BY REV. N. C. DUNCAN

Several months ago I had the privilege of seeing the picture "The Sign of the Cross," which was shown at Franklin last week. The reaction of many people to it was that "it was so terrible." It was exactly that, but it portrays a type of Christianity which had the vitality and courage to "endure." By contrast it shows our weak, flabby Christianity. We like to sing about a cross; not to carry it in our lives. Generations have lived on the faith and power created by those early Christians. We are content to recite their faith. The time has come when the Christian world must create and express some faith of its own. Our outward structures have gone as far as they can until invested with a new power of inward life. "The Sign of the Cross" is a great picture, and I trust that it will have a wide showing.

The Christian church must become more vital in its faith and power, or its candlestick will be removed. It is time to stop argument, stop passing laws, and live.

GOD ANSWERS PRAYER
"Let us come in full assurance, We whose hearts are purified By the precious blood of Jesus. And in whom His word abide. Great things let us ask undimmed Through our faith in Him made bold;
He is faithful that has promised. He will nothing good withhold." There is more done by earnest prayer to God than this world dreams of. If this world with all of its problems might know the power of prayer and come with faith in God many of the world's great problems would be solved. "Prayer changes things and people." Let's pray.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

BY ANN PAGE

WE, as Americans, do not realize how fortunate we are to have all the peaches we can eat without straining our food budgets. Frequently in England they cost a shilling apiece.

This week ushers in the real peach season and it is the time to enjoy them in all the variety of ways in which they can be served; whole, sliced, in tarts or pies, shortcake, gelatin desserts and ice cream. The woman who likes to can her own peaches can also begin to do so either this week or next. Pickled whole peaches, like watermelon rind, are delicious. Use vinegar, sugar and a bag of whole pickling spice.

There is little difference in cost between good home made jellies and those you can buy. If you prefer to make your own, currants are here to open the jelly season and their season is short.

Here are the Quaker Maid Kitchen dinner menus.

A CROSS-COUNTRY JAUNT

Dear Mr. Johnson:—

If you will allow me space in your paper I will tell the folks of our country a few incidents which made my trip to Colorado so enjoyable and unusually scenic.

When I left Asheville, N. C., for Knoxville, Tenn., on the train it was early in the morning, about 7 o'clock, and I was wondering how far I could get that day, for I was going to "hitch-hike" over to Memphis.

Well when I arrived in Knoxville it was about noon. Being this late I got a "Jolly Cab," to take me out to the city limits. I waited a few minutes and along came a friendly guy who gave me a nice lift, but not to Nashville, because I didn't get to Nashville until the next afternoon.

Getting a tourist cabin early in the afternoon I prepared for an early rise next morning. Well, next morning about 5 o'clock found me on the road headed for Memphis. Gee! but the sun beamed down on me and I began to really turn brown.

About noon that day found me down at Jackson, after a guy carried me to a big "oil" bridge, then turned back because the toll fee was so expensive. I had to walk across the long toll bridge and be charged the large sum of 5 cents for walking across, but the good part was, a car drove up a (V-8 coupe) headed for Memphis and I was gladly given a lift.

After a nice rest in Brownsville, Tenn., Friday night, we started for Memphis. Arriving in Memphis about 8 a. m. I visited an old friend for a few minutes then I caught the Middle Atlantic Greyhound bus for West Memphis. In the meantime I was enjoying the refreshments of a cool glass of beer at the many convenient places to obtain it.

Now let's get down to Little Rock, Ark. While waiting in West Memphis I got acquainted with a boy from Chicago. After a little "chat" with him I strolled up the road, all the time watching for a ride. Just about the time I decided to perch myself on a bridge to rest along came this newly made friend in a car and said, "Let's go to Little Rock pal." Oh! my, but I wasn't anytime getting aboard for a nice 204 mile ride.

During our trip we enjoyed lunch together and also observed the cotton fields that were almost drying up for want of rain. About 4 p. m. we drove into Little Rock. After having been informed by Mr. W. J. West of Franklin that Furman West lived at Little Rock I decided to visit him. Several inquiries led me to the man better known as "Judge West." He was a large fellow in figure, as well as law. Mrs. West is also an Arkansas graduate of law and they made a fine pair.

Saturday night found me sitting in a hand of contract bridge with Dr. Scroggins (One of Little Rock's leading physicians and also the owner of Little Rock's private hospital) as my partner. A few hours were spent with very much interest in our game, until at last we were losing to our opponents, Mrs. Scroggins and Mr. West. Then our next main attraction was the bed.

Sunday was spent talking about the folks back home and also a little more bridge. Monday brought me out of Little Rock, after having spent a very much enjoyed weekend. Monday night with its sultry winds drove me to bed early, with a burning face and blistered arms.

Tuesday at 5 a. m. I was leaving Dardenells, Ark., and my second ride brought me to, McAlester, Okla., in the afternoon. In my gazing the broad open country from a little filling station on a hill, I saw an automobile marking the country with a large fog of dust. Gradually the car began to slow down, and he stopped right at me, and stepping aboard I was again on the road for another 44-mile ride to Holdenville, Okla., but I was there so quick I didn't get much rest on the way. I stopped at the McFarlin ranch where I was acquainted, and there I stayed the night. But being close to a female friend I decided to make an unexpected call, visiting with her out on a little knoll until the moon laughed at us, we decided to "turn in."

Next morning at the ranch the telephone rang early, a call for me, to my surprise my girl friend's father wanted me to help him in his cotton field. I accepted and went to work. Well the next three days were fierce because of a 112 degree temperature and a big, long box handle, but it helped me.

Saturday found me stiff and sore, but I started for Oklahoma City. Good luck was with me and I arrived in the city about 1 p. m.

While in Oklahoma City I almost burned up, but after a long talk with an old acquaintance I headed for Dodge City, Kansas. Stopping in Bethany, Okla., with an old man who proved to be one of my best friends on my trip, of whom I had never known, was the man

Woman's Christian Temperance Union as a reminder to the public that even if "repeal of prohibition would mean $1,000,000,000 in taxes," as the wets claim, it wouldn't be worth it.

"Would America be willing to license a business which—

"Destroys more lives than war?"

"Annually organized an army of drunkards?"

"Deprived hundreds of thousands of children of an education?"

"Created a poverty from drink unknown since prohibition?"

"Caused arrests for drunkenness at a rate double that since prohibition?"

"Killed through alcoholism at double the rate under prohibition?"

"Took so much from the pay envelope every week that following prohibition national purchasing power benefiting other industries increased $5,000,000,000 a year?"

"Offered strong competition to every store selling food, shoes, clothes, washing machines, home betterments of all kinds?"

"Dodged taxes; depressed values; boycotted decent citizens; sold liquor on Sundays; to minors and to women, in violation of the law; which made an extra profit on organized commercialized vice and gambling?"

Tells How She Los' 15 Lbs. of FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss E. L. P.)

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The sir salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.

Frank Lifter has moved his family to Ritter Camp. Mr. Lifter is a log scaler.

Dr. Killian, our company physician, spent July fourth on business in Franklin, accompanied by Mrs. F. W. Tittle.

Announcing

In view of the fact that the Town of Franklin has voted to sell to the Nantahala Power and Light Company its municipal hydro-electric system, this company desires to announce the inauguration of new rate schedules, effective immediately.

In most instances these rates are lower than those which have been in effect in the past. This is in keeping with our policy to make the use of electricity as economical and attractive as possible. We believe that the new rates will enable many to use electricity for cooking and refrigeration, as well as for lighting.

Let us assure you that we are glad of the opportunity to serve Franklin and desire to cooperate in every way possible for the advancement of the community.

We have an office located here for your convenience and Mr. C. W. Allen, the manager, will be glad to serve you. We will be glad to explain the new rate schedules to anyone calling at this office.
