

Timely Farm Questions Answered at State College

Q. What is the best control for cabbage worms?
 A. Rotenone dust will, in all probability, give the best control. The dust should contain about 75 per cent of the rotenone and the first application should be made just as soon as you see the first small white butterfly in the cabbage field. Dust as often as worms are found and be sure and get the dust down into the center of the plants. This dust will also control bean beetles and should be applied when the first cluster of eggs are found on the under side of the bean leaves. For bean beetles the dust should be applied under the leaves and not on top.

Q. Is there any cure for Blumbe-foot in chickens?
 A. Where the trouble is not too severe it is possible to cure it by making an incision in the injured foot and carefully removing the infected material. The area should then be sterilized with iodine and bandaged and the bird kept closely confined while the wound is healing. However, unless the bird is of exceptional value no cure should be attempted as these attempts in the majority of cases are unsuccessful.

Q. When is the best time to treat sheep for stomach worms?
 A. Drenching for worms should begin about June 1. As a usual thing one or two treatments are sufficient for mature animals, but in cases of severe infestation both the lambs and ewes should be drenched every two to four weeks until frost. Keep the animals to be treated off feed for 24 hours before and off feed and water for five hours after drenching. The copper sulphate solution is most generally used for stomach worms, but the nicotine sulphate has also proven valuable, especially where tape worms are present. The nicotine sulphate solution is made by mixing together one-half ounce of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) and one quart of water. Mature sheep should receive two to three ounces of this solution at each treatment and lambs from one to two ounces.

Cooperative Selling Pleases Hog Growers

With 12 markets already established and two more under consideration, cooperative hog marketing in eastern North Carolina is proving a boon to swine growers, declares H. W. Taylor, swine specialist for the State college extension service.

Working with county agents, the growers haul their hogs to a central loading point on prescribed days for shipment to Northern markets in carload lots.

Prices this spring have been good, Taylor says, and farmers generally have been pleased with the cooperative plan. This is the first year that hogs have been shipped on a large scale cooperatively.

Markets are now operating in New Bern, Tarboro, Plymouth, Greenville, Washington, Shawboro, Warsaw, Four Oaks, Burgaw, Elizabeth, Lumberton, and Rowland.

Taylor says that markets in Scotland Neck and Kinston are now under consideration. If sufficient interest is taken, shipping points will be established in these two places. Other points will also be considered.

Leading the way in the largest shipments is the New Bern Cooperative Livestock Market, serving farmers of Craven, Carteret, Jones, Onslow, and Pamlico counties.

To date, according to M. A. Morgan, Craven farm agent, growers have shipped from this point, 2,548 hogs, weighing 1,547,344 lbs. and selling for $147,753.46. Shipments are made each Tuesday, with the county agents from all five counties working with their growers in an advisory capacity.
