

4-H Club Organized By Oak Grove Young Folks

A 4-H club was organized by boys and girls of the Oak Grove community at a meeting Monday morning in the Oak Grove school. The meeting was called by Mrs. T. J. O'Neil, Macon county home demonstration agent.

Frank Dean was elected president of the club; Opal Breedlove, vice president; Helen Browning, secretary and treasurer; Mary Katherine Hall, Wayne Bradley and Bedell Bradley, chairmen of committees; Lynette Martin, recreational director, and Alean Queen, reporter.

Fifteen boys and girls attended the meeting. After the business session games were played and songs sung. The next meeting is to be held at the Oak Grove school at 7 p. m. Monday, June 15.

Special Services To Start Sunday at Methodist Church

The special services at the Franklin Methodist church will begin Sunday morning with a sermon by the pastor, the Rev. C. C. Herbert, Jr., on the subject, "What is the Mark of a Christian?" The pastor will also preach at the Sunday evening service. The guest preacher for the special services, the Rev. J. Furman Herbert, of Rockingham, N. C., will arrive Monday for the meeting. He will preach for the first time at the service at 8 o'clock Monday night, and from then on each night for ten nights.

In addition to the services each evening at 8 o'clock, special services for children between the ages of 6 and 15 years will be held each morning at 10 o'clock in the church, beginning Tuesday.

Committees have been at work and careful plans have been laid to make the special services a success. In addition to prayer services which are being held this week in preparation for the meeting, plans are under way to have special music at each of the evening services next week. A committee is planning to have the church tastefully decorated each evening.

Different organizations within the Methodist church will sponsor the attendance at the evening services next week, as follows: Monday night, the Epworth league; Tuesday night, the F. S. Johnston Bible class; Wednesday night, the senior and young people's classes; Thursday night, the Men's Bible class; Friday night, the junior-intermediate department; and Saturday night, the Women's missionary society. The members of these organizations will sit in a group on the night they sponsor the attendance.

The Rev. J. F. Herbert, the guest preacher, has already been associated with two revival meetings this year. While he has given special study to evangelism and revival work, and has held an unusually large number of meetings in several states, he is himself the pastor of a church in Rockingham, and thus can approach his evangelistic work from the point of view of the professional evangelist. By heredity, by training, and by experience, he is eminently fitted for the task of the evangelist, and the Methodist congregation considers itself fortunate to have him as its preacher for the services.

Home-Coming Day Planned at Oak Dale

A combined observance of Mother's Day and Homecoming Day will be held Sunday, May 17, at the Oak Dale Baptist church, according to an announcement by L. P. Roper.

Mr. Roper urged that all members and former members be present. The Rev. T. D. Denny, pastor, will preach. After the service in the church dinner will be served on the grounds.

An offering will be taken for improvement work on the church building. The congregation plans to erect some Sunday school rooms and to improve the structure generally.

Initiated into Honorary Fraternity at Cullowhee

CULLOWHEE, May 13.—Miss Edna Jamison and Everette White, of Macon, were given master degrees in a recent meeting of the Zeta chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary fraternity at Western Carolina Teachers college. Entrance into this fraternity is based on scholarship.

Shoes of the Middle Ages

During the Middle ages most shoes had soft uppers, sometimes closed to the ankle or higher, but frequently open down the front and laced over with decorative straps. Stocking boots, woolen gaiter shoes and simple leather soles sewed to the end of tights were also worn. Tops of high shoes and boots were often folded over or trimmed with fur. During the Thirteenth century pointed toes of shoes increased in length, when the points were sometimes turned up and back and tied to a garter just below the knee. High wooden clogs were worn to increase the height. In the last quarter of the Fifteenth century pointed toes began to be succeeded by round ones that later became broad and almost square.

Crawford Lot To Be Sold at Auction Saturday Afternoon

The Lee Crawford lot at Main and Harrison avenue will be offered at auction at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon by R. A. Patton of the Home Realty and Auction company.

The property has been subdivided and will be offered in small lots on terms of one-third cash and the balance to be paid in 6, 12, and 18 months.

Mr. Patton said he had made arrangements for Peck's Bad Boys to supply music, and that a cash prize would be awarded.

"This is fine business property," commented Mr. Patton, "and it ought to attract plenty of investors. The property has been subdivided so that it should not require a lot of money to handle one or two of the lots. It looks to me like it is a good opportunity for the man who has small savings to make a real investment. It is not often that he is given a chance to buy business property on such an attractive basis."

It Takes 30 to Produce a Good Peach

How many leaves does it take to produce enough fruit for a good peach? Experimenters at the United States Department of Agriculture indicate that 30 leaves are necessary. Leaves are required to produce good-sized apples, and an orange.

Producers of large fruit should provide larger leaf area. A peach with 40 leaves per tree will produce the fruit closely, and the peaches left on the tree will produce more food from the fruit set is light tree—but perhaps the branches and the fruit may be damaged.

After a damage may set only at the shoots. When this occurs on the bearing trees produce peaches and quality although they are only a few inches far away from the nonbearing trees to manufacture food.
