Best Dressed—$50,000 and $27.92

NEW YORK . . . From Paris comes the cable that Mrs. Harrison Williams (lower right), an American woman, has for the second year in succession been named the best dressed woman in the world by the Dressmakers of Paris. From Chicago comes the report of four American girls age, 15 to 20 years, who have won 1934 national style championships in the annual 4-H Club competition.

The Paris cable names twelve in its world-wide selection of "best dressed" women. It is estimated these twelve women each spend at least $50,000 per year on clothes.

Westminster, S. C., are running a ten-days singing school at the Wesleyan church.
