NEW DRESS SHOP TO OPEN SATURDAY

HIGHLANDS, April 21.—Highlands, facing its most prosperous summer tourist season in history according to a consensus of opinion, will boast its first exclusive dress shop when the Betty-Dee Shop, owned and operated by Mrs. L. G. Appley, of Highlands and Mrs. Dinty Dennis, of Miami, opens on Saturday, April 24.

During the last week, the owners have renovated and decorated their shop space in the Marrett building, on Main street, opposite the post-office, as well as issued an invitation to Highlands and Macon county residents and visitors to inspect their stock on Saturday's opening day.

Offering an exclusive line of cotton, silk and linen dresses obtained from the leading fashion centers of New York and Miami, the owners announce they will present these latest designs and models in their store at moderate popular prices.

Mrs. Appley has been a resident of Highlands for the last five years and with her husband, L. G. Appley, formerly of Coral Gables, has maintained a year round residence. With their home on the land known as the Hill property, Mrs. Appley, with her husband, are highly regarded in the Highlands area.

Mrs. Dennis with her husband, Dinty Dennis, sports editor of The Miami Herald, visited in this area four years ago at High Hampton Inn. Since then they have been regular summer visitors, living at the Appley cottages during the last two years.

TOURIST SEASON STARTING EARLY THIS YEAR

The tourist season is starting off early this year, with numbers of people already arriving at hotels and summer residences. J. Harvey Trice has opened Highlands Inn for the season and as usual he expects a good crowd. Other hotels are not open yet, with the exception of Hotel Edwards, and the Potts House, which remain open the year round.

CHILDREN ASKED TO LEAVE BOOKS AT SCHOOL

O. F. Summer, principal of Highlands school, has announced that the recent legislature made provisions for furnishing free basal elementary books to the school children beginning next fall. It has been suggested that the children leave their books at school at the close of school, as this will help in getting the program of furnishing free books started. These books will be of no value to the children, as there will be no second-hand market next year, but it will save some expense to the school if the children cooperate by giving their used books.

All school principals in the state have been sent a notice from the text book commission in Raleigh asking that the program be explained to the children and their parents, and urging that they cooperate in the plan as above outlined.

given a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. T. M. Keener Saturday afternoon, at which she received many nice presents.

Hen Lays Two Eggs in One Day

Ed Tallent relates an unusual story about a Rhode Island hen laying two eggs in one day.

Mr. Tallent owns a flock of Rhode Island hens. Saturday, to Mr. Tallent's certain knowledge, this hen laid two eggs within five minutes and the eggs were normal size. The first had a hard shell, while the second had a soft shell.
