

Neglected Repairs Cause Heavier Property Costs

While property ownership is a very stable and attractive investment, two serious items must be kept in mind, according to G. J. DeGelleke, director of the Central States Division of the American Institute of Architects. They are:

1. Depreciation, due to the wearing out of the buildings, which reduces their values.

2. Obsolescence, due to buildings not meeting the requirements of the times and therefore not producing reasonable income.

"Neglecting repairs results in an accumulation of expense which is a great deal larger than the cost of repairs as required from time to time," Mr. DeGelleke says. "In some cases it necessitates reconstructing parts of the buildings.

"The condition of buildings have a great effect upon the people who occupy them and when well taken care of, create more healthful conditions, more confidence and contentment, strengthen ideals, and intensify interest in homes. Thus will be developed better citizens physically, mentally and morally.

"People are affected by the condition of the buildings they occupy fully as much as they are by the clothes they wear, their associates and their manner of life."

The National Housing Act, Mr. DeGelleke declared, provides the ways and means for owners of property to save the values of their investments, and while benefiting themselves they also provide work and income for a great body of their fellow men.

Students To Attend Livestock Exhibit

On Wednesday, Oct. 17, the second, third, and fourth year students of vocational agriculture and the second year students of home economics class of the Franklin high school will leave the school building at noon to attend a live stock and meat exhibit at Clayton, Ga.

This exhibit is being put on by the White Provision company, of Atlanta, and will contain the different grades of beef cattle. One will also see the carcass of each grade of cattle so as to see the type and quality of meat each possesses. The display will contain some prime western cattle, prime eastern cattle, and many other grades, as well as native cattle. A refrigerator truck used for hauling the dressed meat from Atlanta to the different points of distribution will also be in Clayton for inspection.

How To Use the Bible

When in sorrow read John 14. When you have sinned read Psalm 51. When you worry read Matthew 6:19-34. Before church service read Psalm 84. When you have the blues read Psalm 34. When God seems far away read Psalm 139. When you are discouraged read Psalm 40. If you want to be fruitful read John 15. When doubts come upon you try John 7:17. When you are lonely or fearful read Psalm 231. When you forget your blessings read Psalm 103. For JESUS' idea of religion read James 1:19-27. For JESUS' idea of a Christian read Matthew 5. When your faith needs stirring read Hebrew 11. When you feel down and out read Romans 8:31-39. When you want courage for your task read Joshua 1. When the world seems bigger than God read Psalm 90. When you want rest and peace read Matthew 2:5-30. When you want Christian assurance read Romans 8:1-30. For Paul's secret of happiness read Colossians 3:12-17. When you leave home for labor or travel read Psalm 121. When you grow critical read 1st Corinthians 13. When your prayers grow narrow or selfish read Psalms 67. For Paul's idea of Christianity read 2nd Corinthians 5:15-19.

Mrs. Henry Slagle Entertains Study Group

The Macon county British-Israel study group met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henry Slagle, "The Arboretum," on state highway No. 285 west of Franklin. This group of women has been meeting annually for three years for an intensive study of historical, geographic and prophetic data bearing on the theory that the Anglo-Saxon peoples are "God's covenant people."

In spite of a steady downpour of rain, a large crowd of women gathered for the meeting, which, according to report, was "a feast of reason and a flow of soul."

At noon Mrs. Slagle, assisted by Mrs. Joe Setser, Mrs. Jess Slagle and Mrs. Robert Patton, served a bountiful dinner. Those present were Mrs. A. M. Frye of Bryson City, Mrs. M. de Veaux Moore of Columbia, S. C., Mrs. Robert Patton, Mrs. Anne Phillips, Mrs. Mary I. Allman, Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, Mrs. Mamie A. Rogers, Mrs. Miza Crawford, Mrs. P. F. Callahan, Mrs. Joe Setser, Miss Annie Slagle, Mrs. John Dalrymple, Mrs. Henry Slagle, Misses Jane and Margaret Setser and Nancy Jones.

The middle chapter would be Romans XVIII if there were a chapter more and Romans XIV if there were a chapter less. Middle verse of Acts XVII-17. Middle chapter of entire Bible is John VI-35. Middle verse is Psalm 118-8.

Burns Fatal

Negro Victim of Gasoline Explosion Dies

Oscar Ledford, 23-year-old negro, died at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in Angel hospital from burns he received about 10 days ago in a gasoline explosion.

Ledford was pouring gasoline into the vacuum tank of an automobile when another negro was said to have struck a match nearby, causing the gasoline to ignite. Ledford's clothing caught fire and he was badly burned about the body.

Ledford is survived by his mother, Rose Scruggs, a sister, Virginia Ledford, and his stepfather, Elbert Scruggs.

Camp-fire Dreams

BY MEREDITH A. JOHNSTON
Dedicated to Miss Shutts

"Camp-fire dreams" — Yes, but they're sweet to me —
When the logs in the fire burn merrily,
When the frosty winds turn the leaves to gold:
Then my old heart leaps like a lion bold.

"Camp-fire dreams"—Yes, when my old pipe's lit,
And the smoke curls upward; the fancies flit
Till a dream face out of the long ago
Smiles with her eyes and cheeks aglow.

"Ah, camp-fire dreams" — What would a man do
Without his camp-fire dreams when the smoke curls blue?
