

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES and COMINGS AND GOINGS

WEAVER-FAISON

A marriage of wide interest here was solemnized Sunday morning, August 1, when Miss Margaret Weaver, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Weaver, of Lafayette, Ga., became the bride of John R. Faison, of Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Faison, of Wendell, N. C.

The marriage was performed at the home of the bride, with the Rev. George W. McClure, pastor of the Rossville, Ga., Baptist Tabernacle, officiating.

On returning from their bridal tour, Mr. and Mrs. Faison will reside in Franklin where Mr. Faison is connected with the resettlement administration.

SPEND-THE-DAY PARTY AT MRS. HENRY SLAGLE'S

Mrs. Henry Slagle entertained with a spend-the-day party at her home, "Arboretum," on Cartoogechaye on Friday of the past week.

These parties are held annually and the day is spent in studying old testament history, and especially that of what is known as the ten tribes. Using Prof. Totten's and Dr. Davison's works, it is easy to prove that the Anglo-Saxon people are Israel—or sons of Isaac.

Those enjoying the day were: Mrs. Sam L. Rogers, Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, Mrs. Mary Allman, Mrs. A. W. Horn, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. P. F. Callahan, Mrs. R. D. Sisk, Mrs. Roy W. Morton, Mrs. W. A. Martin, Mrs. Rufus Cunningham, Mrs. Harriette Setser, Mrs. Jess Slagle, Mrs. John Cunningham, Mrs. Wade Cunningham, Mrs. Setser and Mrs. Fred Slagle.

JAKE ADDINGTON ENTERTAINS AT STEAK DINNER

Jake W. Addington entertained with a steak fry and all the good things that go with it on Friday night at Vanhook Glade, honoring the postal authorities of the Franklin postoffice.

This is the first event of this kind held but it was voted at this time to make it an annual occasion.
