Announces the Formal Opening Of Their New, Modern

FURNITURE STORE AND FUNERAL HOME

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1937

This has been Macon County's Furniture Store for over a decade, and we want to take this opportunity to invite all of you to visit our New Store and Funeral Home. We consider all of you have an interest in our new home, because had it not been for the fine people of Macon County and the surrounding counties, both in North Carolina and Georgia, it would not have been possible for us to realize the thing we have so long hoped for—a HOME we can call our own, and a home which we hope each and every person who visits it will feel proud of, and one which is a credit to our Town and County.

While in Franklin, anytime, you are welcome to come and visit with us,—make Bryant Furniture Company YOUR home while in town, consider you have a part in it, and we will do our very best to always make you feel welcome. When you are in need of anything we have in merchandise, we will guarantee to give you the very best possible for the money. It will be a pleasure to serve you.

We have on display the largest stock of household furniture ever shown in Macon County, most of which was bought before the advance in prices. We believe we can save you a lot of money on your furniture needs.

Our spacious funeral parlors located on the second floor of our building, and with the latest mortuary equipment, enable us, even more than in the past, to serve you better in time of sorrow, and at the price you wish to pay.
