POWERS-OVERCASH

The marriage of Miss Villa Pauline Powers to Hayes Eugene Overcash was impressively solemnized on Thanksgiving day at 5 o'clock, at the Franklin Methodist church, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and close friends.

The marriage vows were said to the Rev. J. E. Abernethy, pastor of the church.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Henry W. Cabe, organist, including the wedding hymn "O Perfect Love," sung by the vested choir, and two vocal solos, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "O Promise Me," by B. W. Woodruff. "To a Wild Rose" was softly played during the ceremony. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used as a processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the recessional.

The interior of the church was beautiful in its decoration for the nuptials.

The ushers and groomsmen were Billy Horsley, John R. Faison, Harley R. Cabe, and Jesse Tessier, of Franklin, Earl Overcash, of Charlotte, and George Erwin Patton, of Franklin.

Has Ten Attendants

Miss Jessie Powers, aunt of the bride, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Estelle Powers, of Greenville, sister of the bride; Miss Elizabeth Overcash, of Charlotte, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Helen Patton, of Durham; Miss Eloise Stevens, of Goldsboro; Miss Dorothy Neely, of Dalton, Ga., and Miss Carolyn Nolen, of Franklin.

The tiny flower girls were little Laura Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lyle, and Jo Ann Wilhide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wilhide.

Master Richard Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Jones, was the ring bearer, carrying the ring on a white satin pillow.

Given By Uncle

The bride entered with her uncle, Neal M. Powers, of Asheville, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Henry W. Gheesling, of Charlotte.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party, out-of-town guests, and a few close friends were entertained at a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Woodruff. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Eloise G. Franks and presented to the wedding party and Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff.

The living room was decorated in bridal green and white with many lighted tapers. The dining room table was covered with an exquisite table cloth and a centerpiece of white flowers. Flanking this were white tapers in crystal holders, completing the table decorations. Green and white cakes, with coffee and minis were served by Misses Dorothy Sloan, Virginia Tessier, Lane Porter, and Sarah Conley, Girl Scouts belonging to the bride's troop. Coffee was poured by Miss Ruth Slagle. Mrs. John R. Faison was in charge of the bride's book.

The bride now holds a position as home management supervisor with the Farm Security administration with offices here. She is also captain of the Girl Scouts Troop No. 1.

Mr. Overcash is the son of Mrs. R. B. Overcash and the late Mr. Overcash, of Charlotte. He was graduated from the Mecklenburg county high school and attended Berry college, where he received his degree in the class of 1937. He now holds a position in the Franklin high school.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Foard, Mrs. R. D. McCombs, and Mrs. Esther Freas, of Murphy; Miss Daisy Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Highsmith and Dr. and Mrs. Mitchel, of Bryson City; Miss Sarah Elmore, of Asheville; and Miss Jeanette Robinson, of Charlotte.

Miss Estelle Powers, sister of the bride, was hostess for a pre-nuptial dinner party Thursday at the Kelly Tea room.
