Cattle lice are worse in the spring months. Farmers wishing to keep their animals from licking and rubbing the hair off their skin should wash infested stock with a solution of one ounce of sodium fluoride to a gallon of water. The liquid should be rubbed in all over the body. Cleaning and disinfecting stalls is also important, advises Professor Robert H. Ruffner.

Muse's Corner MAD MARCH LULLABY

By Bess H. Hines
Rockaby moon
In the mad March sky,
Rockaby, rockaby, rockaby!

Scudaby cloud
In the mad March sky
Like a frightened hare
At the wolf-wind's cry,
Scudaby, scudaby, scudaby!

Rockaby moon
In the mad March trees
Like a slim boat tossed
On terrible seas,
Rockaby, rockaby, rockaby!
