don't cry, I'll make you another.—Pathfinder

THE HOME GARDEN

How is your "Live-At-Home" program working out for this spring? This is a good year to play safe by growing plenty in the home garden.

Often the same vegetables from the home garden get a little tiresome month after month. Why not try a new vegetable or two this year?

Very few people have eaten broccoli—not one in a hundred. This is a fine vegetable for the family table, especially when served with hollandaise sauce or melted butter. Broccoli is easy to raise, and it grows well in the mountain country. Try some this year, and pick another new vegetable or two for the garden.

Then too, be sure to get your seed man to furnish you with two or three varieties of such staple vegetables as beans. Then you will enjoy your garden over a much longer season.

In having out the garden, don't forget the part you are going to use for planting winter vegetables and greens. With a climate like western North Carolina's, there ought to be something coming from the garden or from your vegetable storage house every month in the year.—FARMER'S FEDERATION NEWS.

A girl from Boston was visiting her relatives on a farm in Vermont for the first time. She became very much interested in all the animals. One evening, as she stood at the back door, talking to her uncle Silas, she heard the low, mournful note of a cow. ### Macon To Have 30 Men In Labor Camps

Miss Rachel Davis, superintendent of the Macon county welfare department, received a letter Friday from forestry authorities saying that Macon county would be entitled to 30 young men for the labor camps instead of 24 as was first announced.

Relief directors in the various counties have been asked to have their recruits undergo a preliminary physical examination before they are sent to Asheville. In the event they pass the final examination which will be given at Asheville they will then be sent to Fort Bragg for two weeks of physical conditioning after which they will proceed to some one of the various working camps in western North Carolina.
