BIG FISH STORY

On June 11 J. W. Shiddles bought his fishing license. Being very eager to try his luck at fishing he rushed to Lake Emory's deep water.

Mr. Shiddles was fishing for all that was in it, and in just a short while he discovered that he had hooked a whopper. The muskie was too large for a little man like Shiddles, and he began screaming for help. A man nearby came to his rescue, and they drew out a muskie weighing 17 pounds, 38 inches long.

This is not all. On that same day he caught a catfish weighing two pounds, a bass weighing two pounds and also five bream.
