

Three-Ring Wild Animal Show Coming to Franklin

On Thursday, April 29, just about the time most of the people of Franklin are thinking of getting up, the long line of trucks of the Mighty Haag Shows will begin arriving here, and start work pitching their vast city of tents on the show grounds where they will give two complete performances.

The Haag Show this year will bring to Franklin more wild animals, horses, ponies and trained dogs than ever before exhibited. This year the Haag Shows are featuring such well-known acts as the Araki Japanese Troupe in a new act, Johnson Duo of Wire Walkers, Zeldo Troupe of head balancers, Fisher Family of Acrobats and Haag's Herd of Performing Elephants, largest and best trained in the country, presented by Miss Helen Haag, who takes her life in her own hands twice daily when she places her head in the mouth of one of the elephants.

There will be a street parade at 1 p. m., followed by a number of free exhibitions on the show grounds. Performances start at 2 p. m., and 8 p. m., but doors will open one hour earlier so as to give everyone ample time to visit Haag's big new zoo and be entertained by Haag's Gold Concert Band.

Admission will be at popular prices, and the public is assured of a whole evening of splendid entertainment.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste.

Jim Patton Chosen For Alpha Zeta

Among six new men selected as members of Alpha Zeta, the highest honor that students in agriculture can achieve at North Carolina State college, was J. D. Patton, son of Representative R. A. Patton, of Macon county.

Jim was initiated on March 30, and was chosen on account of his scholastic average.

Side-Dressing Makes Heavier Crop Yields

Side-dressings to corn and cotton are well worth their cost in years when crop prices are anything like normal, said C. B. Williams, of the N. C. agricultural experiment station.

This is particularly true when the crops are grown on coastal plain and piedmont soils of an open, sandy nature, he added.

But on finer textured soils underlain with heavy subsoils that tend to retain fertilizing materials, a side-dressing may not be needed if the corn and cotton were fertilized right to start with, Williams continued.

Or if the crops have a dark green color at the time for side-dressing, they probably don't need a side-dressing.

Where side-dressings are needed, the growers should apply a soluble form of nitrogen such as in nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia, Williams continued.

The best time for side-dressing cotton is immediately after chopping and before the first cultivation.

Corn should be side-dressed when the plants are two to three feet high, and just before a cultivation is given the field, Williams pointed out.

"If the crops were fertilized properly when planted, and if given a good side-dressing where needed, the increased yields will give the grower a net return of 50 to 200 per cent or more on the fertilizer investment," he observed.

Walnuts Turn Waste Space Into Profits

Black walnut trees, a good source of cash income, can be grown in fence corners, along ditch and stream banks, and other so-called "waste places" about the farm.

An average North Carolina farm could easily have 50 or more black walnut trees, said R. W. Graeber, extension forester at State college.

The nuts from the trees can be harvested annually, and where a sufficient number of trees are produced, a few can be cut from time to time for timber.

There is a big demand for black walnut lumber, Graeber pointed out, and high prices are paid for trees in good condition.

The income from the nuts is a helpful addition to the regular cash income of the farm. Figuring the nuts from one tree at $2.50 a year, a crop of 50 trees would produce an annual income of $125 from the sale of nuts alone.

Some farmers do much better than that, Graeber added. James Caudle, of Yadkin county, got $29.85 for the nuts from seven trees last year—an average of $4.26 per tree.

Caudle gathered 18 bushels of nuts from the trees and cracked 99.5 pounds of kernels which he sold wholesale at 30 cents a pound.

"This may not appear to be a large sum, but remember it came from a bare handful of trees growing on odd spots around the farm," Graeber commented.
