CLOER-SANDERS

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Annie Ray Cloer to Paul Sanders in Clayton, Ga., on Sunday, June 20, in a very simple but impressive ceremony, in the presence of a few close relatives of the bride.

Mrs. Sanders is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George Cloer, of Franklin Route 4. She was a student in the Franklin high school. She was dressed in navy blue with grey accessories.

Mr. Sanders is the son of Mrs. Mary Sanders, of Richmond, Va., formerly of Macon county. He is a graduate of the Iotla high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders left immediately after the ceremony for Richmond, Va., where they will make their future home.

KENNEY-MORRISON

Miss Virginia Kennedy, of High Point, and Don Morrison, of High Point, were married in a quiet but impressive ceremony Saturday afternoon, June 12, at the home of Rev. D. C. McCoy at Etna.

Mr. Morrison is the son of the late J. A. and Mrs. Morrison, of Etna. He is a graduate of the Lenoir high school, where he has made his home for several years. He is now employed with the Standard Oil company at High Point, where they plan to make their home.

McCOY-BLANKENSHIP

A wedding of beauty and simplicity was that of Miss Mary Pauline McCoy to Rev. Forest Blankenship, which was solemnized in the Oak Grove Baptist church on Saturday afternoon, June 12. Rev. T. D. Denny, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and daisies.

Mrs. Blankenship, who is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. C. McCoy, of Etna, was attired in a very becoming dress of navy blue georgette with white accessories. She is a graduate of the Franklin high school and had made music her special study.

Mr. Blankenship is a graduate of the Bryson City high school. Also a student at Mars Hill college.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship left for Asheville on a short wedding trip.

The bride wore as her traveling gown a suit of grey with blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship will return to Bryson City, where they expect to make their home.

HILL-MEACHAM

Solemnized with beauty and dignity, Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Willett P. Sloan, on South Twenty-Second street, was the marriage of Miss Sara-Helen Hill and Richard Woodbridge Meacham. The apartments of the home were effectively decorated with garlands of ivy and Spring flowers.

The Rev. J. B. Meacham, father of the groom, performed the ceremony before an altar improvised of smilax foliage and baskets of regal lilies, with tall floor candelabra holding cathedral tapers on either side. Silver candelabra throughout the room held other white tapers.

Mrs. Robert K. Monroe, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Elveree Arnold. The bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Meacham, sister of the groom, and Miss Marie Griswold. Stewart Meacham, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and punch was served on the lawn.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Norris, Jack and Frank Norris, of Atlanta, and Mr. J. H. Hill, of Highlands, grandfather of the bride.

Mrs. Meacham, as Sara Helen Hill, was graduated from Ramsay high school and attended Judson college in Marion, Ala. On her paternal side, she is descended from the Hills of North Carolina, her great-great-grandfather, Stanhope W. Hill, having been the first mayor of Highlands, and her great-grandfather having been Dr. Charles L. Frost, leading physician of Hempstead, L. I., for many years. On her maternal side she is descended from the Mortons and the Littles of Tennessee, the latter having produced a long line of Methodist ministers.

Mr. Meacham graduated from Phillips high school, and attended Birmingham-Southern college. He is descended from the Sharpes of Kentucky and the Meachams of Western North Carolina. He is now associated in business with the Moore-Handley Hardware company.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Meacham will be at home on South Fourteenth avenue.—Birmingham News.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wright had as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. R. Max Hurst, of Seneca, S. C., a sister of Mrs. Wright's; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ligon, of Townsville, S. C., and Mrs. Jack Harris, of Iva, S. C. Sunday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wright and children, they went to Wayah Glade and Wayah Bald.

Mrs. Jack Sherrill and Miss Katherine Porter spent Tuesday in Atlanta, Ga.

T. B. Higdon, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., spent the week-end at Higdonville with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Higdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tysinger, Jr., and son, Bobby, returned to their home here Sunday night, after a visit with Mr. Tysinger's mother, Mrs. Annie C. Tysinger, in Lexington.

J. W. Hastings, who has been quite ill for several days, was somewhat improved Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Holt and son, and Mrs. Delma Brower and son, of Gastonia, spent the past week-end with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cunningham, of Iotla. Miss Reta Cunningham accompanied them on their return to Gastonia, and will visit relatives in Charlotte and other points before returning home.

Miss Juanita Meadows, of Bryson City, is here with her sister, Mrs. Perry Grant in Angel hospital and visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Conley were visiting Miss Allie Caler, at Aquone, who is critically ill.

Clyde Jacobs arrived here Friday from Olympian, Wash., for a short visit with friends before going on to Gastonia for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jacobs. Mr. Jacobs left Franklin in 1909 and this was his first visit back. He was highly pleased to find Franklin growing so fast and showing so much progress.

The Blue Sky Boys, broadcasting daily over station WGST, Atlanta, Ga., will appear in person at the Franklin courthouse Saturday, June 26th at 8:30 P. M., sponsored by the Holly Springs baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Van Sisk and baby returned to their home in Charlotte Monday after spending the week-end here with Mr. Sisk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sisk, at their home on Iotla street.

Miss Mary Sue Smith, of Dalton, Ga., is spending several days here the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCollum at their home on Palmer street.
