New "Fountain of Youth"

SCIENCE now tells us that if Ponce de Leon had eaten common foods containing vitamin G he wouldn't have crossed the uncharted seas in search of the fountain of youth in Florida. Although specific use of this vitamin has not been developed fully as yet, its discoverer asserts that it promises "lengthened youth for the human race."

Will not the adolescent in their eager pursuit of maturity forego tomatoes, spinach, liver, yeast and other essential foods containing the youth-preserving and old-age-defying vitamin G? And will not men and women who should be growing up gorge themselves on these selfsame foods, thus depriving the country of all maturity and making it a land of eternal youth?

Here is glorious news for those who desire eternal youth, but it is likely to complicate rather than simplify one of the greatest problems of life—that of growing old.

Should this news get abroad, the old will act childish to escape the spinach diet and spinsters will not dare ask for vitamin G foods for fear of confessing the advancing years.

Will science never learn to leave well enough alone—Here is a system that has endured through the ages, and for all the complaints heard from both young and old it has worked well. Science might improve upon nature but youth would still look wistfully forward and old age wistfully backward.

More men of standing would run for office if politics wanted men who stood anywhere.

Things are so much better some householders have moved the wolf out to the vacant half of the garage.

If he says the world will be ruined if it doesn't adopt his plan, the plan usually is no better than the prophecy.

Times are so much better, they say that some of the extechnocrats have found jobs.

An Open Letter

John H. Thomas Replies to Charlie L. Blaine

Franklin, N. C.
June 18, 1934

Mr. Charlie Blaine:
Regarding yours of the 11th. After so long I will draw my old runty pen on you, the same pen I laid Uncle Brag Higdon in the shade with—poor fellow. It might be well for you to talk with him if you have an idea of repeating your write-up.

Your three post cards and registered letter acknowledged—Card No. 1 inviting Mrs. Thomas & me up to see you, No. 2 asking what date we could go up, No. 3 to please let you know date & that you wanted to be at home & talk to me about your campaign, registered letter the 25th asking me not to say anything about that lumber scrape I defended you in & the sheep you stole & set a feast for friends which you thought that I was the only one knew about it. Also you mentioned the $25.00 for which you was due me for the steer you ploughed the summer of 1900 & the meat & meal you borrowed to make your crop on & that you would make all the above o. k. & set me up to a nice check if I would quit taking a stand against you. But with a good conscience I felt we very much needed the best men for commissioners.

As the most severe dog bite I ever had was one that seemed very friendly in meeting me, then dropped behind as I approached the house.

Charlie, I am very much surprised at your entering the literary field as you have, remembering when you & I was in school. I suppose you were 15 & would come in the school room with black strap molasses all over your chin & one suspender hanging down and the school teacher trying to get you interested in Geography. He asked you how far you had ever been beyond home & your reply was 3 miles to Franklin, & he being acquainted with your uncle told about a sow he ranged on the Nantahalas 15 miles away which knew more Geography than you did cause he had traveled farther.

You would make goo goo eyes at the girls & the teacher told you you were more interested in Girlology than Geography & made the statement that it would be soon enough for you to take up Girlology at 21.

Charlie you say that I am a wife-made farmer. Mrs. Blaine is a woman of ability but so far has failed to make you work at all, as last winter your boys cleared up a new ground near the house & you had done nothing all spring except sit upon the stumps until your wife took her axe & sharpened the stumps & put a stop to your easy seats.

Yes you seem to have an interest in the county home & from what I understand Mrs. Blaine is planning on putting you there soon. Should I be so unfortunate as to go there and find you already there I shall ask the manager one special privilege—that he give me a separate apartment. If not granted I shall rebel.

You speak of getting some local painter to paint the organ parts. Would John Edwards be satisfactory or did he ever do any work for you. Ask him about a box of candy & how he paid me for it.

It looks as if what you accuse me of is true, & your case being facts which I defy you to deny, that we both will have to hire a lawyer in the wind-up.

Resp.,
Jon H. Thomas

Fat Folks Lose Weight—Feel Fine

Lose Fat This Summer—Keep Cool
—Look and Feel Younger

Mrs. Jessie Martin of San Francisco is happy because she has discovered the right, safe way to reduce—read her letter:

"I have taken Kruschen Salts a month and find great benefit. I have lost 14 lbs. in that time and would lose more if I stuck to a diet as I should. I take them every morning regular and hope others will profit by them as I have."

We have letters from men and women who have lost as much as 100 pounds of fat—from people who have reduced high blood pressure—from folks who have no more bloating or shortness of breath.

Kruschen helps stomach, liver, bowels to function properly—increases physical attractiveness all while losing unhealthy fat. Just take a half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—get it at druggists everywhere. (adv.)
