

CHAPEL SCHOOL TO OPEN AUG. 5

R. B. Watts, Principal,
Asks For Cooperation
Of Patrons

The Press-Maconian received the following announcement this week from R. B. Watts, principal of the Chapel colored school:

"To the Patrons of the Chapel Colored School:

"I take this method of informing you that the Chapel school will open in its fall term on the first Monday in August. There will be four teachers. For this, our superintendent is greatly to be praised. He is making every move in his power to help us improve our school. Let us fall in line and give our full cooperation in every way. If we have a sufficient number to justify putting on the first year high school work, this will be done. All pupils desiring the high school course should report on the first day of school and be prepared to give unbroken attendance. It is important that every child of school age shall be present and enroll on Monday the first day of school. We urge that all children be supplied with books and other equipment so there may be no hitch in their progress in learning. Let every child be in school every day. No child can be expected to make grade with broken attendance. Moreover, it is a sin against the child and the state to keep it out of school. The superintendent is expecting great things of us all in advancing the school during this school year, and we must not disappoint him and the school authorities. Let us cooperate to make this the most pleasant and the most profitable session the school has ever had. It is earnestly hoped that the patrons will meet with us on the opening day and help us lay plans for a great year's work. Remember the date—Monday, August 5th, 8:30 a. m."

Stroke Fatal

Will A. Cunningham, 80,
Dies of Paralysis

Will A. Cunningham, 80, died of paralysis at 12:10 a. m. Monday at the home of his son, J. W. Cunningham, on highway No. 286 near Franklin.

Funeral services were held at the Iotla Methodist church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Rev. B. W. Lefler, pastor of the church, and the Rev. J. A. Flanagan, pastor of the Franklin Presbyterian church, officiated. Pall bearers were Roy, William and Harry Cunningham, and Fred Jacobs, nephews of the deceased; Bill Moore and John Davis.

Mr. Cunningham had been in good health, despite his advanced years, until Saturday afternoon, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis in a nearby pasture. He had gone for a cow and when found he was lying unconscious on the ground, the cow's rope clutched in his hand.

Mr. Cunningham's wife, who before marriage was Miss Ellen Cansler, died seven years ago. He is survived by two sons, Jim W. and Sam Cunningham; 14 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren; three brothers, Curtis, Wiley and John Cunningham, and two sisters, Mrs. Bob Jacobs and Mrs. Jule Jacobs.

HIKERS VISIT MACON MOUNT

More than 100 from Three States Take Hike to Standing Indian

More than a hundred hikers from Tennessee, Georgia and several North Carolina cities and towns spent the week-end in Franklin and on Sunday visited Standing Indian, one of the most prominent peaks in the Nantahala range.

It was the annual get-together and hike of the Smoky Mountains Hiking club, of Knoxville, Tenn.; the Carolina Mountain club, of Asheville; the Nantahala Hiking club, of Almond, N. C., and the Georgia Hiking club, of Atlanta, Ga.

The hikers arrived Saturday afternoon. Most of them camped out on the Franklin golf course property and some of them were accommodated in various Franklin hotels and inns. Some from Asheville were reported to have proceeded directly to Deep Gap, about two miles from the summit of Standing Indian, where they spent the night in camp. Those staying in Franklin motored to Deep Gap or to White Oak Bottoms Sunday morning and then hiked to the top of the mountain.

There were as many or possibly more girls and women in the party as men.

The hikers reported that the trip was one of the most interesting they had taken. Standing Indian, with an altitude of 5,503 feet above sea level, commands an exceptionally fine view. Since the construction of a forest service road to Deep Gap, making the mountain more accessible, it has been gaining steadily as a point of interest for campers and hikers.

Bride and Groom Injured In Auto Accident

An automobile accident spoiled the wedding trip of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards . . . and also their plan to keep their wedding a secret.

They were married in Gainesville, Ga., last Sunday and were on their way to Clayton when the car in which they were riding collided with another car. Both were knocked unconscious and taken to a Gainesville hospital, where they were identified by their marriage license. They were dismissed from the hospital Monday and proceeded to Clayton, where Mr. Edwards has a photographer's studio. Neither suffered any broken bones, though both were painfully injured.

Mr. Edwards is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Edwards, of Burningtown, this county, and Mrs. Edwards was formerly Miss Cona English, of Clayton.

Racing Pilot Coming to Franklin

Joe Musleh, nationally known racing and stunt pilot, is shown above with one of his planes. He was expected to arrive in Franklin Thursday on a barn-storming tour, and to remain here through Monday. He will make passenger trips each day from Thomas Field just east of Franklin on state highway No. 28. Musleh, who claims 12 years experience as a flier, has participated in a number of air races. Last January at Miami he won nine prizes, said to be the largest number won by any single entrant in the big air show there. He plans to give a stunting exhibition each day while he is in Franklin. Musleh said he might bring two planes here, one of them a specially built stunting plane.

Summary of 1935 Local Legislation

fixes the open season for quail in Macon county from November 20th to February 1st, inclusive. In so far as this is in conflict with the general game law (Chapter 486, Public Laws), subsequently enacted it is probably inoperative.

Chapter 295, Public Laws, as amended by Chapter 490, Public Laws, appoints the following Justices of the Peace, by townships, for terms of four or six years: Franklin—C. S. Tilley, Howard Valentine, Sam Murray and George Carpenter; Millshoal—Walter Taylor; Ellijay—P. N. Moses and Will Henry; Highlands—Milford A. Russell and James C. Mell; Flats—Ray Dryman; Smith's Bridge—C. R. Cabe; Cartoogechaye—Troy Sheffield and B. B. Lenoir; Burningtown—W. R. Roland, James Ramsey and Wilburn Welch; Nantahala—D. C. Hambree, Everett S. White, Bas Baldwin and A. L. Wilson; Cowee—Frank Browning and Fred McGaha; Sugar Fork—Ennis Tilson.

Chapter 296, Public Laws, appoints C. W. Dowdle, Frank H. Hill and W. D. Barnard members of the County Board of Education for two year terms.

Aside from the laws mentioned above, Macon county was excepted from the provisions of the following general laws: (1) Chapter 64, Public Laws, which authorizes cities and town, and Chapter 65, Public Laws, which authorizes counties to contract with any private or public hospital, for periods not exceeding thirty years, for medical treatment and hospitalization of the afflicted poor, provided the contract does not call for payment of more than $10,000 annually by any unit. Although Macon county was excepted from the provisions of both of these Chapters, no reference was made to cities and towns in Macon under Chapter 64 which apparently is restricted to cities and towns. (2) Chapter 362, Public Laws, which provides that, beginning with those elected in 1936, Registers of Deeds shall be elected for terms of four years instead of two years as heretofore. (3) Chapter 172, Public Laws, which authorizes counties to purchase equipment for use in the prevention of soil erosion and rent or re-sell such equipment to farmers. (4)

Chapter, 457, Public Laws, which prohibits the placing of trash, refuse or scrapped automobiles within one hundred fifty yards of a hard-surfaced highway, outside of incorporated towns, unless such trash, etc., is hidden from the view of persons using the highways.

II. LAWS AFFECTING CITIES AND TOWNS IN MACON COUNTY.

A. Franklin

Chapter 5, Private Laws, repeals Chapter 5, Private Laws of 1933, which reduced the number of Town Aldermen from six to four. This Chapter restores the number to six after the expiration of the terms ending in May, 1935.

Chapter 10, Private Laws, prohibits the holding of an election on the question of issuing Town bonds prior to July 1, 1935, and also provides that no such election shall be valid unless approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the Town.
