

FATHER LANE SPEAKS HERE

Much Interest Shown in Lectures on Catholic Church

Considerable interest is being shown in a series of lectures being conducted in the courthouse this week by the Rev. Howard V. Lane, Catholic priest, of Waynesville. The purpose of the lectures, Father Lane explained, is to acquaint the public with "the real position of the Catholic church."

The lectures are given each night, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The series opened Monday night with the topic, "The Necessity of Religion." Tuesday night Father Lane discussed "Who Is Christ;" Wednesday night, "Christ's Church." Tonight he is scheduled to speak on "The Bible;" Friday night, "Can a Priest Forgive Sin;" Saturday night, "How Do Catholics Worship, or the Catholic Service;" and Sunday night, "A Rule of Life." He also will speak at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, especially for the benefit of people living in the country who have been unable to attend the evening lectures.

Each night, at the close of the lecture, Father Lane offers those present an opportunity to ask questions, and many interesting ones have been asked and answered.

Father Lane said this week that he was very grateful for the interest shown in his lectures by the people of Franklin and for the kindness extended to him.

Safety Week

Campaign Launched by Red Cross Chapter

An effort is being made this week, according to the Rev. J. A. Flanagan, acting chairman of the Macon County chapter of the American Red Cross, to reach every home in the county in the Home and Farm Accident Prevention campaign which was inaugurated by the National Red Cross on October 1. Last year there were 34,500 fatalities due largely to carelessness and negligence about the home and on the farm. Some 80 persons were killed each hour; and medical, nursing and insurance bills ran up to $4,000 a minute. Work accidents on the farm killed more than 4,000 persons last year. This is more than twice the number of lives lost in construction. Last year's accidents, of all kinds, cost this country more than $3,500,000,000, with about 25 per cent of this due to home accidents.

This matter was presented to the teachers of the county in their regular teachers meeting Saturday, and through their cooperation it is hoped that every home in the county will be reached. A specially prepared form and check list is being sent by the pupils of the schools to every home possible. Parents are being asked to help make this inspection and check those things which seem to present the greatest hazards in the home, following this up with an effort to rid the home of these hazards. That the Red Cross might have a check-up on the inspections made, a certificate of inspection is attached which the parents are to sign and return to the teachers, the teachers making their report to the chapter officials.
