

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

THE DOCTOR'S PROBLEM

Nobody knows more the effects of a national depression than the family doctor. He gets the full force of it. His customers fall down in their ability to meet his moderate charges; his own table and wardrobe dwindle. Even his savings depart, as mine have. But he does not complain of misfortune to himself—he sees future effects of famine on those he serves—and gives his life. The ill-nourished children and mothers of today, will be the weaklings of tomorrow—of next year and the next! The real results of the "depression" have not yet commenced.

The very well-to-do will not suffer. But there are so many of the thousands who are not in that zone; and, these for the most part, fall under the care of the faithful family doctor.

I, myself, see children all about me, that will never attain the state of vigorous manhood and womanhood—because of this awful depression,—if you are content to dismiss it with such a benign name... What to do? Well here is an instance where I must answer, "I don't know." Relief from this thing cannot come in a day—nor in a year—nor two years, in all probability. The fangs of the thing have penetrated our very nation's heart. It is the great mass of "common people" that constitutes our America. Without them our land would perish from the very weight of its gold! There is no more helpless body than that of what is termed the "idle rich."

We must educate. It seems to me, the World War was a most effectual lesson to establish peace. Nobody but an inhuman devil could lay plans for future war! I base my statement on the lesson learned from the last outbreak of hell. We must educate.

Francis Hopkinson was the designer of the Stars and Stripes made by Betsy Ross. He also designed the first Great Seal of the United States.
