HOWARD COFFIN WELL KNOWN IN HIGHLANDS

Attention is called to the death of Howard Earle Coffin, of New York, and Sea Island, Ga. Mr. Coffin was found dead in his apartment at the residence of his cousin Alfred W. Jones, on November 22. Mr. Coffin visited Highlands several times during his lifetime. When he was about 12 or 14 years old he came, with his mother, to live with Mrs. M. A. Davis at her hotel where Tricemont Terrace is now located. After being here a short time Mrs. Coffin decided that her son was wasting too much time and that his future would be seriously affected if he were allowed to continue to be idle, so they moved north to Ann Harbor, Mich. On his last visit to Highlands, Mr. Coffin recalled his boyhood days here, saying that he remembered well when he was a barefoot boy rolling a hoop up and down the streets.

Mr. Coffin was one of the nation's leading industrialists and was well known as a man of national importance and a friend of presidents. He was the principal factor in the development of the Georgia Coast as a summer and winter resort.

He began his career as an engineer in 1902 when he was in charge of the experimental shops of the Olds Motor Works in Detroit. By 1910 he had become vice-president and consulting engineer for the Hudson Motor Car company. He retained these two posts until his retirement in 1930. Mr. Coffin was well known to residents of Highlands and was a nephew of Mrs. H. M. Bascom.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MET SUNDAY NIGHT

The Christian Endeavor met as usual on Sunday night at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church. The chaplain, Steve Potts, read a portion of Scripture and led in prayer. For the program, the president, Sidney McCarty, read a paper on "Thanksgiving."

A meeting of the executive committee, consisting of officers and chairmen of highways, was held on Monday night.

B. Y. P. U. ENTERTAINS FOR MISS SARAH THOMPSON

The B. Y. P. U. entertained on Friday evening with a social in honor of Miss Sarah Thompson, who was spending the Thanksgiving holiday at her home. Regardless of the inclement weather, the party carried on with a large attendance. Games were played which were greatly enjoyed by all, and much interest was shown in the "game of the evening" which was a candy drawing, under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Potts.

The B. Y. P. U. continues to be a very active organization and the young people showed their interest by presenting a splendid program on Sunday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend these Sunday night gatherings and help carry on this fine spirit.
