OCTOBER 11-16 IS AIR MAIL WEEK

Governor's Proclamation Asks For Proper Observance

Calling attention to the fact that North Carolina is the birthplace of aviation, Governor Clyde R. Hoey has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of North Carolina to make proper observance of Air Mail Week, which will be celebrated October 11-16, by liberally patronizing the air mail service.

Wythe M. Peyton, Asheville postmaster and president of the North Carolina Association of Postmasters, has appointed Paul R. Younts, Charlotte postmaster, as general chairman of committee on air mail week observance.

Mr. Younts has announced that, through the cooperation of the Eastern Air Lines, air mail, express, and passenger service, stops will be made at every place in North Carolina that has a postoffice and suitable landing field on October 12, for the purpose of collecting air mail in special cachets, to be transferred to regular E. A. L. stops at Charlotte and Raleigh.

Several Eastern Air Lines planes will leave Kitty Hawk the morning of October 12. One of the planes will make stops at all places in eastern North Carolina having landing fields; the other will stop at all places in Western North Carolina with such fields.

The eastern Carolina plane will take the mail to Raleigh and transfer it to E. A. L. planes there. The western plane will take the mail to Charlotte to be placed on one of the six planes making daily stops there.

Cattle Sale Very Successful Tuesday

The cattle sale held here Tuesday by Robert A. Patton and D. Robert Davis was one of the most successful sales ever held in Macon county, and one of the largest crowds attended that has ever been to one of these sales.

Approximately 225 head of cattle were sold and the prices ranged from three to 11 cents.

Buyers were here from Asheville, Waynesville, Sylva, Hayesville, Hickory Packing company, at Hickory and the White Provision company in Atlanta, Ga., Cornelia and Clayton, Ga.

Another sale will be held on Tuesday, October 19, at the same time and place.

Dan West Now Managing Picture Show

Charles Ingram, who has been manager of the Macon Theatre for several months, has resigned the position and has been succeeded by Dan West, a Franklin boy who has been working in Asheville for the past two years as a commercial artist.

Dan is a son of Jud West, of Franklin, and has had considerable experience in the motion picture business.

Fire Prevention Week Being Observed In All States

This is Fire Prevention Week throughout the United States by proclamation of the President, governors of the various states and mayors of towns and cities.

Fire Prevention Week is observed annually just before the cold weather sets in and fire hazards increase.

People are urged to clean out all basements and attics, inspect and clean flues and heating equipment and clear away all inflammable trash and rubbish. Also to inspect wiring and electrical appliances and have repairs made where necessary. School principals and teachers are asked to see to it that heating apparatus is safe and warn children about fire dangers.

Chief R. D. Ashe, of the Franklin fire department has posted placards in public places over the town calling attention to the importance of observing the safety measures cited above and urging the elimination of fire hazards here.

GUERNSEY SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

The second annual 4-H club Guernsey calf show was held in Franklin last Saturday. Ten entries were made by the club members in different classes, according to age of the calves. The placings in different classes were:

Six months to one year—Bobby McClure, Dillard, Ga., Rt. 1, 1st; Bobbie Justice, Franklin, Rt. 4, 2nd; Harry Corbin, Franklin, Rt. 4, 3rd; Miss Hallie Cabe, Franklin, Rt. 4, 4th.

One year to two years—Owen Ammons, Franklin, Rt. 4, 1st; Woodrow Franklin, Franklin, Rt. 4, 2nd; Hayne Arthur, Franklin, Rt. 1, 3rd; Wade Higdon, Cullasaja, 4th; George Gray, Franklin, Rt. 1, 5th.

Two years and over—George Gray, Franklin, Rt. 1, 1st; Owen Ammons, Franklin, Rt. 4, 2nd; Ray Franklin, Rt. 4, 3rd.

Cash prizes amounting to $30 were awarded to the various classes. This was given by A. B. Slagle, for the interest and promotion of better Guernsey cattle in the county.

The grand champion award went to Bobbie McClure. This award was a pure bred Guernsey heifer calf given by the Franklin Rotary club. Bobbie also was given a halter for his excellent showmanship.

From the animals entered in this show there will be a county group made up which will be entered in the Asheville show, Friday, October 8. This group will be: Junior calf, Bobbie McClure; senior calf, Woodrow Franklin; junior yearling, Owen Ammons; senior yearling, Hayne Arthur; heifer, Owen Ammons, and cow, George Gray.

Also in connection with the calf show in Franklin there was a colt show. A prize of $10 was given by the local business men for the best colt shown. This was won by Harris Dryman, Franklin.

A crowd of approximately 250 persons attended both shows.

Billy Hugh Thomas Dies At Otto

Funeral services for Billy Hugh, two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Thomas, were held at the Asbury Methodist church, at Otto, Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. O. E. Croy, pastor, was in charge of the services.

Billy had been sick all summer suffering from Bright's disease.

Dr. and Mrs. Alex Stanford, of Greensboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murr, of Thomasville, are spending this week here the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Angel, Jr.

WILL HONOR OLD MEMBERS

Special Service For Those Who Have Served 50 Years or More

A service honoring those who have been members of the Franklin Methodist church for 50 years and more will be held at the church next Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m.

One of the members, Mrs. W. N. Allman, has been a member for 70 years. A study of the church records shows the names of 13 members now living who joined the Franklin Methodist church 50 years and more ago. These persons are receiving special invitations to be present at the Honor Service.

The entire service Sunday evening will have for its purpose the honoring of these highly esteemed members. The hymns used will be their favorites. Addresses of affectionate regard for them will be delivered. Appropriate tokens of the respect and love in which they are held by the church membership will be presented to them.

The old records of the church are not accurate in every instance. A study of the records reveals the following who joined the Franklin Methodist church 50 years or more ago, and who are still members of this church: Mrs. W. N. Allman, Dr. F. T. Smith, Mrs. George A. Jones, Mrs. G. Lee Crawford, Mrs. E. R. Kennebrew, Mr. John O. Harrison, Mrs. Mary Lyle Walldrop, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Mrs. S. H. Lyle, Mrs. Lena Myers, Mrs. Myra Allman, Mrs. J. J. Conley, and Mrs. J. T. Moore. It is possible that there are others who should be included in this list. It is the earnest desire of the church officials to have the list complete. Anyone who knows of a name which should be added to this list will confer a favor on the church by communicating at once with Dr. W. E. Furr or Rev. C. C. Herbert, Jr.

Teachers Taking Extension Course

The following teachers of Macon county are enrolled in Dr. Willis Parker's extension course now being taught each Friday at the Franklin high school:

Ralph V. Angell, S. A. Bryson, Mrs. L. C. Bradley, Mrs. P. H. Corbin, Miss L. O. Cabe, Mrs. J. A. Flanagan, Frank Flemming, Mrs. Elsie Franks, Miss Ina Henry, Mrs. E. D. Higdon, Mrs. J. B. Horsley, Edith Long, Ollie May McCoy, Mrs. Nina T. McCoy, Mrs. Lovicia Moses, Mrs. A. L. Shields, Mrs. M. H. Ramsey, Kate Reece, Esther Seay, Mrs. M. C. Shields, Mrs. E. C. Siler, Sanford J. Smith, Mrs. M. G. Roper, Mrs. Pearl Stewart, Mrs. Bess N. Stewart, Commodore Tillet, Katherine Huggins Williams.

The subject of the course is Medieval and Modern History, which is offered not only to teachers seeking college credit on their certificates, but to any one desiring a cultural and scholarly series of lectures bearing upon the influence of the history of great nations on contemporary world conditions.

Dr. Parker is holding the keen interest of his class in the vital presentation of his theme.

This extension course is offered by the Western Carolina Teachers' college and will continue through the winter each Friday afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Paul H. Gerrard, wife of the supervisor of the Nantahala national forest, and Miss Lassie Kelly, who were injured in an automobile collision last Saturday morning, are reported to be improving. Mrs. Gerrard returned to her home after receiving treatment at Angel hospital. Miss Kelly was still in the hospital Thursday but expected to go to her home Friday.

Travel Executives Will Be In Franklin Tuesday

Reunion

Of Fulcher Family Held Last Sunday

Approximately 100 relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Ada Fulcher to attend the Fulcher reunion which is held annually.

Enjoyable music was furnished by J. D. Dowdle, Ralph Penland, Frank Ammons, Ned Dowdle, Vernon Cunningham and Hazel Keener. An interesting talk was made by Rev. A. A. Angel, who also pronounced the invocation at the noon hour when a bountiful picnic dinner was enjoyed by all present.

Those attending from Buncombe county were: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brown, Miss Mildred Brown, F. L. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hall, all of Enka.

WILL INSPECT GAME PRESERVE

An inspection of the recently established Standing Indian Wild Life Management Area will be made by game enthusiasts at 3 p. m. October 13.

Supervisor Gerrard, of the Nantahala national forest, said that he had received numerous requests for information concerning the establishment of the cooperative wildlife management areas and that the trip scheduled for Wednesday afternoon would give those interested in these areas an opportunity to become better acquainted with the objective.

Supervisor Gerrard and C. N. Mease, state refuge superintendent, will speak to the group on the work planned for the areas.

A demonstration planting of speckled trout will be made by ECC enrollees to illustrate the proper handling of planting stock to the visitors.

An invitation to the meeting was extended to the public by Supervisor Gerrard. White Oak Bottoms, the headquarters of the management area, where the group will meet is easily reached from U. S. 64 at Wallace Gap via a forest service road.

New Funeral Home Being Opened Here

C. B. Wells, of Canton, who has had many years of experience in the undertaking business, has rented the store room in Mrs. C. C. Cunningham's building next to the Franklin Hardware company, and is preparing to open an up-to-date funeral home.

Mr. Wells states that it will be a few days before all of his stock arrives but that he expects to be ready for business very soon.

Further announcement will appear in this paper next week.

W. M. S. Zone Meeting At Union Saturday

The zone meeting of the Woman's Missionary societies of the Methodist churches in Macon county, will meet with the Union society, at the Union church, on Saturday, October 9, for an all-day meeting.

Mrs. F. E. Branson, of Canton, district secretary for the Waynesville district, will be present for the meeting.

Each society in the county is urged to send a large representation to the meeting. Dinner will be furnished by the ladies attending.

George Pattillo, who underwent an operation for the removal of his appendix at Angel hospital Saturday morning, was reported to be doing nicely Wednesday morning.

Tourists Will Be Given Information About This Section

Extensive preparations are being made for the elaborate travel tour sponsored by the State Advertising Committee, on which between 75 and 81 travel bureau executives, travel counselors of motor clubs and editors of travel sections, of newspapers and travel magazines from all corners of the United States, will be guests of the committee on a 10 days' tour of the state.

The tourists are expected to spend a short time in Franklin next Tuesday morning, arriving from Bryson City about 10:30. They will be welcomed by Mayor George B. Patton, and will visit the Kelly Tea Room where a display of Macon county products will be shown.

The party will be presented with booklets and pamphlets dealing with the Nantahala national forest, Macon county and the town of Franklin. The ladies will receive gifts from the Chamber of Commerce.

A motorcycle escort will meet the cars and buses of the tourist party at the county line and escort them to Franklin. Also a committee of four men from Franklin—F. W. Wiese, R. V. Miles, W. R. Smith and Guy L. Houk—will meet them at Bryson City and accompany them to Franklin, and will go on with them to Highlands and High Hampton Inn for lunch.

Much of the preliminary work in connection with the tour has already been done by C. W. Roberts, president of the Carolina Motor Club in Charlotte, who is also a member of the State Advertising Committee and of the Board of Conservation and Development. A similar tour was arranged by Mr. Roberts in 1935 and was productive of splendid results. This tour will start in Asheville, October 10 and end in Elizabeth City on October 20.

The entire Advertising Committee, of which J. L. Horne, Jr., of Rocky Mount is chairman, is convinced that this tour offers one of the best opportunities the state has ever had to sell itself to these travel experts, who direct tours, map out tour routings and who write or print travel stories read by millions of people each year. The committee members are confident that those who go on this 10 days' tour, extending from the Great Smoky Mountains in the west to the site of the "Lost Colony" and birthplace of Virginia Dare on Roanoke Island in the east, will be so impressed with what North Carolina has to offer that they will broadcast their stories of what they saw and heard here to millions in other states.
