

DR. HERBERT TO PREACH SUNDAY

Special Series of Services Planned at Methodist Church

Different organizations within the Franklin Methodist church are planning to sponsor the attendance at the special services to be held in the church each night next week. The Rev. James G. Huggin, Jr., prominent young Methodist minister and pastor of the Methodist church in Mt. Holly, N. C., is to be the preacher. It is expected that there will be large congregations present each night to hear Mr. Huggin.

The week of special services will begin Sunday morning with a sermon by the Rev. C. C. Herbert, D. D., father of the pastor of the Franklin Methodist church and pastor of Trinity Methodist church in Sumter, S. C. Dr. and Mrs. Herbert are staying for a brief period in their summer home at Lake Junaluska, and will come to Franklin for a week-end visit to their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Herbert, Jr. The sermon on Sunday morning will be the first which Dr. Herbert has preached in Franklin. The Methodist congregation is looking forward eagerly to hearing this distinguished minister.

Rev. Mr. Huggin will preach for the first time on Monday night, and will preach thereafter each night during the week at 8 p. m. The organizations which will sponsor the attendance are as follows: Monday night, June 3, Social Service Workers; Tuesday night, Men's Bible class; Wednesday night, Juniors and Intermediates, ages 9-15; Thursday night, Woman's Missionary society; Friday night, Epworth League; and Saturday night, board of stewards.

The annual conference of the Methodist church in Western North Carolina has recognized Mr. Huggin's outstanding ability by appointing him as a member of the important conference board of Christian education. He is not only a gifted pulpit orator, but he is also a pastor of ability. Within the past year at his present pastorate in Mt. Holly he has led his church in the paying off of a church debt of long standing. Bishop Paul B. Kern preached the dedicatory sermon at the church in Mt. Holly about three months ago when the church was dedicated.

A series of musical numbers is being planned for the special services by James B. Porter, organist and director of the choir at the Methodist church. Everyone is invited to all the services, which will continue through Sunday, June 9.

The route is over Route 3 to Atlanta, Route 8 to Lawrenceville, Route 23 through Gainesville, Cornelia and Clayton to the state line, Franklin being only a few miles over in North Carolina."

3 CEMETERIES BEING CLEANED

Relief Labor Employed On Improvement Projects

Twenty relief workers have been employed the past ten days in improving the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian cemeteries in Franklin. The work now is nearing completion and the old cemeteries, overgrown with brush and honeysuckle vines for years, have been greatly improved in appearance.

Approaches to the cemeteries and the paths between the grave plots have been cleared so that those wishing to visit the graves of loved ones may do so with ease. Grass is to be planted in the cemeteries with the seed furnished by the churches to which they belong.

The projects were undertaken with funds set aside for road improvement and beautification.
