EDITED BY MRS. T. C. HARBISON

HIGHLANDS COUNTRY CLUB OPENS FOR SEASON

Highlands Country club opened for the season Saturday, June 1. The club building contains more than forty bedrooms, each with private or connecting bath, and all modern conveniences for comfortable living are provided.

The club's 18-hole golf course, 6,300 yards in length, designed by Donald Ross, is one of the most beautiful to be found anywhere. The course has been open this season for several days, and many players from out of the state have recently been enjoying golf over the luxurious Kentucky blue grass fairways and the greens of Prince Edward Island bent grass.

Scott Hudson, president of Atlanta Athletic club, is also president of Highlands Country club. He is now occupying his home on the Country Club estate.

2 HOTELS LEASED

Two of Highlands' hotels have been leased for the summer. The Pierson House will be operated by Mrs. Roberta Morton, of Athens, Ga., in place of Mrs. W. S. Davis. The Hall House, usually managed by Miss Caroline Hall, this season will be under the management of Mrs. T. E. Edwards, of Miami, Fla.

ATTEND E. R. E. EXERCISES

Attending the E. R. E. commencement exercises in Asheville Saturday from Highlands were Mrs. Annie Westbrook and Miss Susan Rice, E. R. E. teachers, and members of their classes as follows: Mrs. John Baty, Mrs. Agnes Norton, Mrs. Louise Moore, Mrs. Callie Beal, Mrs. Ollie Rogers, Mrs. Mary Zachery, the Misses Dendy, the Misses Talley, Lem Talley, Arthur Miller, John Beal, Jim Talley, Mrs. A. C. Chastain, Mrs. Brittie Henry, Misses Marjorie and Hattie Henry, Miss Essie Dryman, Jim Beck, Elbert Gibson. The party went from here in a truck driven by Carter Talley.

AUXILIARY HAS TEA

The Women's Auxiliary of the Highlands Presbyterian church observed its birthday Monday with a tea at the home of Mrs. C. R. McCarty. Among those present were Mrs. S. L. McCarty, Miss Elizabeth McCarty, Miss May Crosby, Mrs. A. C. Holt, Mrs. Ralph Rucker, Mrs. Don Watson,

AMUSING—

Along about this time of the year preceding state-wide primaries, candidates for the big posts begin to visit Washington to ascertain how they stand with the boys from the home-state who have proved their vote-getting ability. So far, not a single one has returned discouraged. The lads who get to congress must be good at politics and must be better to stay there. They know better than to give office-seekers the impression that his congressman is not his friend. It's the old army game of science and skill but it still works.

IN THE MAKING—

It now appears that Wrightsville Beach, near Wilmington, may be given a new lease on life by the building of a bridge to the island and constructing a road on the sound side beyond the center of public attraction. New Hanover county commissioners have asked the State Highway and Public Works commission to spend the money to be allocated for general road purposes in their county on the Wrightsville Beach project. Since resort business means so much to this county by the sea, it is not improbable that the commission may grant the request. In that event you will be able to drive your car right up to Wrightsville, something no living being has ever done before.

NEUTRAL?—

As things are now shaping up, it appears the Ehringhaus administration will be neutral in the coming gubernatorial primary. In 1932 charges were heaped that the Gardner forces favored Ehringhaus over his opponent R. T. Fountain. This time Lieutenant Governor A. H. Graham and Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby, brother-in-law of former Governor Gardner, are considered the chief contenders for the red leather chair and the Mansion on Blount street in Raleigh, but so far there has been no indication that the present governor desires to play favorites. In fact, different key men in the Ehringhaus organization are favoring first one and then the other of the two big-## shot candidates.

DETERMINED—

Thad Eure, principal clerk of several sessions of the House of Representatives, now says there is no doubt that he will oppose Stacey W. Wade for Secretary of State in the Democratic primary next spring. Mr. Eure adds that he is confident of success but Secretary Wade believes he will have something to do with the matter. Eure is back touring the state as escheats officer of the University of North Carolina and reports that he finds his campaign progressing even better than he anticipated.

NIBBLING—

M. R. Dunagan, Raleigh newspaper correspondent, is reported to be nibbling at the idea of entering the lists with Eure and Wade for the post of Secretary of State. Dunagan is one of the veteran capitol newsmen and as a state correspondent has become known over the state. He has "covered" several sessions of the general assembly and can call by first names most of the boys who do things in North Carolina politics. With all that in his favor, however, the ear-to-the-ground boys shake their heads and opine they believe Mr. Dunagan will change his mind about entering politics and stick to his scribbling.

GRAB BAG—

Several state department heads are being deluged with applications for jobs created by acts of the last general assembly. Over in the revenue department places on the augmented state highway patrol are being mightily sought after, as are positions in the new department of highway safety. With the great number of applicants, administrative heads have a wide choice of personnel but they are almost certain to disappoint or offend many politicians.

WINE AND SONG—

Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell has ruled that under the domestic wine bill passed by the late legislature wine of natural alcoholic content may be manufactured and sold in this state but that no wines may be imported containing more alcohol than legal under the former law. That bothers many wine manufacturers located in other states but buying their grapes in North Carolina. However, the boys and girls who drink naturally fermented wine of about 14 per cent alcohol will not know much difference after four or five glasses—domestic or imported, it is all calculated to produce song.

BIG JOB—LITTLE PAY—

Don't make the mistake of continuing with the idea that a superintendent of a prison camp is a pot-bellied fellow who would like to have the privilege of flogging all his prisoners every day just for the fun of the thing. P. D. McLean, newly-appointed assistant to the state parole commissioner, Edwin M. Gill, reports that he finds camp heads surprisingly intelligent men, with real interest in prisoners and lots of work to do. Superintendents must know how to farm, must be able to can surpluses, know something of keeping accounts, know how to handle bad men and able to work a corps of guards. For these services, which continue almost 24 hours daily, they receive the princely sum of from $65 to $100 per month.

DOESN'T MIND IT—

Governor Ehringhaus isn't worrying so much about all the talk over applying the three per cent general sales tax to meals served in eating establishments. He remembers that his predecessor was "cussed" for running the state "in the red" and believes the public will

Circulated Library in 26 Months

Books from the library have been circulated among the prisoners in camp near Franklin. Scores of books from the library have been circulated among the prisoners to come to appreciate that a balanced budget is more to be desired than the applause accompanying demagogic political speeches. He thinks good schools, good hospitals for the insane and deformed, and decent pay for school teachers will overcome the present opposition to expansion of the sales tax.
