STANFIELD-CRUNKLETON

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Stanfield announce the marriage of their daughter, Belle Stanfield, of Franklin, to Claud Crunkleton, of Highlands, son of H. C. Crunkleton.

The wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at 4 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage in Webster, the Rev. G. A. Hovis officiating.

Mrs. Crunkleton received her education at Franklin and is a graduate of Tamasee school in South Carolina.

Mr. Crunkleton is now employed in construction work in Highlands where they will make their future home.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED BY GIRL SCOUTS

As a pre-nuptial courtesy, a surprise party and shower was given Friday afternoon by the Girl Scouts and their mothers, complimentary to their leader, Miss Pauline Powers, a bride-elect of Thanksgiving Day.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. B. W. Woodruff, on Harrison avenue. After a much enjoyed contest, the party went on a treasure hunt, which led to the Girl Scout tent. There a lovely assortment of handkerchiefs from the girls and a beautiful linen luncheon set from the mothers was found by the honoree. The dining table was overlaid with a lovely lace cloth, centered with a miniature bride and groom. White lighted tapers furthered the table decorations.

Punch, sandwiches, and cookies were enjoyed by approximately 25 scouts and their mothers and the honoree.

Miss Powers will wed Hayes E. Overcash, of Charlotte and Franklin in the Franklin Methodist church on Thanksgiving day at 5 o'clock.

Misses Elizabeth and Ruth Slagle entertained Friday evening at a dinner party at their home on West Main street honoring Miss Powers. Guests included members of the "Franklin Old Maids' club."

The house was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and green floral arrangements. The table featured green and yellow candles and mints and was centered with a bride's cake with a miniature bride and groom. The color scheme of green and yellow was further carried out in the salad and desert.

After dinner each guest was asked to write her favorite recipe, while the honoree was writing her resignation to be read to the club. The recipes were presented to the bride-to-be, and Miss Carolyn Nolen, secretary of the club, read the resignation.

Later in the evening each guest gave humorous bits of "Advice to a Bride," while the bride-elect told them "How to Catch a Husband." In the midst of this, it was announced that there was a special delivery for Miss Powers. The package contained a beautiful gift to the honoree from the club.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

A delightful party of this week was that where Miss Pauline Powers, a bride-elect of Thanksgiving Day, was feted at a linen shower Monday from 3 to 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John R. Faison, on Harrison avenue.

The house was artistically decorated with green floral arrangements.

Various bridal contests were enjoyed in the early part of the afternoon and an interesting "Bridal Book" was originated by those present.

A hope chest taped with a miniature bride and groom was presented to the bride-elect. Attached to the inside of the lid was a map of North Carolina, with pictures of various cities and towns representing happenings the guests hoped would be enjoyed by the couple in the future. This chest was filled with many dainty and useful gifts of linen.

A salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. B. W. Woodruff and Miss Carolyn Nolen.

The guest's list included: Mrs. T. J. Johnston, Mrs. J. C. Barrington, Mrs. A. B. Slagle, Mrs. W. D. Bruner, Mrs. Eloise G. Franks, Mrs. George A. Jones, Mrs. M. D. Billings, Mrs. Gilmer A. A Correction

Last week The Press printed a notice which came through the mail announcing the marriage of Miss May Hurst to Venson Southards. We have been notified that the announcement was erroneous, and we gladly make the correction.

The notice was in regular form and we saw no reason to question the statements contained in it, and it was printed in good faith.

N. C. Leads Southern States Industrially

The July 28, 1937, issue of the News Letter of the University of North Carolina gives the following interesting industrial facts about North Carolina that appeared in a publication of the North Carolina department of conservation and development, Raleigh:

"Industrially, North Carolina leads the South in the number of wage earners, wages paid, and value added to raw materials by manufacturing processes. The state contains the largest towel factory, overall plant, hosiery mill, cordage and twine mill, hand-weaving establishment, denim mill, damask mill and underwear plant in the country; the second largest aluminum reduction plant; and among the largest pulp paper and rayon mills.

"North Carolina is first among the states in the value of manufactured tobacco, producing about 70 per cent of the cigarettes in the country. The state produces more wooden bed room and dining room furniture than any other state and ranks sixth in the output of all furniture.

"No state in the South possesses a greater abundance and variety of opportunities for industrial development.

"In 1935 North Carolina ranked fourth in the total capacity of hydro-electric power, being exceeded only by New York, California, and Washington, and ranked ninth in the total capacity in kilowatts, including power produced by water, steam, internal combustion, and by combinations."

Winter is Fun

... when it's cozy and warm indoors

Cold weather is fine and healthful—outside! But drafty, chilly houses are dangerous for little folks, and uncomfortable for grown-ups. Now's the time to modernize your home for winter!

We're experienced in making homes snug and winter-tight, and can make estimates on some surprisingly economical ways to cut out drafts and cut down fuel bills.

Insulation might be what that cold room really needs—or storm doors and windows—we know all the modern ways of keeping Jack Frost outside where he belongs. And our estimates will be decidedly worth while.
