SCHOOL RECEIVES $100 FROM TRUST FUND

HIGHLANDS, June 16.—The local school authorities recently received $100 from Miss Annie A. Vaughan, trustee in charge of the Raoul fund, which was left to the school several years ago. The hundred dollars has been placed in the hands of a committee composed of J. F. Sumner, Mrs. F. H. Potts and Mrs. Kate Moore Rhinehart. Of the amount approximately $30 has been expended by the committee on supplementary reading material for the grammar grades, thus adding to the school library. The balance of the amount has been set aside in a special fund for future use.

Since 1928 and during the depression no income from the Raoul fund has been received, and the hundred dollars, which represents a payment on principal, was welcomed by Mr. Sumner, and others of the committee and school officials.

BRUCE BARTON Says:

NEWS NOT ALWAYS BAD

My favorite newspaper is the Foxboro Reporter, Foxboro, Mass., the town where I have my farm. In its columns I read the reports of the annual Town Meeting where my fellow citizens meet, debate, and settle their governmental problems with intelligence and dispatch.

I read of good fortune that has come to some of my neighbors; I mark the courage of youth in continuing the ancient customs of marriage and child-bearing, careless of the disturbed condition of the earth. And I am pleased to see by the obituary notices to what ripe old age the average man may extend his days if he is wise enough to turn his back on the turmoil of the city and dwell in a country town.

This spring, however, when the floods were raging, the Reporter brought a disturbing paragraph. It said that the water in my lake had risen so high it had overflowed the dam and caused serious damage in the garden which is the pride of my wife's heart. At the first opportunity I traveled up to Foxboro, expecting to find a vast devastation.

Imagine my delight when all seemed to be in order. The farmer pointed to a new ditch which he had dug, and said that by diverting the water just a little he had kept everything under control. Even the cellar was not flooded.

It reminded me of the taxicab strike in New York, of which my wife and I received our first news from screaming headlines in the newspapers of Hongkong, China. We sent cablegrams back to our family. They replied that, being busy, they hadn't read the papers and didn't know there was a strike.

I am a great admirer of newspapers, but the years have taught me a certain calmness. Very often I discovered that things are not always so bad as they are printed.

SOME MONEY TABOO

A friend says he was fortunate in his first employer, who was a wise and upright man. Because his enterprises had a habit of turning into profit, all sorts of opportunities were laid on his desk. He could pick and choose. Whenever a proposal was made which touched the ethical border-line, he never hesitated. He would say firmly: "There are some kinds of money you're not supposed to make."

My friend, who is something of a philosopher, says that this remark has saved him much loss and trouble, and he offers three suggestions as to money you and I are "not supposed to make."

1. You're not supposed to make money on your home. It is possible, of course, to buy or build your home at a time when real estate values are favorable. But the chances for enhanced values should not be the important factor in the plan for a home. It is your home, it's not a money making proposition.

2. You're not supposed to make money by borrowing on your life insurance. Occasionally a man has been able to finance a profitable undertaking by a temporary loan on his policies, but if the history of all life insurance loans were written it would be a tragic narrative.

3. You're not supposed to make money without work. The men who suffered worse in the stock market crash were not investing; they were grabbing. They were not trying to lay up a reasonable surplus for their declining years. They were trying to make a clean-up so they "wouldn't have to work."

Do you agree with these three comments? Do you think it would be a good thing if every classroom and office wall could have painted on it the old man's warning: "There are some kinds of money you're not supposed to make?"
